INCUMBENTS ANNOUNCE FOR JULY PRIMARY

Noted Speaker On Confederacy Fete Jan. 19th

Mr. Bruce Catton, noted Civil War historian, will be the principal speaker at a dedicatory luncheon to be held January 19th in Norfolk. The occasion will be the dedication of the Robert E. Lee Amphitheatre, site of "The Confederacy," the Civil War drama that opened last summer at Virginia Beach.

The ceremonies are being sponsored by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, in association with the Tidewater Historic Drama Association, producers of "The Confederacy."

Mr. Catton, editor of American Heritage, made a special appearance at Appamattox, of which he wrote the best-selling book "The Civil War I have ever read." Other books by Mr. Catton on the Civil War include "Mr. Lincoln's Army," "Glory Road," and "This Hallowed Ground."

As a working newspaperman for over 20 years, Mr. Catton wrote for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Boston American, Cleveland News and served during World War as Washington correspondent for NEA.

A highlight of the ceremonies, which will follow at the Commodore Mather Hotel, will be the unveiling of a plaque by a member of the Lee family, which will be placed at the theatre stage.

The Civil War Centennial Commission, Virginia Civil War Commission, Civil War Round Table, and many other organizations are jointly sponsoring the event. Civil War era. Also in attendance will be officials from Norfolk, Portsmouth, South Norfolk, Virginia Beach and Princess Anne and Norfolk Counties, the six communities that comprise the Tidewater Historic Drama Association.

"The Confederacy," written by another Pulitzer Prize winner, Paul Green, opened its first season on July 1st, 1958, concluding a very successful run on Labor Day. The 1959 season will open for an eleven-week run June 22nd, playing nightly except Sunday at the Robert E. Lee Amphitheatre, Virginia Beach.

Deftera Tri-Hi-Y Elects Officers

The Deftera Tri-Hi-Y Club of Virginia Beach High School met at Carolyn Sharp's home shortly before the new year and elected new officers. They are as follows: President, Carol Gay Rosser; vice president, Betty Smith; secretary, Betty Cadieux; treasurer, Virginia Pettit; reporter, Linda Ward; sergeant-at-arms, Betty Wright; and chaplain, Geri Marshall.

The club joined with the home rooms at Virginia Beach High School and filled a Christmas party for the needy. It is also planning a bake sale after the holidays. The next meeting of the Tri-Hi-Y will be on Monday, January 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Ginger Mathias' home on 23rd Street. The new sponsor this year is Mrs. Clancy.

RURITAN CLUB PLANS FOR BIRTHDAY SHOW

The Princess Anne Ruritan Club held its first 1959 meeting Tuesday night at Virginia Beach Methodist Church. Plans were made to stage a musical show to raise funds and to send 30 delegates to the Jan. 25-27 Ruritan national convention in Washington.

Jaycees Seeking Nominations For Annual First Citizen Award

Nominations for the annual first citizen award, Virginia Beach Jaycees are now being received by the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to C. Linwood Clements, chairman of the First Citizen Committee. Clements pointed out that the committee is now soliciting recommendations for the annual award. He also stated that the award is presented annually to a person who has made a contribution to the community in any one year but for outstanding activities that might span a number of years.

The announcement listed four nominees to be followed in making a recommendation. These were listed as (1) any male or female living or working in Virginia Beach is eligible; (2) all recommendations

To Aid Bloodmobile

The locomotive shown above belongs to the 40 and 8 of American Legion Post 113 and will be seen today throughout Virginia Beach advertising the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the Convention Center this afternoon starting at 12 o'clock. Blood donors are urgently needed in the Red Cross blood program.

Bloodmobile Visiting Beach Convention Center This Afternoon, Noon Until 6 p.m.

The Tidewater Regional Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Princess Anne County on Thursday, January 8th from noon to 6 p.m. The visit will take place at the Convention Center, 1400 S. 1st St., where the locomotive will be on display.

Retired Officers To Organize

A group of local retired officers of all uniformed services have indicated a desire to organize a Princess Anne-Virginia Beach branch of the Retired Officers Association, a national organization with headquarters in Washington, D.C. There are 75 affiliated and organized groups of the Retired Officers Association throughout the United States on the local level. The only chapter in Virginia at this time is located in Richmond.

All retired officers and warrant officers of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard, Coast & Geodetic Survey and Public Health service are eligible for membership.

A luncheon and organizational meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m., Jan. 17, at the Fort Story Officers' Club, 1400 S. 1st St., where there are over 200 retired officers residing within Princess Anne County. From present indications, there will be a large percentage of eligible personnel present at the founding ceremony.

Announcement of this meeting has been sent to all retired personnel of known address. The organizational committee consists of Rear Adm. F. C. B. McVane, USN (ret.); Col. John H. Fyfe, USA (ret.); and Cdr. H. C. Brown, USN (ret.). An expressed regret that its address list is incomplete thereby omitting some eligible persons. It is stressed that all retired officers and warrant officers are welcome and urged to attend.

AMERICAN LEGION PRESENTS CANCER FILM AT MEETING
A cancer film will be presented at the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 at the American Legion Home on Laskin Road, Monday night, Jan. 12 at 9 p.m. The ladies of the public are invited to attend this film showing. There will be a doctor present to answer any questions that may come up.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE CLUB WINNERS ANNOUNCED

The winners of this week's tournament of the Virginia Beach Duplicate Bridge Club which plays each Tuesday evening at 7:45 at the Dunes Motor Hotel were: North-South, first place, Mrs. Anne Ellis and Mr. U. L. Harrison; Second place, Comdr. and Mrs. R. S. Selmer.

Cross officials feel very fortunate to have the new Dome available for the collection of blood.

Volunteer 1410 of American Legion Post 113 have offered the use of their locomotive during this visit.

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 50 is eligible for donating. Persons between 18 and 21 that are unmarried or not in the service need parents' permission before donating. Local physicians are in attendance at all times and every donor is checked before giving a pint of blood. The whole process including coffee and sandwiches after donating takes about 45 minutes time.

Remember the new location—Convention Center, 1400 and Pacific Avenue, Virginia Beach. The hours from noon to 6 p.m. on Thursday, January 8th. Baby alters are available at the Dome for taking care

'Education, Public Schools-Jan. 1959' Topic of Meeting

"Education and Public Schools—January, 1959" will be the theme of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County's program for their luncheon meeting on Jan. 13 at 1:30 p.m. at the Pine Tree Inn.

Mr. Elmer Tarrall, supervisor of schools for Virginia Beach, will speak on the topic and will participate in open discussion with club members following his talk. The program is under the direction of Mrs. W. G. Bond, education chairman of the club.

Mrs. Mabel Dorris, music chairman, will present Mr. Clark Graves, head of the music department of the Lynnhaven District High School, in a program of songs. He will be accompanied by Miss Marylin White.

An invitation has been issued to the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County to attend this meeting. Junior members wishing to attend the luncheon are asked to make reservations by calling (Garden 8-136 or GY 7-243) not later than Sunday, Jan. 11. Junior members not wishing luncheon may attend at 1:15 p.m. and participate in the program only. No junior reservations are necessary if luncheon is not desired.

Princess Anne County Accounts Well Handled

"The treasurer has made proper accounting for all funds of record coming into his custody," an audit of Princess Anne County, received by Comptroller Giles Glass Dohd here, states.

J. Gordon Bennett, auditor of public accounts, went on to state "the funds of the County on deposit in banks were amply protected, the expenditures apparently were proper charges against appropriations made by the governing body and in conformity with the provisions of law, and the records of the county generally had been prepared in very good order."

A study of the tabulations will reveal by funds and for the county as a whole, how accurately the authorities were able to forecast the income which the county would receive and the expenditures which would be made for the fiscal year for which the budget was prepared," the audit report states.

Expenditures of all funds for the period of the audit exceeded the income thereof by $128,880.02. For the previous year income exceeded expenditures by the amount of $605,233.25, the report continued.

The net fund balances amounted to $1,381,633.84 on June 30, 1957, and the excess of expenditures over income of $128,880.02 for the current year reduced these balances to $1,252,753.82 on June 30, 1958, the report showed.

Howard Cleaves of Staten Island, N.Y., one of America's pioneer wildlife photographers, will lecture and show color motion pictures of animals at night at the Virginia Beach High School auditorium on Thursday, January 8, at 8 p.m. A National Audubon Society speaker, he is sponsored at Virginia Beach by the Council of Garden Clubs.

The following review promises an interesting evening. "Although superb still photographs, taken at night, of wild animals were obtained over 50 years ago, all efforts to bring motion pictures of nocturnal animals to the screen had failed until Howard Cleaves developed his technique for making these films possible. This is unquestionably his greatest achievement in the study and photography of wildlife, so far."

He experimented by photographing wild animals that visited his backyard at night, using house current for light. Then with a portable power generator for strong constant light he found he could extend this unique photography far afield.

Under the spell of the strong beam of light, many timid animals and birds became transfixed. Grebes, plover and green-winged teal are approached so closely that one can reach out and touch their brilliant feathers. Hundreds of chimney swifts hardly stir as the

Etheridge, Fentress, Mapp, Marr and Simpson Release Joint Statement

The five incumbent officers of the County of Princess Anne, three of whom also serve the City of Virginia Beach, announced Wednesday that they would be candidates for re-election to their respective offices, subject to the July Democratic primary.

County Treasurer V. Alfred Etheridge, Commissioner of the Revenue Ivan D. Mapp, County Court Clerk John V. Fentress, County Sheriff John E. Marr and Commonwealth's Attorney Robert L. Simpson issued a joint statement Wednesday announcing their candidacies.

In addition to serving the county, Fentress, Marr and Simpson also serve the City of Virginia Beach. The five-man slate represents several years experience in the constitutional offices. Revenue Commissioner Mapp was first appointed to the post in 1950 and was first elected to the job in 1951. He was successful in being re-elected to the post in 1955.

Court Clerk Fentress was first elected in 1951 and is seeking re-election to that post which runs for a term of eight years.

Both Etheridge and Marr were elected in 1955 and are seeking their second four-year terms in office. Simpson was appointed to the Commonwealth's Attorney post last December when Judge Robert L. Walsh Jr. retired to accept the position of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Virginia.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Politics in the News

As was generally anticipated the constitutional officers of Princess Anne County and those who also serve the City of Virginia Beach have issued an announcement that they will seek re-election to their respective offices, subject to the July Democratic primary. Thus, another election is in the offing and another political campaign may develop.

We believe that the people of the County of Princess Anne and the City of Virginia Beach are fortunate indeed to have public officials of the type that the five incumbent officers have proven to be.

The five-man ticket is made up of County Treasurer V. Alfred Etheridge, Court Clerk John V. Fentress, Commissioner of the Revenue Ivan D. Mapp, Sheriff John E. Marr and Commonwealth Attorney Robert Lee Simpson. This cumulative record of these men in office is exemplary.

We believe that this group of candidates will find much favor with the voter for the conduct of the county and city business through the administration of these men has been extremely satisfactory. They have stated that they feel they should be re-elected by virtue of their experience in office and on their record. We readily concur in this basis for re-election.

Time and again all of these officers and their offices have been commended by State and other higher authority for the splendid conduct of the affairs of their respective offices.

While the fact that these five men are seeking re-election is not surprising it is also not unexpected that they will have the support of city and county officials in the July primary election. They have proven their ability and worth.

Pastor Returns From Vacation

The Rev. F. H. Strickley, pastor of Scott Memorial Methodist Church, Ocean, and Mrs. Strickley returned to Ocean on Jan. 3 after a vacation in Richmond, Virginia. They were visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ross B. Alger, who reside in Westmoreland, Mass., on the occasion of the arrival of their son, Gene Franklin on December 15. Mr. Alger is director of development in the Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

During their vacation the Strickleys visited historic points of interest in New England, such as the Old North Church and the Old South Meeting House in Boston and the scenes of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, Mass.

The Scott Memorial Church is now engaged in a Church Affiliation Crusade, which will emphasize church attendance during the period from January 1 until Easter.

The pastor and at least eight lay delegates will attend the session of the Norfolk District Conference meeting at Charity Church in Princess Anne County on Thursday,

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

1930 BUSINESS — III

We have now reviewed the general extent of the recovery to date and have briefly discussed some of the fundamental worries. On the basis of this it is possible to make a realistic forecast for the coming year.

Gross national product, which is the total monetary value of all goods and services produced in the nation and which currently is at a new high, will continue to advance. This is assured through a rise of government expenditures, not only federal but state and local as well, and by continuation of the recovery.

The total should advance each quarter. Estimates for the last three months of the year range between $470 and $480 billion, as compared with about $450 billion at present.

Industrial production, which according to the index of the Federal Reserve Board, was 141 in November (1947=100), will continue to increase and before long will be at a new high level. The recovery will be uneven, as it has up to this point, but durable manufacturers should show a good growth. This is important because this segment was hardest hit by the recession.

Total personal income is now at an all-time high and will continue to rise throughout the year. A major factor will be the upward trend of wages. With such personal income, retail trade will show a seasonally adjusted rise month after month, and at the end of the year will be appreciably above 1935.

Net farm income is officially estimated to be down. The reason is that we have come to the end of a farm cycle and although crops may be excellent, farm prices will be lower and the goods and services bought by farmers will cost a little more. The estimated drop in net farm income is between 5 and 10 percent.

Because of declining farm and food prices, the cost of living will remain relatively stable for the next few months, and the wholesale price index likewise will show little variation. Thereafter both indexes probably will start to creep upward again. The increase will not be sharp, but it will rekindle interest in, and fear of, inflation.

The construction industry will rise above $30 billion for the first time. Private housing starts will increase from the 1938 figure of 1,150,000 to around 1,175,000. They may even go higher if Congress again takes action to make financing easier.

Business inventories will rise moderately in 1938. In other words the liquidation for all practical purposes, has been completed. A business investment plan and equipment also will rise slightly in 1938. Actually turn may have taken place in the fourth quarter of 1937. That cannot be known until actual figures have been collected. The increase will be in other than manufacturing, mining, and railroads. None of those three divisions is as yet fully utilizing the results of past investments.

Unemployment will decline gradually over the year, but it will be only in 1939 before we again have full employment.

Interest rates will not go down. If there is any change it will be a slight upward trend.

The banks should not be misled by the fact that the Federal Reserve has not been termed restrictive.

There will not be an all-out war.

Flying by Night Easier with New Lighting Kits

Any businessman or farmer flying his own airplane and looking for a place to land at night, might not think of the tall corn state of Iowa as a particularly good nomination—but he's wrong.

For Iowa, although it has few large cities and big airports, has embarked on a plan to help in increasing numbers of flying farmers and business executives by helping small town airports buy and operate all night runway lights.

Although it may not appear as front page news, Frank Berlin, director of the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, thinks it is a progressive step that other states soon may follow, to cut down dangers to small planes flying long stretches between commercial airports at night.

"Pilots fly Iowa at night with confidence because they know they are within minutes of a lighted runway," says Berlin. "One reason is that the state has agreed to pay half of the equipment cost for municipal airports, in satisfactory locations, who will buy and install a runway light kit."

The equipment, called the "flying farmer kit," is purchased from one of the leading makers of big airport lighting. McGraw-Hill's company's Line Material Industries division in Milwaukee.

The firm, whose high intensity lights guide four-engine airliners into Chicago Midway, New York La Guardia and Idlewild, Boston, Indianapolis, and dozens of other large American airports, several years ago made available to farmers a low-priced kit with which private or small town runways can be lighted for $750 (runways 2200 feet long, as an example, can be lighted for $750 compared with $5,000 to $10,000 for other systems). Then the lights, which even Arthur Godfrey has bought for the air strip on his Virginia farm, can be operated on current of approximately that required for a electric iron on a regular household circuit.

In Iowa, 90 airports now have permanent runway lights, and 15 more are eligible to receive help under the state-wide small airport lighting aid plan which went into effect in 1955.

One example of how popular the lights have become is at Marshalltown airport where no night landings were made before the do-it-yourself lighting was installed. In the next few months, 24 landings were made after dark, including one emergency landing.

The flying farmer kit also has been ordered by some missionary bush pilot organizations, according to McGraw-Hill. It also reports that, as an index of the value of runway lights abroad as well as in this country, when Chicago's new airport was built, the city's foreign policy will continue to be dominated by the wishes and actions of Russia and China.

Foreign trade, both imports and exports, will be above 1938.

Finally, business profits will continue to improve. They will not come close to previous peaks, but growth will be of material aid to government revenues, with the result that a start can be made in reducing the magnitude of the federal deficit.

To summarize: 1938 will be materially better than 1937. It will not be a boom year, but recovery will system at a reasonable and encouraging rate. The year will end with many serious problems unsolved, some of which may be worse than they are today. But, passing the new Congress does nothing so drastic, it will be a year of progress. This is a time, on the basis of all the evidence, for what has been termed restrained optimism.

Cook School Menu

The menu for Cook School for January 12-16 follows:

Monday, grill cheese or ham salad, green peas, pineapple salad, milk.

Tuesday, hot dog on roll, turnip greens, apple sauce, milk, cookie.

Wednesday, barbecue, cole slaw, plums, milk.

Friday, fish sticks, green beans, diced carrots, corn bread, milk, tangarine.

Some Nationalist armies retired from the mainland to Formosa, they rigged up and carried away lights from Shanghai's airport and nearby areas, they figured the Communists would have a hard time replacing them.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Indianapolis, and dozens of large American airports, so that the lights have been available to the public for more than 20 years or small town runway lighting for $750 (runway lights are, for example, spaced 100 feet apart, as compared with 5,000 to 10,000 for others), and the lights, which the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) says are operated on current of approximately that required for an incandescent light bulb, are not as costly as the iron on a regular household circuit.

In Iowa, 90 airports now have permanent runway lights, and 100 are eligible to receive them under the state-wide small airport lighting aid plan which went into effect in 1955.

Norfolk Is Site Of New Soybean Oil-Meal Plant

Plans for construction at Norfolk, Va., of a major soybean processing plant—the largest in the surrounding five-state area—were announced here today by Cargill, Incorporated, nationwide grain handling and processing firm.

Fred M. Reed, vice president in charge of the firm's vegetable oil division, said the company also plans construction or purchase of "several" procurement stations and grain elevators at locations still undetermined in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and North and South Carolina.

The new extraction plant, to have an initial capacity of 7,000,000 bushels annually, will be built adjacent to a present 2,250,000-bushel Cargill export grain elevator on the Norfolk ocean-front.

The official statement, which pointed out that soybeans are an increasingly important part of the cash grain production of the five states, said the network of new installations "will provide soybean producers with significantly improved local markets." He pointed out that at present the area is largely dependent on overseas export to provide commercial outlets. The processing plant will serve the growing demand for high-quality soybean meal in imported and domestic areas. It will also provide soybean oil to edible-oil users in the densely populated Eastern states and will export oil to fill foreign demand.

"Plans call for completion of the plant by Oct. 1, 1959, to handle new crop soybeans. Details of construction, contracts to be let, etc., are now being determined and will be made public as quickly as possible," the announcement said. The Cargill firm, in addition to operating grain storage, merchandising and elevating facilities throughout the U.S., has processing plants at Chicago, Minneapolis, Memphis, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Port Canaveral, Minn., and Port Dodge, Cedar Rapids and Washington, Ia.

Uninsured Motorist Must Pay $15 Extra For License Plates

Over one and a half million Virginia motor vehicle owners received a notice this week from the Division of Motor Vehicles explaining the new uninsured motorist law which affects every owner when he applies for his 1959 license plates.

The law, passed by the General Assembly last spring and effective last October 1, requires the owner buying new license plates to pay an additional $15 fee unless he can show he carries liability insurance in at least the amount of $10/20/00 bodily injury $1,000 property damage with an insurance company licensed to do business in Virginia.

"This important notice has been mailed to every person who has a motor vehicle with the DMV," C. H. Lamb, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, said. "This notice explains clearly what information the individual must have when next applying for his license plates. The purpose of the notice is to enable the owner of a Virginia registered motor vehicle to obtain the necessary information and to have it available for use when he next purchases his plates. No action on the part of the individual owner is required until he next purchases license plates."

To avoid paying the additional $15 the owner who carries liability insurance must fill out a form with the following information: the name of his insurance company, his policy number and the effective date of the policy. Lamb said these forms are sent to the insurance companies named by the license plate purchasers for verification. He also said that persons who claim falsely to have liability insurance will be subject to revocation of driver's license and license plates, and a maximum fine of $1,000, a six-month jail term either or both.

The $15 fee will not provide motorists with any form of insurance and relieves him of no liability for damages, it was pointed out.

New Chevrolet Making Debut

Detroit—A new sport sedan is making its debut at Chevrolet dealerships.

The car is in the Bel Air series and was inspired by universal admiration for the distinctive 1959 "hardtop" styling introduced exclusively as an Impala sport sedan. The Bel Air model makes available the same sportive appearance at a more moderate price.

To introduce the new-comer, retail dealers across the country plan to start the car in an "Open House" January 22-24. In addition, the event will offer retail customers a chance to view a more complete line of new Chevrolets, which were not available during the announcement period due to production delays.

According to E. N. Cole, general manager of Chevrolet, the new model results from retail market soundings that indicated strong sales sentiment. Production has already started and dealers are being stocked.

The sport sedan, or "four-door hardtop" as it is more popularly known, is comparatively new in the postwar automotive field. Patterned after the two-door hardtop, in which side windows roll completely into body, the car boasts superlative visibility and a light, airy appearance.

In the 1959 Chevrolet overall design, the sport sedan is especially attractive and two inches lower than other Bel Air models. The roof is flat and overhangs the compound curvature of the broad rear window. Features of the two other sedans in the Bel Air series are likewise incorporated. Luxury interior appointments and upholstery color-keyed to exterior are points in common. Body identifications include a full-length, stainless steel molding with a depressed snowcrest white central area and the Bel Air name in script.

Sherwood Norman Speaker at Social Work Meeting

Youth and Detention will be the topics of discussion of District I, Virginia Conference of Social Work on Tuesday, January 13, at the Navy YMCA, 130 Brooke Ave., Norfolk.

Mr. Sherwood Norman, Director of Detention Services for the National Probation and Parole Association, will speak on "Concepts and Standards in the Detention of Juveniles." He is the only full-time national consultant on the care of children awaiting juvenile court hearings. He has made local and statewide surveys of juvenile detention in all parts of the country. His publications, "Detention for the Juvenile Court," "Design Construction of Detention Homes," and "New Goals for Juvenile Detention" are recognized standards in this field.

Prior to the general meeting at 1 p.m., Mr. Norman will meet with representatives of the 100 social workers, including Police and Army and Navy, who have been considering an area detention home for juveniles.

Judge Ralph Ricardo, judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court of Norfolk County, will speak on "The Handling of Children Charged with Crimes as Seen by a Judge."

"The Average Boy," a film about a boy who steals, demonstrating emotional factors involved, will be shown. The meeting is open to all interested persons, and all civic and service clubs are urged to have representatives attend.

A&P Head Lauds Food Industry for Public Service

NEW YORK — The nation's food industry did the greatest job in its history in 1958, and it faced with an even bigger job in 1959, Ralph W. Burger, president and board chairman of The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, said Sunday.

The entire industry, including farmers, processors and distributors, can be proud of its collective accomplishment during 1958, Mr. Burger said. "It provided more food and better service to more people than ever before, and by so doing, rendered a real public service."

"I am impressed with the great progress in our industry during the past ten years due to research, technological advances and the continuing drive for greater efficiency. As a result, there has been a steady and substantial reduction in the amount of time the average American must work to earn the money to pay for his food."

"But if we are to continue to fulfill our public responsibility and make our full contribution to the national economy, we must improve upon even this stellar performance in the year ahead."

Mr. Burger cited five major facets of the industry's accomplishment during the past year:

1) There are almost 2,000,000 more people in the United States today than at the end of 1957, and the food industry has had to provide the food and facilities to serve this growing population.

2) The food industry did a great job in holding food prices down despite rising costs. During the month of November the cost of food declined for the fourth straight month, at a time when the overall consumer cost-of-living index was creeping steadily upward to hit an all-time high of 123.9.

3) To provide improved service, retailers built thousands of new stores and did major remodeling on additional thousands of existing outlets. This represented a total investment of well over $1 billion in construction and inventory.

4) The trend towards built-in services to simplify the housewife's tasks through package mixes, pre-packaging of foods and the expansion of the frozen food industry continued at a phenomenal pace.

5) The entire food industry adhered to its traditional low-price policy. Chain retailers, for instance, continued to operate at the low rate of 1.25 cents profit on each dollar of sales, while the profit rate for food manufacturers was two-and-a-half cents.

"All these factors served to keep the American public the best-fed people in the world," Mr. Burger said. "For capita food consumption is approaching the level that existed in the years immediately preceding World War II."

Mr. Burger attributed this progress to two major factors: first, the industry's recognition of its public service responsibility; and, the intense nature of the competition existing in the food business.

Studebaker-Packard Operates 2 Months In Black

Operating results of the Studebaker-Packard Corporation were in the black during each of the months of October and November due to the volume of sales of Larks, Hawks and trucks to dealers.

Harold E. Churchill, president of the company, said today that the rate of output indicates that the month of December similarly will show an operating profit.

"December output of Larks has been stepped up because of increased dealer orders," Mr. Churchill said. "These in turn are the product of the very strong response of the public expressed in the volume of retail purchases of America's newest smaller car—the Lark. Many dealers are reporting that they are several weeks behind on deliveries on some models."

The unprecedented public acceptance of the Lark during the first 30 days after its public introduction on November 14 and the continued flow of orders from our expanded dealer organization has resulted in a substantial order backlog.

"Retail sales of Studebaker cars reported for the 30-day period immediately following introduction of the 1959 model exceeded any 30-day period since June 1955, a peak month. This was in spite of limited supply of new models during the first weeks of production."

The initial output of 1959 Studebaker cars was scheduled at a rate of 54 units per hour and 40 hours per week. A well organized and accelerated launching program enabled us on Oct. 20, to increase the work week from 40 to 53 hours.

"On November 20, the passenger car rate was increased from 54 to 60 per hour continuing daily and Saturday overtime operations which last week resulted in the production of more than 3200 passenger cars, the largest total for any week since January, 1956. Production will be still further increased on December 29 by raising the hourly rate from 60 to 70 passenger cars with continued overtime operations."

"Settlement of the recent three-day strike has in no way prejudiced the price structure of our products," Mr. Churchill said.

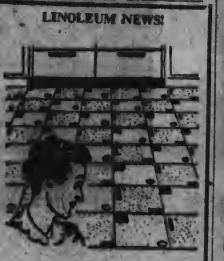

'America at Work' On WVEC-TV

"Americans at Work" a new television series showing how millions of workers make their living, began Monday, Jan. 5 on WVEC Channel 15 at 1:15 p.m. and will be shown each week hence.

This new television entertainment and educational feature shows such interesting subjects as: how glass is made, how plumbers have contributed to America's atomic advancement, how pottery makers provide our eating utensils and numerous other products and a long list of interesting and exciting occupations showing Americans at work.

The film series is produced by the AFL-CIO with the objective of instilling in workers an even greater pride in their work and convincing all America that it should take pride in the nation's workers and their contributions to the free enterprise system in a democracy.

It is being shown in your area as a public service by a television station which believes in bringing interesting, entertaining programs to the public.

Here, among our latest arrivals, you'll find exactly the line shown you're pictured, for kitchen or other room. Colors, textures, patterns that will stir you to enthusiasm. Prices that will, too!

J.C. Law & Son
NORFOLK, VIRGINIA
2015 Colby Pk. MA 5-6513

"Some idea of the healthy competition existing in the food business," he said, "may be gained from the fact that there are about 40,000 food manufacturers, 3,500 canners and frozen food packers, 1,000 meat packers, 6,400 bakeries and 250,000 food stores in the United States. And there are millions of farm families producing the food to feed America. The result is ready availability in the wide choice of foods, and retail outlets available to any consumer."

Commenting on the need for further progress, Mr. Burger emphasized the fact that the food industry is dealing in the prime necessity of life that takes 25 to 30 per cent of the family's budget. "Here lies our great opportunity and responsibility," he said. "Today the average family budget is subject to many strains. In many cases, income has been reduced. A large part of the expendable income of most families has already been committed for payment on insurance, homes, automobiles, home appliances and other things that they bought on time. In all cases, the problem is complicated by an inflationary pressure that has resulted in higher costs and reduced purchasing power in the dollar."

"It is obvious that in such a situation the food industry must continue its never-ending search for more efficient cost-saving methods all along the line."

In facing up to this challenge, Mr. Burger said that the industry is confronted with the problem of raising costs. Latest government figures show that in the past ten years labor costs, which represent approximately half of the entire marketing cost, have increased 45 per cent. Rail transportation costs have increased 36 per cent; and utility, utility and other overhead costs have gone up 41 per cent, he said.

"No matter how good our performance was in 1958, we cannot rest on our past record," he said. "This is a fast-moving world and the public's needs and tastes are constantly changing. We must be flexible in the future, as we have been in the past, to recognize, and adapt our operations to these changing needs and tastes. But always with the basic policy of more good food for the customer's money."

"If we do our work well — if through efficiencies and economies we are able to keep the cost of food from soaring — we will not only be making a possible for our customers to eat better, but we will also be making a contribution to the national economy by leaving more money in the family budget for the purchase of all the other things people want."

Home Federal Distributes 144th Dividend

Home Federal Savings and Loan Association distributed on December 31, 1958, the 144th consecutive dividend. Dividends have been continuous since the association was organized 72 years ago in 1886.

J. R. Sears, president, said the semi-annual dividend amounted to $341,293.98. The total dividend for 1958 amounted to $1,968,800.08. The dividend is being distributed to 15,010 savings customers. Dividend checks are mailed to those with investment accounts, while the dividends are credited to savings passbook accounts.

Sears reports the total savings of Home Federal now exceed $38,000,000. Total resources are in excess of $41,000,000.

During 1958 Home Federal has made home loans totaling $6,235,000. This represents a record volume of loan activity.

Home Federal maintains offices in Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Hampton and Suffolk.

Savings accounts opened on or before January 10 will earn a full six month's dividend on the next dividend date, June 30, 1959.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

Two games of wheels will be played at Fort Story.

Fort Story, Va. — The Fort Story basketball squad, the wheels, will play two ball games in the Fort Story gymnasium, according to Special Services here.

Taking on the wheels here will be the Naval Air Station on Jan. 12 and DeLant on Jan. 23. Both games will be played at 8 p.m.

The games at Story were previously scheduled to be played in Anderson Field House at Fort Story but were changed recently to the gymnasium here. Printed schedules which have been distributed show the games at Fort Story.

So far this year the wheels have compiled a 6-0 record and looks forward to the best season in four years. That year the squad took the All-Army Championship.

Playing for Eustis will be such former college stars as Dave Rickette, Duquesne; Bobby Gaines, Furman; Joe Lechick, John Carroll University; Bob Gile, Tennessee and Hank Sprick, formerly of Arizona State.

Included in the wheels' six wins are Little Creek Amphibious Base and Fort Knox, Kentucky. Both games are free of charge and open to the public.

CAPE HENRY COMMANDER HOLDS RECEPTION

Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., commanding officer of the 4th Transportation Terminal Command, Fort Story, held his annual New Year's Day reception for all officers and their ladies at the Officers Club.

Attending the hour-long reception, which began at noon, were nearly 150 officers and their ladies. Dress for the affair was Dress Blue uniforms for the officers while the ladies wore cocktail dresses.

Boating Act Regulations Are Listed

Regulations implementing the Federal Boating Act of 1958 are listed in the Federal Register for December 25, 1958, the Coast Guard has revealed.

The regulations were filed with Congress on Jan. 7, 1959, where they must remain for 60 days prior to coming into force. The effective date of the regulations is stated as March 10, 1959.

The published regulations were adopted by the Coast Guard's Merchant Marine Council after a public hearing on the proposed regulations last Dec. 9 at Washington, D.C. Views, comments, and opinions were received by mail from persons and organizations to who over 35,000 copies of the proposed rules and regulations had been sent, and at the hearing itself.

Key changes in the proposed regulations were: (1) Individual "Boating Accident Reports" will not be released, but may be used for statistical studies under certain conditions; (2) The minimum height of "numbers" has been reduced from the proposed four-inch size to three inches; (3) Fees may be paid by means other than a money order.

Copies of the new regulations may be obtained for 15 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

The MIXING BOWL.. IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food ideas and recipes... the personal, down-to-earth recipes that show how to make and cook... read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Hope you enjoyed the holidays and New Year will hold many wonderful things for you and yours.

When Christmas wishes came from H. J. Heinz Company — a long came an announcement too — Really an exciting one.

"A New Year and a New Hot Catsup," Ruth M. Stoehr, Home Economics Editor says.

A new Contest, with prizes that total $100,000, just for completing the statement: "I like Heinz Ketchup best because."

You'll have to go to your grocers and get an empty ketchup bottle and out more about the exciting new contest and the prizes.

NEW HOT KETCHUP SAUCE

SEAFOOD IN A SNAPPY WAY

Seafood recipes will be in demand for the next several months, and here just in time to make them extra attractive is a new sauce.

Hot Ketchup. It's an extra tangy, extra tasty version of the world-famous Heinz Tomato Ketchup.

Spicing is sufficient to make it a tempting topping for crab, shrimp or lobster, just as it comes from the sleek 12-ounce bottle in which it is packed. Or use it as the base for a seafood specialty like crabmeat Andalusian.

Andalusian is a new sauce, in the south of Spain, and there's a favorite sauce for fish is tomato mixed with mayonnaise and seasoned with pimiento. It's used on all sorts of fish—baked, broiled, poached, but especially on seafood.

Crabmeat Andalusian for you to try. Complement the crimson sauce with a bright green vegetable like broccoli or beans. Accompany it with a tray of crisp relishes and your favorite hot rolls.

CRAB MEAT ANDALOUSIAN

1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

1 cup Heinz Hot Ketchup

1 teaspoon celery salt

1 teaspoon Heinz Prepared Mustard

2 cups cooked, cleaned, flaked crab meat

4 slices bacon, cooked

Diced pimiento

Blend first 4 ingredients. Pile crab meat in 4 shells or ramekins, top with bacon. Cover with sauce. Place in broiler until bubbly and glazed. Garnish with diced pimiento. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

From this side of the Atlantic comes another tomato sauce, crab dish. Hot Ketchup again provides the basic flavor. Chopped hard-boiled eggs and soft bread crumbs, along with the crab meat, are tossed together in a sauce of hot ketchup, lemon juice and vinegar; then the mixture is piled into shells or ramekins for baking.

CRAB MEAT

1 pound cooked, cleaned, flaked crab meat

1 hard-boiled egg, chopped

1 cup grated process American cheese

3 cups soft bread crumbs

1 cup Heinz Hot Ketchup

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 tablespoon Heinz Tarragon Vinegar

1 tablespoon butter or margarine melted

1 teaspoon salt

Heat oven to 375°F. (moderately hot). Combine ingredients and lightly mix with fork. Lightly pile mixture into 4 individual shells or ramekins. Bake 15 minutes or until hot. Makes 4 servings.

Shrimp—the most popular of shellfish, both along the coast and inland where the supply comes from frozen or chilled—gets a flavor boost from this new condiment. Use it as a dip straight from the bottle, or as the bright note in shrimp Fests.

SHRIMP FEST

1 cup Heinz Hot Ketchup

1 cup mayonnaise

1 teaspoon lemon juice

1 teaspoon Heinz Worcestershire Sauce

2 teaspoons prepared horseradish

SHRIMP FEST

1 cup chopped onion

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

2 cans (10½ ounces) Heinz Condensed Cream of Mushroom or Cream of Celery Soup, undiluted

1 to 1½ teaspoon chili powder

1 cup milk

1 cup Heinz Hot Ketchup

OKRANA LIONESS CLUB ELKS OFFICERS

The Okra Lioness Club recently held their election of officers and dinner party at the home of Mrs. Littleton B. Walker Jr. in Alantone.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Littleton B. Walker Jr.; first vice president, Mrs. John B. James; second vice president, Mrs. J. Colin Brothers; third vice president, Mrs. A. E. Branch; secretary, Mrs. Robert Braithwaite; treasurer, Mrs. John Skiffman; and Hair Puller, Mrs. Donald Polle.

The next meeting of the club will be held Thursday, January 8 at the home of Mrs. James Darden, Laskin Road. All members and prospective members are urged to attend.

1½ pounds green shrimp, cooked (1 pound cleaned).

Saute onion in butter until tender. Stir in remaining ingredients. Simmer, stirring occasionally, for 10 minutes. Serve over toast. Makes 4 servings.

The new hot ketchup with a touch of vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and butter makes a colorful sauce for broiled fish. Brush the fillets or steaks frequently with the crimson sauce. The flavor penetrates wonderfully well.

CRIMSON SAUCE FISH FILLETS

1½ tablespoons butter or margarine melted

1½ tablespoons Heinz Hot Ketchup

1 pound fillets of sole, haddock or white fish

Combine first 3 ingredients. Place fillets on broiler brush with sauce. Broil 4-6 minutes each side; brush frequently with sauce. Garnish with parsley or lemon wedges. Makes 4 servings.

See Now — and the best of luck.

Cape Henry Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Debrah John Dee Sr. held a five-hour clinic on "Christmas All Through the House," at the home of Mrs. James J. Standing, 4713 St. December 21, 1958.

Mrs. Nordling, Mrs. James J. Standing, Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. Joe Watson were blue ribbons for outstanding contributions.

Mrs. Standing, recording secretary, presented the president, Mrs. M. W. Nordling with a life membership in the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs.

The money for the life membership will be used for Nature Camp, a Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs project for children.

After the meeting Christmas refreshments were served by Mrs. Standing and Mrs. Joe Watson.

The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 12, 1959 at the home of Mrs. Pauline Batley, 315 Ave. "A," Virginia Beach, Va.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The members of the Cape Henry-DeSea Garden Club will collect discarded Christmas cards to be sent to the Children's Wards at Eastern State Hospital at Williamsburg, Va. Call Mrs. Pauline Batley, GA 8-5332; Mrs. Standing, GA 8-9032; Mrs. Nordling, GA 8-1082; Mrs. Dee Sr., GA 8-7081; Mrs. Cherry, GA 8-3140; Mrs. DeMarco, GA 8-2006; Mrs. John Bell, GA 8-4843 or any other member.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should stand services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SWINE DAY FRIDAY

The long awaited Swine School is here. Swine producers from Princess Anne will meet tomorrow at Great Bridge in the School Administration Building on Cedar Road at 10 a.m. A wonderful program is scheduled that no swine producer, large or small, commercial or pure bred, should miss.

10:00 - 10:15—Welcome - J. Ed. Ward Ames, Jr., Chairman Agriculture Committee

10:15 - 11:00—"Management" - H. M. Godsey, Extension Swine Specialist, V.P.I.

11:00 - 11:15—"Coffee Break"

11:15 - 12:00—"Nutrition" - Dr. C. C. Brooks, Professor of Animal Husbandry, V.P.I.

12:00 - 12:30—"Housing" - Dan G. Kite, Agricultural Engineer Virginia Agricultural Extension Service

12:30 - 1:30—Lunch

1:30 - 3:00—Tour
On our tour we will visit two farms. First, Ballentine Farms, owned and operated by Mr. Garland Pugh, breeder of purebred Yorkshire hogs and one of the first breeders in Virginia to have a certified meat-type boar. Mr. Pugh has an excellent set-up with breeding pens, farrowing pens, pasturing on Ladino Clover, etc.

After visiting Mr. Pugh's farm we will go to Bayville's commercial hog producing farm. This farm is using the pig or hog parlor feeding system, has an excellent set-up for brood sows with farrowing pens, etc. Also has a fog system for keeping the fat hogs cool during the summer time.

I feel these are two of the best set-ups in Tidewater. Mr. Pugh will explain his set-up explaining the advantages and disadvantages and changes he would recommend for those who attend. On the Bayville Farm in Hickory, Mr. White and Mr. Fleming will present their operation, and give the advantages and disadvantages and changes they would recommend. Mr. Kite will discuss the housing and other facilities on each farm. Dr. Brooks will discuss their feeding program and Mr. Godsey will discuss the management as conducted on each farm.

POULTRY HOUSES NEED TO BE "WINTERIZED"
Poultrymen can expect trouble

In the form of decreased egg and meat production and rising costs—if they don't take a little time to "winterize" their poultry houses.

Improper housing conditions will show up in a drop in egg production, an increase in feed consumption. Poultrymen should keep an eye on their records during cold months. Symptoms of bad housing conditions include condensation on ceiling and walls, and extra damp and cold.

A 15 degree difference, up or down, from recommended temperatures can mean a 10% drop in egg and meat production. The temperature should stay around 55° for top egg production, and from 55° to 65° for broilers over five weeks old.

Insulation in the ceiling and walls of the poultry house will help, as will a double thickness of glass or plastic in the windows. Be sure to clean all windows so the sunlight can shine through and add heat to the house. Adjust window or ventilator openings to permit air to enter without causing drafts, and so the cold air coming in will mix with the warmer air that passes near the floor onto the birds.

DAIRY HERD MANAGEMENT

SHORT COURSE PLANNED
An intensive study of subjects of special interest to dairymen, herdman, feed men, and dairy service representatives will be featured at a short course at VPI, January 12-15.

Sponsored by the department of dairy science at VPI, the short course this year will stress methods of meeting competition from milk producing areas. It is designed to provide information on up-to-date economical means of producing high quality milk, and will deal with dairy-fations, calf feeding and management systems, disease control, buildings and equipment, regulations, and record keeping.

Anyone interested can get a detailed program from county agents, agricultural instructors, or from Paul M. Reeves, Department of Dairy Science, VPI, Blacksburg. Several VPI staff members will serve as lecturers at the short course. Guest speakers will include: R. G. Connelly, secretary, Virginia State Dairymen's Association, Blacksburg; H. C. Craun, dairy farmer, director, Holstein Friesian Association of America, Ronoke; Don Golay, president, Farmers-Feeders Co., Cambridge City, Ind.; R. F. Hutcheson, dairy marketing, and J. W. Jefferson, division of dairy industries, both Virginia Department of Agriculture, Richmond; and J. B. Smathers, Maryland-Virginia Milk Producers' Association, Arlington.

LIVESTOCK NEED ICE-FREE WATER

Livestock can't be expected to make economical and rapid gains during the cold months ahead unless plenty of ice-free water is available at all times.

Too many farmers take the livestock water supply for granted. If cattle and hogs are to make the greatest gains, they must have plenty of water.

On many farms, the water supply is the weakest link in the entire livestock production program. Even the best in feed and forage can't offset a restricted water supply.

Automatic, heated waterers provide the best means for clean, fresh ice-free water. With today's pressure water systems, automatic fountains can be placed in every feed lot on the farm.

Operating costs for automatic waterers are small—especially when the savings in labor are considered. The cost for electricity to run an automatic watering system for 50 to 125 hogs is estimated at less than $10 a year.

Electric power suppliers and local equipment dealers can help farmers design a system to meet their individual needs.

BE ALERT FOR CHICKWEED INFESTATIONS IN ALFALFA

It's time to check alfalfa fields for infestations of chickweed.

Chickweed is probably the top weed problem in alfalfa. It reduces the quality and quantity of forage, increases the difficulties of cutting and curing the hay, and often may seriously reduce the legume stand. Its effect on new seedlings of alfalfa can be disastrous. Many times a new seedling has been completely eliminated by a heavy infestation of chickweed.

At present, in most locations in Virginia, chickweed will be rather short and light green in color. The leaves are somewhat heart-shaped. It can grow at relatively low temperatures, will form a heavy mat, and can smother out the alfalfa when the legume starts growth in the spring.

It is advisable to spray if one-third of the area has been infested with chickweed. Spray as soon as possible. The weed is easier to kill when it is small and actively growing.

If chickweed is threatening a new seedling of alfalfa that contains orchard grass, use 1 pound of dinitro per acre in 40 gallons of water. Good coverage of the weed is essential for control. Apply when the temperature is between 35° and 75°.

On pure stands of seedling alfalfa and on established stands, use 2 to 2 1/2 pounds of chloro-IPC in 20 to 30 gallons of water per acre, after the alfalfa is dormant and up until around February 1. Alfalfa reaches the dormant stage when temperatures reach the low 20's, or after top growth is killed back and the weather stays cold enough to prevent new growth. After February 1, increase the rate of CIPC to 8 pounds per acre. German moss and downy brome grass also are controlled by the 8-pound rate of CIPC. Weeds such as garlic, dock, horse nettle, and corn groundsel cannot be selectively removed from alfalfa.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT SUPERVISORS TO MEET IN ROANOKE

Virginia's Governor J. Lindsay Almond will give the principal banquet address at the annual meeting of the Virginia Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors in Roanoke in January.

His address is scheduled for Friday evening, January 16. Toastmaster will be Parke C. Brinkley, commissioner of Agriculture, State Department of Agriculture.

The supervisors will begin registering Thursday afternoon, January 17. During their meeting, they will hear committee reports, elect new officers, and hear discussions on various phases of soil conservation.

Officers of the association are: J. Gilbert Cox, Elliston, president; H. W. Garrett, Caliao, vice president; J. R. Blair, Chatham, secretary; and H. E. Flowers, White Stone, treasurer. This will be the 20th annual meeting of the group.

DO YOU WANT AN EFFICIENT DAIRY HERD?

If you're a dairy farmer who just likes to have a lot of cows around to keep you company, this advice won't mean much to you.

But if you want to operate your dairy business efficiently, better take a close look at the herd of yours. Some of your cows may be lying down on the job. For example, it's estimated that of the 24 million milk cows in the United States, eight million, or one out of three, do not produce enough milk or butterfat in a year to return a profit on the feed and labor they require.

You might make more money with fewer cows—that you'd be better off to get rid of some of your unprofitable cows and divide up the remaining feed among the better producers. In addition, to greater profits, you'd have less work to do and more time to prove your general management. However, you probably won't be able to do a very accurate job of culling your low producers without records. It has been proved you can't do a good job just by looking. And relying on memory to spot the low producers isn't a good idea either. Most dairymen tend to remember the high day of a cow's production period, but her overall record. Many cows produce at a high rate early in lactation but falter in the stretch. It's the long-time, consistent producer that builds up the herd average.

Record keeping is being emphasized throughout the country during January, 1959.

In conclusion dairymen who keep records seem to become better dairymen because their records show the way for possible improvements in management. This is borne out by the fact that in 1957, the State average production of all cows was 5,400 while enrolled under the Standard DHIA record-keeping plan produced an average of 6,451 pounds of milk.

PRINCESS ANNE GARDEN CLUB TO MEET MONDAY

The Princess Anne Garden Club will meet Monday, January 12th at the home of Mrs. R. J. Throckmorton, 215 77th St., Virginia Beach, at 2:30 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. Frederic Huetta.

Jaycee Leader Coming Here On January 23

Maurice Sexton, president of Junior Chamber International, will arrive in Virginia Beach on January 23 to confer with Virginia Beach Jaycees and to interest other young men of this area in the Junior Chamber movement.

The 32-year-old public accountant was elected president of Junior Chamber International at the organization's XIII World Congress in Minneapolis, Minn., in November, 1958.

He assumed office January 1 and is devoting nearly full time during his year as president to serving Jaycees of every race and creed on an equal basis. He will travel 150,000 miles during the year.

Virginia Beach Jaycees announced that extensive plans are under way for the international Jaycee's leader visit here. A welcoming reception is scheduled and Sexton will tour NATO, Williamsburg and the Oceana Naval Air Station.

During his visit, the World Jaycee leader will pay a courtesy call on Mayor Frank A. Duich.

Sexton has been active in the Junior Chamber movement for seven years. He served as his local Chamber's president in 1956 and was New Zealand's representative on the Junior Chamber International Extension and Membership Commission that year.

He was World Chairman of the Extension and Membership Commission and served Junior Chamber International as Vice President for Commissions in 1958.

Sexton has attended World Congress in Wellington, New Zealand (1952), Tokyo, Japan (1957), and Minneapolis, Minn., U.S.A. (1958).

He is married and has two children.

Former Victim Heads Polio Ball

Mrs. Robert Soffield (Phyllis), housewife and mother of four children, is an active club worker. As chairman of the first "Polio Foundation Ball" which will become an annual event she is devoting much of her time and energy these days to the March of Dimes, her favorite charity, and with good reason. She was a victim of the dreaded disease in November, 1958.

Phyllis was confined to the hospital with paralytic polio for three months, not knowing if she would ever walk again.

When placed on her family as a result of her illness, Mrs. J. W. (Dot) Cassidy of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Chapter of the Polio Foundation visited her and advised that the Foundation would pay all her expenses and that Phyllis was to concentrate on getting well. Phyllis did get well—she took months followed by weeks of treatment and she still has to make office visits which the Polio Foundation continues to pay for.

Phyllis considers herself a very fortunate woman in that she has fully recovered. She now lives a normal, active life with her husband, Bob, and the children. Although her home life is a busy one, Mrs. Robert Soffield will always find time to encourage polio victims and work for the charity closest to her heart.

Davidson Is Promoted at Bayside P.O.

Postmaster Merrell M. Nash Jr., Bayside, announced today that effective January 10, 1959, Clerk Richard S. Davidson Jr. was promoted by Mr. Nash to the position of Assistant to the Postmaster.

Mr. Davidson was a clerk in the Norfolk Post Office before transferring to the Bayside Post Office February, 1957. Mr. Davidson first entered the Postal Service in April, 1947, and is a career employee. Mr. Davidson's promotion was made because of his interest and dedication to his work as a Postal employee. He is both respected by the public and popular with his fellow employees.

Mr. Davidson is married and the father of two children and is in the process of building a home at Chesapeake Beach.

WROTEN RE-ELECTED MEN'S CLUB HEAD

Ben W. Wroten has been re-elected president of the Virginia Beach Methodist Men's Club for 1959 and was installed at a meeting of the club January 5.

Wroten, along with the other officers were installed by Harold S. Kellam, chairman of the official board of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church.

Other officers are Harold Trickett, first vice president; Clarence Hykes, second vice president; Conley Tillet, secretary; Richard Dyer, treasurer; and A. B. Crews, reporter.

Directors include Worth Petty, Bob Hardaway, Pete McChesney, Claude Washington, Neal Owens and Walton White.

Great Grandson of Gen. Lee To Attend Confederacy Fete

Robert E. Lee IV, great grandson of General Robert E. Lee, will be guest of honor at a dedication luncheon to be held January 18th, at the Commodore Maury Hotel in Norfolk. The occasion is to officially dedicate the Robert E. Lee Amphitheatre, site of Paul Green's "The Confederacy," which opened last summer at Virginia Beach. This latest of Green's outdoor drama centers around Lee during the period of 1861 to 1865.

Robert E. Lee IV was born December 25, 1924 in New York City and is the son of George Bolling Lee. He graduated from Washington and Lee University in 1949 where he received his B.S. in commerce. As a sergeant in the United States Army he served in Southern France and Germany. In 1954 Lee was appointed national advertising manager for KRON-TV in San Francisco, Calif., where he presently resides with his wife, the former Marjorie Tracy.

Lee IV will officially represent the Lee family and accept the dedication plaque which will be placed at the Amphitheatre. Principal speaker for the occasion, which is being sponsored by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce and the Tidewater Historic Drama Association, will be Bruce Catton, noted Civil War historian who received the Pulitzer Prize in 1947 for "The Civil War." Also represented will be members of the Civil War Centennial Commission, the Virginia Civil War Commission, the Civil War Round Table, Sons of the Confederacy, and many other organizations prominently associated with the Civil War.

Bank of Virginia Beach Had Best Year, Stockholders Told

A report to stockholders and directors of the Bank of Virginia Beach Tuesday revealed that the bank increased more than $1,000,000 in assets in 1958 as compared to 1957. The report was made by Edward H. Church, president.

The year end report showed assets of the bank at $10,543,226.05 as compared to $9,543,173.43 at the end of 1957.

Deposits during the year increased almost one million dollars with the actual increase shown as $939,751.77, according to the report.

The report also showed that the bank declared and paid 14% of the capital stock in dividends amounting to $25,000.

Officers re-elected at the annual meeting were Sidney S. Kellam, chairman of the board; Church, president; George T. Mullen, vice president and cashier; A. W. Craft Jr. and Wyndham E. Brown III, vice presidents; Mary G. Bain, assistant cashier; Margaret N. Hanney, assistant cashier; Louise H. Glass, assistant cashier; and A. W. Randolph, assistant cashier.

Future Professional Center

A real estate transaction here this week may mean that a professional center will be developed on Laskin Road, immediately east of the Laskin Park Elementary School.

Approximately 700 feet on Laskin Road just east of the school has been purchased by a group of medical doctors and dentists with a view to constructing and developing a professional center on the site.

The purchase included seven sites fronting on Laskin Road. The future construction would be in the form of separate unit residential type buildings in keeping with the zoning restrictions of the property.

It was learned that the seven sites were purchased from the Freeman Corporation by six individuals, all of whom are either medical doctors or dentists.

One source indicated that either one or two of the purchasers would begin construction immediately on a residential-type building which is designed to be used for offices.

Willhoit Heads Beach Kiwanians

F. Beale Willhoit, manager of Sam Fenley, Inc., is the new president of the Kiwanis Club of Virginia Beach.

He succeeds M. F. Strickler, assistant superintendent of Princess Anne County schools.

Other new officers include Elmer Turrell, assistant superintendent of Virginia Beach city schools, vice president and Robert P. Maul, associated with George T. McLean Co. Inc., treasurer.

The winners of this week's tournament of the Virginia Beach Duplicate Bridge Club which plays each Tuesday evening at 7:45 at the Dunes Motor Hotel were:

North-south, first place, Mrs. G. G. Simpson and Mrs. M. H. Marshall. Second place, Mrs. Claud Brown and Mrs. C. H. Walker. East-west, first place, Cmdr. and Mrs. A. H. Vito Jr. Second place, Lt. A. W. Cliff and Lt. D. G. Williams.

All bridge players are invited.

Discuss Fort Story Housing

Plans Being Made for Navy Relief Ball

Mrs. Mary Shelby (center), president of Navy Wives Club Branch 143, goes over plans for the 1959 Enlisted Navy Relief Ball with Captain E. G. Konrad, USN, Commanding Officer, NAS Oceana, and Mrs. Kathryn Ingram, Publicity Chairman for the local Navy Wives Club branch. The Enlisted men's Ball will be held on February 6 at Rockwell Hall, U. S. Amphibious Base, Little Creek.

P.A. Navy Wives Preparing for Relief Ball

Club members of Princess Anne Navy Wives Club Branch 143 are making preparations for the forthcoming Navy Relief Ball which will be held in Rockwell Hall at the Amphibious Base on Feb. 6 for enlisted personnel, their dependents and guests.

According to Mrs. Mary Shelby, president of the local branch, members are making posters for window display and decorating masks for the Ball, which will have a Mardi Gras theme this year.

The Navy Relief Ball, which is one of the annual high lights in the Tidewater area, is held for the purpose of collecting funds to augment individual contributions of Naval personnel to the Navy Relief Society. The Ball is arranged entirely by military personnel and their dependents.

All proceeds from the ball go to the Navy Relief Society, which is the Navy's own private relief organization, supported entirely by private funds contributed by Navy and Marine Corps personnel and civilian friends.

Bridge Players To Aid Rescue Squad Drive

"Play bridge for the rescue squad on February 10 is the appeal of the Birdneck Point Garden Club. On that date their annual Valentine benefit desert-bridge party will take place at the Cape Colony Club at 1:30 P.M. As of this year, the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad will be beneficiary of all profits.

The annual fund-raising project has previously been undertaken for the beautification of Birdneck Point. This year, because of the cooperation of the Birdneck Point Community League, The Cavalier Interests, and the Birdneck Point Garden Club in a joint undertaking of beautification of the entrance to Birdneck Point, an alternative community need has been made the objective of the garden club fund-raising activity. Other beautification plans are contemplated for the future.

A highlight of the afternoon will be a display of cruise fashions from Florence Wilson and there will be door and table prizes.

Committee chairmen include: Mrs. Hugh W. Lindsay and Mrs. W. R. Hick, Arrangements; Mrs. J. W. Hunt, Door prizes; Mrs. Kathryn O. Darst, Complimentary Bridge table accessories; Mrs. W. J. Dickson, Jr., Table Prizes; Mrs. A. G. Rosenkrantz, Jr., Valentine decorations; Mrs. R. Coffman, Mrs. David Stormont III, Sale of tickets. Admission will be $1.25 per person.

Concert Group Will Present Sophia Steffan Here Jan. 20

The Virginia Beach Concert Association will present Sophia Steffan, mezzo-soprano, on January 20 at 8:45 p.m. in the dining room of the Jefferson Hotel. This is the second in a series of three concerts presented by the Association during the 1958-59 season.

Miss Steffan was 1953 winner of the nation-wide Student National contest sponsored by the National Student Music Council.

She has toured two seasons singing the title role of "Carmen," has appeared with leading orchestras as guest artist, and has long experience as a recitalist.

Last year she was awarded a scholarship in the Juvenile School of Music. She has also studied at Northwestern University, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and the Mannes College of Music in New York.

Admission to the concert is by season ticket.

Miss Steffan's program follows: Part I—Aria di Pollicena from "Radamisto," G. F. Handel; O del mio dolce ardor, C. Giusti; Non più di fiori from La Clemenza di Tito, W. A. Mozart.

Part II—Van ewiger Liehe; Das Mädchen spricht; Ach, wende dich nicht; Eine gule, gute Nacht; Wir froh und frisch, Brahams.

Part III—Non più mesta from "La Cenerentola," Rossini.

Part IV—Poeme de l'Amour et de la Mer, La Fleur des Eaux, Bientot, Le Temps des Lilas, Chausson; Hotel, Poulenc; Les Gars qui vont a la Fete Poulenc.

Part V—Three Greek folk songs, To Lavanli, Arr. Spahy; Lullaby, Arr. Ponridy; I Papadai, Arr. Ponridy.

Part VI—Orpheus with his Lute, William Schuman; Going to Hear, Aaron Copland; The Crucifixion, Samuel Barber; I Hean an Army, Samuel Barber.

Retired Officers Association for Area Attracting Much Interest

Since the announced intention last week by Armed Forces Retired Officers, residing in the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach area, to organize a chapter of the Retired Officers Association of the United States the active response has been far beyond their most optimistic anticipation. The Princess Anne-Virginia Beach organization will come into being at Fort Story Saturday noon, Jan. 17, when 50 or more retired commissioned officers and warrant officers of the uniformed services will assemble at the Officers Mess for a dutch treat luncheon at 1:30 p.m. The selection of Chapter officers, the appointment of several committees and a discussion of purposeful projects will follow in an organization meeting.

Col. George E. Woods Jr., commanding officer of Fort Story, will be a guest at the luncheon. He will welcome the visiting officers and wish them success in the founding of the second chapter of the Retired Officers Association in Virginia.

Traffic Deaths Show Drop for State in 1958

Col. C. W. Woodson, Jr., Assistant of State Police and Chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, announced a tentative 663 as the number of Virginia traffic deaths for 1958. This was a substantial drop below the 912 of 1957.

Col. Woodson said he used the word "tentative" because traffic might show a slight upward revision can be expected if more late reports are received or people die who are now carried as injured since the statistical purposes, their deaths would revert to the date of injury.

Two all-time records were set with the death rate (deaths per 100 million miles of travel) computed at 5.55 and pedestrian deaths held to 146. Previous low was a rate of 6.1 last year, and 132 in 1955. Recorded highs were a rate of 24.2 in 1952 and 943 pedestrian deaths in 1941. This progress was made despite a rise of from 2 to 3 percent in traffic volume.

Also shown were crashes in which more than one person was killed. In 1957, 92 of these brought death to 239 people while the 1958 picture was 80 which killed 207 people. Crashes not involving contact with another vehicle rose from 337 in 1957 to 339 but resultant deaths were down from 391 to 380. Deaths of servicemen rose from 89 to 71. Urban deaths were up from 140 in 1957 to 158 and rural ones down from 772 to 685. These last statistics, Col. Woodson said, reflect a steady trend which might be attributed to the steady annexation of rural areas by municipalities.

Aided in comment, Col. Woodson stated that even though being in all fields of traffic safety, it is not the only interest of the state.

Mr. Woodson said that the state is interested in the safety of its highways and that it is a very important part of the state's economy. He said that the state is interested in the safety of its highways and that it is a very important part of the state's economy.

City Officials Backing Five Incumbents

It is our pleasure as members of the City Council and as Constitutional Officers of the City of Virginia Beach, to express our wholehearted support and endorsement of the Constitutional Officers of Princess Anne County, namely: John E. Marr, Sheriff; Robert Lee Simpson, Commonwealth Attorney; John V. Ventres, Clerk; Ivan D. Mapp, Commissioner of Revenue, and V. Alfred Etheridge, Treasurer, who have just recently announced their candidacies for reelection, subject to the July Democratic primary. Three of these Constitutional Officers, namely: the Sheriff, the Commonwealth Attorney and the Clerk of the Court, are Constitutional Officers for the City of Virginia Beach and as such also serve the City in their respective capacities.

Each of us has had the opportunity to observe the type and caliber of services these gentlemen have rendered to the City and to the County. We have received from them only the finest cooperation in the discharge of the official affairs pertaining to our City. Without hesitation we strongly recommend them. We respectfully urge the citizens of Virginia Beach and our many friends to join with us in re-selecting these gentlemen to the offices for which they have announced.

Sarah Constant D.A.R. Issues Dinner Invitations

The Sarah Constant Chapter D.A.R. has issued invitations to a dinner to be given at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club at seven-thirty on the evening of January 23, in honor of Ludwig Diehn, pianist and composer, whose works are recognized both here and abroad.

On this occasion the Society's Medal for Achievement will be presented to Mr. Diehn by Mrs. Maurice B. Tonkin, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

In addition to his musical achievements Mr. Diehn has shown those qualities of service, leadership and patriotism deemed necessary for a recipient of this Medal as required by the high standards of D.A.R.

Guests will include members of Sarah Constant Chapter and their husbands, Regents of other local D.A.R. Chapters and their husbands, also State and National D.A.R. officers and a great number of civic minded leaders and patrons of music in the area. Speakers will include Mayor Fred W. Duckworth of Norfolk and Edgar Schenckman, Director of the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra.

On the program Mr. Diehn will favor the guests with a performance of one of his compositions, and there will be a violin selection by Denis Brown and a solo by Mrs. Denis Brown.

Mrs. Thomas A. Moore, Chapter Regent will preside. Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman Wells will give a brief record of Mr. Diehn's achievements.

B&PW Club Holds Meeting

Miss Ruth Newell, career achievement chairman of the Princess Anne Business and Professional Women's Club, presented a challenging program on Career Achievement at the regular monthly meeting of the club at the Pine Tree Inn on Jan. 12. Miss Newell stated that the business or professional woman's career is her way of more and better information; it is an incentive to better personal appearance; it is an opportunity for adding new skills; it is the opportunity for cultivating a healthy state of mind. Any woman who wants to advance in her career was advised to avoid pettiness and to enjoy her work.

Mrs. Harvey Mulwee, district supervisor of saleswomen of Avon Products for this area, and Mrs. Audrey Brooks, owner and personnel manager of Brooks-Shorter Motor Company spoke briefly on the advantages and challenges offered in their work. Mrs. Mulwee pointed out that the rapid growth of direct selling has afforded many persons of mature age and mothers with limited time with an opportunity to work. Direct selling can raise standards of living for both the saleswoman and the purchaser; it can establish confidence in the saleswoman; it encourages the saleswoman to believe in his ability to personal relations; it offers the greatest challenge and the greatest satisfaction in her work.

Linkhorn Park Club Card Party, Fashion Show Set

The Linkhorn Park Garden Club card party and fashion show will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 28 at 1 p.m. at the Convention Center. Mrs. A. A. Antrim, announced to members at the club meeting Friday. The public is invited.

Mrs. W. B. Meredith, program chairman, reported that the meeting for February would be a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. M. H. Marshall.

The members voted to purchase a sign to be erected at the corner of Pinewood and Holly Roads.

Mrs. C. G. Baughman spoke on dried materials, explaining the three methods of drying and naming plants and flowers which responded well to this treatment.

Mrs. Baughman and Mrs. G. L. Wilbrook of the Cavalier Garden Club awarded ribbons to the following for their arrangements: Mrs. Antrim, Mrs. George Webb, Mrs. W. B. Lohough and Mrs. Wiley Harrell.

FAMILY CAR TIP

MAINTENANCE SAVES MONEY
Your family car is your second largest investment and deserves the attention manufacturers recommend. So pay strict attention to regular servicing of your automobile to prolong its life and save costly repair bills.

James B. Lightburn of the Puro-lator Automotive Research Bureau stresses the importance of regular oil change, lubrication and filter replacement. To make this maintenance easy, stickers are provided by the oil companies to remind the driver and service station operator of the time these jobs should be performed.

We are all familiar with the oil and tube sticker usually placed on the door jamb. It gives the mileage of the last service and is a constant reminder that the job should be done again after the next 1,000 miles. Recently, a new sticker has been made available to insure proper servicing of your oil filter. This "Oil of Protection" is placed on the door jamb to give the mileage of the last oil filter change. It is imperative to the life of your engine that the oil filter is changed every 4,000 miles. If you don't have your "Oil of Protection," Mr. Lightburn suggests that you ask for it the next time you stop for gas.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Harry F. Carper Jr., Director of the Virginia Division of War Veterans' Claims, a State agency which assists veterans and survivors to obtain their lawful benefits, announced the following information of interest from his office in Roanoke.

Holders of National Service Life Insurance will shortly begin receiving notice from the Veterans Administration of the amount of dividend to be paid to this individual policy holders will generally receive about the same amount as during 1958, to be paid as soon as possible after the anniversary date of each policy. For example, if your policy was issued on September 1 your anniversary date is September 1, and your notice of the dividend you will get will arrive within about 60 days thereafter.

The law provides that regular annual dividends will be held to the credit of the policyholder, with interest, to pay premiums on a monthly basis as they become due. If the policyholder fails to pay before the end of the 31 day grace period, unless the Veterans Administration is notified in writing otherwise.

With the announcement of the dividend the Veterans Administration is mailing to each policyholder a card showing two other options: (1) the dividend may be applied to pay premiums in advance or reduce loans, or (2) it may be paid in cash.

I earnestly recommend that holders of National Service Life Insurance guard against loss of their insurance by leaving the dividend with the government. Instead, an automatic safeguard which will protect the family in time of lay-off or extended illness.

Thomas A. Moore, Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Avenue, Norfolk, will be pleased to assist and advise any person concerning veterans' affairs. Moore visits the Convention Center ("The Dome"), Pacific Avenue at 18th Street, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., only, on the second and fourth Thursdays each month.

Encouraging results in use of a problem-solving apparatus as an aid to treatment of mentally ill patients were reported by the Battle Creek, Mich., Veterans Administration hospital.

By offering simple problems in mechanics, the device challenged withdrawn patients to enter into activities and communicate with each other, VA said.

Research with the apparatus was conducted by Dr. Stewart G. Armitage, chief of the hospital's psychology service, and Dr. George

"I REMEMBER"

From Mrs. Bertha Howard Ladd, Terre Haute, Indiana: Many, I am sure remember the song about "Grandfather's Clock"—bought on the morn of the day he was born.

My grandfather, the late LaFayette Howard, resided in Sullivan and owned one of these clocks; there was another clock in the Masonic Hall (of which he was a charter member) and he had another identical clock in his home, which was "the house he died in."

Each of the three clocks were identically alike and truthfully stepped in the three places "when the old man died."

It is a walnut both Thomas clock, with big dials, rollers on the face, one showing the month, another the day of the week and around the face figures showing the day of the month.

This song, "Grandfather's Clock," always had a fascination for me, in my youth, and my real grandfather prized these clocks, as I am now passing it on to my great, great grandchildren. Hoping it will furnish them a personal reason for cherishing the song as it did for me. I still have the clock which my grandfather had in his own home... no money could buy it, for it is truly a relic of bygone days.

From Mrs. George B. Brown, Tynan, Texas: I remember when we bought fresh meat from a peddler who butchered it himself and sold it door-to-door. He used a buggy or a wagon.

In those days, people expected to live their lifetime with their own teeth and all of their "limbs."

The diseases were measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, and typhoid.

the winter, the volunteer says, "What is it?"

"See, it is the winter, trying to form a word 'B-snow'."

At some VA hospitals, a special machine that plays a sound tape on cards is used in speech therapy for patients with aphasia.

It shows a picture of an object, speaks its name, and shows the words to the patient on a card simultaneously. The patient repeats the individual word as clearly as he can and the volunteer listens to his pronunciation and helps him correct it as needed.

Thus, through practice and repetition, many VA aphasia patients are helped to overcome their disability.

VA doctors feel volunteers make a valuable contribution in such speech therapy, not only through the actual mechanics of practicing speech but through their personal help which helps patients relax and bring out their best efforts.

"A patient overcoming aphasia often gains more confidence from knowing he can talk even slowly and with difficulty to someone from outside the hospital than from communicating with hospital personnel," said Dr. A.B.C. Knudson, VA director of physical medicine and rehabilitation in Washington, D.C. Volunteers are helping in the speech therapy programs of VA hospitals at Durham, N.C., Memphis, Tenn., Los Angeles, Biloxi, Miss., New Orleans, East Orange, N.J., Brooklyn, N.Y., and many other locations.

MENTAL HEALTH

With the aid of the movie camera, a Veterans Administration psychiatrist is compiling an extensive study of human expression.

Fleeting changes of face, voice, gait, stance, and gesture of hospitalized mental patients are captured on film by Dr. Erwin W. Straus of the Lexington, Va., VA hospital, in his search for a better understanding of mental breakdown.

MUSIC LOVERS SUNDAY SESSION

WORLD OUTDOORS

MANY birds and mammals are hibernating in a lifetime of hunting experience. A sportsman may hunt quail, grouse, ducks, deer, and a number of smaller and larger animals across the width and breadth of the United States.

He may journey to India for a tiger or to Africa for an elephant or lion; to the far reaches of the Northwest for big game and plenty of excitement.

The hunter who keeps to the chase continually finds new thrills and excitement. Yet, no matter where his heart or his roaming feet may lead him, he will find new and exciting experience he may be exposed, the hunter seldom forgets that chance and trickery target that helped to sharpen the wit and the shooting eye in the hunt—this is the thrill.

There is nothing complicated about hunting rabbits. All a young sportsman needs is a better-but-drug worthy shotgun or rifle and a little time to take off across the fields and woodlands.

It is an established fact that King Cottontail rabbits in every state in the Union and Canada are high that he may be found in any county in every state. He may not be so numerous in some localities, but wherever he is found, he provides plenty of sport for the young gunner and the sportsman hunter alike. He is such a popular target that it is estimated some 30 million are taken annually by hunters coast to coast.

Availability, of course, accounts for rabbits being taken in greater numbers than any other species of upland game... but the fact that he's found just about everywhere doesn't detract from the fact that King Cottontail is an elusive, challenging target for the nimble who is young in the field.

SPONSORS COTTAGE CLUB

Jay Ward and his Debonates have been labeled recently as the most promising group of young musicians in the Tidewater. They are currently recording and have played on national radio and TV programs.

The Seashore Cottages Club will have a young people of the Tidewater area to enjoy its facilities. The hostesses for the Saturday evening dance will be the cheer leaders from Virginia Beach and Princess Anne High Schools. Admission at the door is 75c per person.

Later he analyzes the films by using a special viewer to look at the individual pictures or "frames" or by running the footage in slow motion.

Many thousands of feet of these films, made during the eight years of Dr. Straus' study, are in laboratory files of the Lexington VA hospital, where he is director of professional education and research.

He is hopeful that his studies of expression may lead to a better understanding of mental breakdown in terms other than those of physiology, and thus contribute to more effective treatment of mental disease.

Dr. Straus considers a patient's outward expressions and movements a reliable index to his mental states, sometimes more so than bloodwork, since it usually is difficult to dissemble one's expressions.

U.S. ANTARCTIC PROGRAM

N. A. F. McMurdo Sound, Antarctica
25 December 1958

The Princess Anne County Chapter American Red Cross

Dear President:

The USS Wyandot spent Christmas day in the pack of the Ross Sea, about 300 miles from McMurdo Sound.

On board the Wyandot were some 200 men including Admiral Tyree, Sir Raymond Priestly, and 30 civilian scientists and technicians who will spend the next year on the Antarctic Continent.

Every man aboard received a Christmas gift from the American Red Cross and my package came from the Princess Anne Chapter.

I would like to convey my very sincere thanks for the great kindness and generous thought shown by your chapter in providing the gift.

Perhaps more than any other aspect, the little touch of home and femininity which came to us with each gift was so much appreciated.

The Antarctic is a cold masculine continent and the touch of home means so very much.

Thanking you once again.

SCOUT APPRECIATION DINNER

TO BE AT PA HIGH SCHOOL

The Chairman of the Seaboard District Activities Committee of the Tidewater Council for the Boy Scouts of America, Capt. Horn, announced plans today for a Scout appreciation dinner to be held at Princess Anne High School on Thursday, Jan. 22 at 6:30 p.m.

Very sincere thanks for the great kindness and generous thought shown by your chapter in providing the gift.

Perhaps more than any other aspect, the little touch of home and femininity which came to us with each gift was so much appreciated.

The USS Independence, most powerful vessel ever built for the U.S. Navy will be commissioned.

Judge Jerry Bray from South Norfolk will be guest speaker. Awards and entertainment will be presented after the dinner. Any one desiring to attend this dinner may do so by contacting Andy Sabot at MA 7-4348 or Commander Harbison at GA 8-7114 ext. 311.

Audubon Group Hears Cleave

Howard Cleave, noted Audubon Society photographer and lecturer, held a large audience of people of all ages Thursday evening at the Virginia Beach High School auditorium with his unique color motion pictures of wildlife at night.

After being introduced to the audience by Miss Mary Tayloe Gwathmey, conservation chairman for the sponsoring Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, Howard Cleave assured his listeners that he had been introduced to many of the nation's finest police departments, but under less auspicious conditions—the police having been summoned usually by nervous women who believed they had seen an apparition in the night as he went about draped in his blinding spotlight "like a human chandelier" on the trail of some wild creature who ventured near a dwelling. He demonstrated an ingenious method of carrying three spotlights and a movie camera without hampering movement.

A firefly provided its own light, however, generating enough light for color motion pictures of beautiful clarity. Deep moving with liquid grace from thicket shadows to within 15 feet seemed to have a pair of eyes and were more curious than afraid. Roosting water birds let their brilliant feathers be stroked with a pole, and a cicada emerged from its horrendous, chrysalis. Against a sunset sky, clouds of shiny swells poured into a chimney "like smoke in reverse" and were seen clinging inside it by the hundreds.

Moving from the Mirocan Marsh in Wisconsin toward the New Jersey coast, Mr. Cleave compared pictorially the habits of wild quail with those of quail raised on a quail farm. Quail raised in cages slept in a circle, heads out, just as their wild kin do.

Then followed a battle of wits with two skunks who ran off the star model, a gray fox. Each time the skunks were forced to retreat, the fox returned, lured by his favorite food, powdered sugar doughnuts. Seldom seen flying squirrels were named as one of the most numerous creatures in Virginia.

Vignettes of nocturnal life from New Jersey down the coast to Florida included a hairfoot fish hawk abiding mosquitoes off his legs, muskrats dining on cattails, the episode of night watchmen who feed two raccoons one night and wound up with 22 customers, baby rooms presented annually the first week in July, alligators appearing first as red eyes floating on the water and then wiggling swiftly by like eels and snakes, crocodiles, the trembling earth of Okefenokee Swamp where even pine trees grow on the layer of vegetation floating on the water, the everglades' vast expanse of yellowish green saw grass, man of war birds (with a seven-foot wing span) and herons on the Thousand Islands, spanned marine life feeding in shallow water at night, and finally black bears in the Great Smoky Mountains.

Overheard as the audience left were phrases like "beautiful pictures," "magnificent." "Thereby a new field for you—it might even replace eelgrass."

The third and last Audubon Screen Tour lecture of this series, "Rocky Mountain Rambles," will be presented on April 23 by Emerson Scott.

The National Outlook

Since World War II the South-eastern section of the United States has grown more rapidly from an economic point of view than any other section of the nation. Seven states are involved: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee and South Carolina. During this 13-year period, according to the United States Department of Commerce Office in Charleston, there has been between a doubling and a tripling of the industrial economy of this region.

There are many reasons for this growth. Among these the following are rather outstanding:

There is an excellent labor supply. Most of the workers are not trained for factory jobs, but they learn easily and quickly, and soon become as efficient as any to be found in other parts of the country.

Labor unions have tried repeatedly, but with little success. Of course there are unions, many of them, but the overall situation is vastly different from that in New England or Ohio or Michigan. In some of these states there is a definite anti-union feeling, and this is made clear to any organizers that come in, but the failure of unions to get a real foothold is more the result of the Southern employers' threatening their workers with fairness and paying what is regarded as a good wage.

Wages on the whole tend to be somewhat lower than in the North. This is not a cause of hardship because the cost of living also is lower. On the average the Southern factory worker is better off than his Northern counterpart. These lower wages mean that production costs are below those of factories in other parts of the country. This is one reason so many of our leading companies have opened branch plants in the South.

The water supply is plentiful and the water is good. This is of crucial importance to many industries, and is significant to almost all lines of manufacturing. Few are produced in our factories that do not require water in the process.

The climate is conducive to continuous operation, 12 months a year. Last winter the area was bitterly cold for a few days and this year much of it was covered with snow. But those are the exceptions. Normally the weather is sufficiently mild in winter to be no handicap. Summers are hot, but not so hot as to make business as such. In fact about the only antagonism one can find in it is relatively small communities where it is felt that permitting factories to be established would ruin the beauty of the town. Even this opposition is dying out because most of the companies that open plants locate them in the outskirts and the town itself is not affected except through more employment and better payrolls.

In none of these seven states are there what may properly be called punitive taxes on business, and in some instances special tax incentives are being offered to new business. Such incentives, or tax concessions, are not universal by any means. Probably one reason for this is that the area is convinced that it has such other advantages that there is no justification for using one form of tax bribery to get a company.

There is intense competition between the various states to attract new business. The area is dotted with industrial development committees, which will do anything within reason to convince a company that it should select, depending upon the scope of the committee, a particular town, city, county, or state for its new plant.

With a good labor supply, no labor union squabbles, moderate but fair wages, excellent water, favorable climate, no political antagonism, reasonable taxes, and a desire on the part of the residents for new business, it is small wonder that the area is growing by leaps and bounds. And there is every reason to believe that the growth will continue year after year. The rate perhaps will not be as high as it has been in the past 13 years, but the trend will be upward, and the region will become more and more prosperous.

Questions relating to the above, and/or to other economic problems within the ken of this column, may be addressed to Dr. Ralph Boley, N.A.M. 1016 St. N.W., Washington 6, D.C.

Funeral Home Opening Here

Hairston's Funeral Home of Virginia Beach, observed open house on January 11th and 12th, 1959.

Approximately 900 persons viewed the modernly equipped plant, featuring a large chapel, reception room, slumber room, operating room, modernly equipped rest rooms and several other rooms that can be utilized to serve any need in the community may warrant.

Modern exhibits of the mortuary science were also displayed during open house.

The highlight of this occasion featured the dedicatory service which was held on Sunday, January 11 at 4 p.m.

This service was conducted by the Rev. D. P. Felton, pastor of the St. Mark A.M.E. Church, assisted by the Rev. Hayman of the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church, Princess Anne and the Rev. Walker of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Virginia Beach.

Near the close of this service, Francis Taylor of the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church, commented on the response and the moral support given him by his many friends and pledged to render service to all with the same degree of humility, dignity and other qualities that are adherent to the profession.

AAA Urges Parents to Instruct Youngsters in School Bus Safety

A list of safety rules for youngsters who use school buses was issued today by the Tidewater Automobile Association, AAA.

The AAA club said over 35 percent of U.S. public school children use such transportation to and from school, and urged parents to take the initiative in helping their children to familiarize themselves with the following rules:

1—Youngsters should arrive at the bus stop in plenty of time to avoid rushing, with its consequent hazards.

2—They should wait in a safe location well off the roadway.

3—There should be no "horseplay," pushing or racing for seats in getting on or off the bus.

4—Hands, head and feet should be kept inside the bus. Loud talk, boisterous laughter or other disturbances to the driver should be avoided.

5—Youngsters should cooperate in keeping the inside of the bus clean. Many kinds of accidents are possible with blowing papers or slippery trash on the floor.

6—Children should remain seated while the bus is in motion.

7—All instructions of the driver should be followed carefully. The instructions given as the child leaves the bus are of particular importance.

8—Parents should meet very young children at the bus stop as they return from school, if at all possible. This is especially important if the child must cross streets.

Bay Colony Club Holds Meeting

The Bay Colony Garden Club of Virginia Beach held its monthly meeting at the Princess Anne County Club Jan. 7, 1959 with Mrs. T. Fraser James, president, presiding. Guest speaker, Mrs. M. K. Crockett, past president of the Lake Joyce Garden Club, spoke on "Grafting and Propagation." Mrs. Crockett suggested sawing stems at a slant so when matured they will run up the stem.

The Blue Ribbon winners were Mrs. W. C. Overman, Mrs. L. E. Burton, Mrs. E. P. Blake, Mrs. T. Fraser James was the yellow ribbon winner. Mrs. Thomas Howard and Mrs. Robert Mollary were the judges and from the Linkhorn Park Garden Club.

In the Bay Colony area the following homes won first place in exterior Christmas decorations: L. H. Burton, E. H. Alderman and Preston F. Hix. The Burton residence also won second place in the Virginia Beach area. The outside of the Burton's home was beautifully decorated and featured hand-made alphonettes of golden reindeer prancing inside hoola-hoops. The Alderman motif was a cheche in the modern manner. One of the Wise Men was represented on the Hix residence.

The Bay Colony Christmas tree sponsored by the Bay Colony Garden Club and Civic League added much sparkle to the holiday season. The civic league was represented by Mr. C. Hall Snellings, Master of Ceremonies, and by Mr. N. G. Wilson, Jr., as Santa Claus. Mrs. Donald E. Hood lead the carols, which were enjoyed around the lighted tree on the snowbanks of Bay Colony.

NOTES FROM OCEANA

OCEANA PERSONALITIES

WE SALUTE YOU, MR. MEYERSON

Elmer H. Meyerson was born May 17, 1905 in Greenville, N.C. He was one of five children. His mother passed away when Elmer was 14 and his father when he was 17.

He then left Greenville and went to Portsmouth to live with an Aunt, getting a job with the Portsmouth water department.

At 19 he met and married the former Marian Matthews, in St. Johns Episcopal Church in 1924. Several years later Mr. Meeks left the water department to go to Barber College in Norfolk. He then moved his little family to Oceana and opened his first barber shop, which was located where the Colonial Store now stands.

After many years, and five children later, Mr. Meeks moved to his new location on Courthouse Rd. where the Oceana Barber Shop is located today.

This quiet, unassuming man was one of Oceana's pioneers. He helped organize the Oceana fire department during World War II. He put in many hours of his own time to gather funds for the construction of the Oceana Stadium.

Mr. Meeks is a past president of the Oceana Civic League of which he is still an active member.

He is also active in the Oceana recreation department.

Mr. Meeks is well known for his hard work and also for his tender heart and his love for his fellow man.

Mr. Meeks—We salute you.

Kirby will be the leader and the class is under the leadership of Mrs. Philip Ogelsby, secretary of the Missionary Education and Study. A cordial invitation is open to attend this class in Oceana, Jan. 20, 23, 27 and 30 at 7:30 p.m.

At the regular auxiliary meeting Tuesday, Jan. 13 and very fine interesting introduction was given to this study by Mrs. Edward Boyer as the topic "Rekindling the Flame." Twelve new members were welcomed and welcomed into the organization.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while really relieving itching, swelling, irritation (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that surgery made unnecessary statements like "This hemorrhoid was a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preperone. At all drug counters—money back guarantee.

Lt. R. H. Tabor

At Oceana Base

NAS Oceana, Va. — Lieutenant Richard H. Tabor, USN, who was dubbed the Navy's "Space Man" in Sept. 1958 when he subjected himself to the effects of extreme simulated altitudes while testing the Navy's Full Pressure Suit, was awarded the Navy's Commendation Ribbon during ceremonies at this base today.

Lt. Tabor, who is attached to Air Development Squadron THREE at Oceana, also received a citation from Secretary of the Navy, Thomas S. Gates, Jr., for his "Outstanding performance of duty."

Presentation of the Commendation Ribbon and Metal Pendant was made in behalf of Mr. Gates by Rear Admiral William D. Irlin, Commander Operational Development Forces. The award was presented during a formal inspection of military personnel attached to Air Development Squadron THREE by the unit Commanding Officer, Captain Charlie N. Conaster, USN.

The text of the citation delivered by Admiral Irlin reads as follows: "For outstanding performance of duty while serving as the Flight Surgeon and Test Officer on the Full Pressure Suit Evaluation Project being conducted by Air Development Squadron THREE, U.S. Naval Air Station, Oceana, Virginia, and the Full Pressure Suit Training Unit, U.S. Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Virginia, from 6 to 8 September 1958. Entirely dependent upon the Full Pressure Suit to protect him from the effects of extreme simulated altitudes during a continuous 72-hour period in a low pressure chamber, Lieutenant Tabor reached a maximum altitude of 13,000 feet and remained at an altitude higher than 30,000 feet for 24 hours of the test period, the longest time man has ever been subjected to such extreme simulated or actual altitudes. By his outstanding professional knowledge, he was able to determine, observe and report accurately and objectively the biological effects incident to this test, thereby providing valuable information relating to the future improvement of the Full Pressure Suit. Lieutenant Tabor's initiative, leadership, and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Lt. Tabor, who is married to the former Miss Cody Durham of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is the son of Mrs. Della Tabor, Dean of Women, Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Tabor currently reside at 33 Lake Drive in Virginia Beach, Va., with their four sons and one daughter.

Other night circle members.

Mrs. Jean Hansen, the circle leader, is hoping for a large attendance. For further information call GA 8-3387.

Are you as wise today as you were in '47?

If you hold U. S. Series E Savings Bonds that mature this month you can give yourself a pat on the back for the wise buy you made. For every three dollars you invested in 1947, you have four dollars now. (And, had you spent that money 10 years ago, chances are whatever you bought would have been long since worn out.)

Today you can be even smarter. All you do is just hold onto those Bonds. Keep them for another ten years and you'll get $1.80 for every dollar you put into them. For example, a Bond you bought for $37.50 will pay you back $67.34! And the best part of it is you don't have to do anything but keep your Bonds. No papers to sign. Not even a visit to the bank is necessary.

Remember this, too! Savings Bonds are one of the safest investments you can make. Your principal is guaranteed safe up to any amount—and your rate of interest is guaranteed sure—by the United States Government.

So keep the Savings Bonds you have now and add to them either through Payroll Savings or by buying Bonds where you regularly bank.

Idaho Potatoes... Onion Rings

This is the time of year when Idaho's Russet Potatoes, famous not only as "bakers" but also for their all-purpose qualities, are abundant in our markets. And with them are the gentle-mannered Idaho Sweet Spanish Onions—very large, creamy-white or yellow-skinned, with a mild, sweet flavor which makes them so good for thin crisp slices in salads and sandwiches, and for making French Fried Onion Rings.

And here they are, partnered to serve as the main course itself. The potatoes are scrubbed (the skins are such good eaters), baked in a 400 degree F. (moderately-hot) oven until soft, and gently rolled in towel-protected hands until the fluffy, white contents push through the cracked skins. Then they are topped with crisp-cooked bacon squares, to be served while still piping hot with a dollop of dairy-sour cream and snipped chives. Eat jacket-and-all!

The Sweet Spanish Onions are wonderful "French fried". So crisp and mild are these that they do not need the soaking in ice water or milk which many recipes call for. Slice the unpeeled onions about 1/4-inch thick. This makes for easier removal of skins. Peel slices. Separate into rings. Dip in a thin fritter batter or first in undiluted evaporated milk, then in seasoned flour, so that each ring is completely coated.

Drop the onion rings, a few at a time, into shortening or oil about 3 inches deep in a deep-fat frying kettle or deep skillet, and heated to 375 degrees F. Fry until golden-brown. Lift out with a two-tined fork; drain on paper toweling. Sprinkle with salt. Serve very hot. These fried onion rings may be kept hot by placing in a 325 degree F. (moderately-slow) oven until all onion rings are cooked.

P. B. Dinner delayed? Scoop out the centers of the baked "Idaho", prepare as for mashed potatoes, using the sour cream mixed with a beaten egg and desired seasonings. Instead of the usual hot milk and butter. Return to the potato shells. Heat in moderate oven when ready to serve. Or make these stuffed potatoes in the morning, refrigerate until serving time, then heat.

An Gratin Stuffed Potatoes
6 potatoes
1 pound grated (sharp) American Cheese
Scrub and dry potatoes. With an apple corer, remove cylinder from center of each potato.
Fill each with tiny pieces of the potato you removed. Wrap in heavy foil and bake in (350°F) oven for about 50 minutes or until potato is very tender. (According to size).

Baked Potatoes with Creamed Chipped Beef
3 large Idaho Potatoes
1 pound chipped Beef
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
Wash potatoes and brush surfaces with oil. Bake in hot oven (450°F) about 1 hour or until tender.
Shred beef and sauté in fat about 5 minutes. Add flour and pepper and blend well. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly and cook until thickened. Cut potatoes in half when done, lengthwise.

50 YEARS THAT CHANGED VIRGINIA

So what if the lights went out in 1909?

Virginia saw its first electric lights on the streets of Richmond in 1881. Yet, a generation later, when VEPCO was born, the new light had moved into very few homes. And even fewer used the new power for any other job but lighting.

So a power interruption wasn't serious. If a tree branch fell on the power line, a few lights went out. And that was that.

But today when a falling branch hits the line, it hits everybody. And in just about every activity of life.

That's why VEPCO now pays over a million dollars a year to tree expert companies to fight this Number 1 cause of power interruptions. Their men are masters at spotting dangerous branches. Masters, too, at trimming away the threat while preserving tree beauty.

When these experts come to your community, we hope you'll give them your help. If they ask permission to trim a tree on your property, please let them. Their careful work costs you nothing. And it may save your home and your community from a paralyzing power stoppage one of these windy nights.

Do Athletes Miss Out On Education?

A "concerned" father says: "We have gone overboard for sports to the extent that our educational programs are suffering. Sports at the high school and college level should either be drastically reduced or eliminated altogether."

We think Dad is a bit over-zealous, or he wouldn't suggest taking off an arm just to get rid of an infected finger.

While it cannot be denied that in many instances, at both high school and university level, sports are over-emphasized—it is not necessary that the school's educational program suffer or be eliminated. One of the major colleges football powers was in a lull this year without the services of a star-line star who fell victim to a concussion.

It seems to be a good idea to limit high school and college sports. It seems to be that too much emphasis is placed on "winning." With few exceptions, a high school sportsman has no educational background. But, the sportsman of a particular school has to do with his learning ability. What really counts is his ability to produce winning athletes.

Participation in sports builds character, determination and the ability to "take it" as well as "high in it." Learning to lose and losing gracefully are two of the most important lessons in sports, but not so in daily life. It is possible as these three sports a lesson that will be extremely beneficial to the sportsman and to the nation.

Even though it would seem to be a good idea to limit high school and college sports, it is not necessary that the school's educational program suffer or be eliminated. FORT STORY TELLINGS

PORT STORY HOLDS HOUSING SURVEY

Local-business men, builders and realtors joined at Fort Story Thursday, January 9 to discuss and observe this post's housing problem.

In a speech delivered by Col. George E. Woods, Jr., post commander, the men were told, "At the present time Fort Story is not a permanent type installation... and its future is in the balance."

Col. Woods said that there was no notice that Fort Story would close or "go on a caretaker basis of 40 to 50 men" but the possibility was not remote.

"We feel," he said, "that one of the most important considerations (concerning its permanence) is going to be how much permanent construction has been done at Fort Story."

Explaining the need for Fort Story to exist, Col. Woods pointed out the need for amphibious training in the Transportation Corps and the excellent situation of the Cape Henry area for such training.

He also pointed out that approximately $7,000,000 dollars is spent by Fort Story in the construction of local purchases and contracts with civilian firms. If Fort Story closed, most of that "would be lost to the area."

To further show the need for adequate housing, the men were taken on a tour of the post living quarters including temporary housing which must come down before July 1960 and the new permanent, Capehart housing which the post desires to increase to the tune of 178 more units, which would still not fill the complete housing needs, still forcing some families to live off the post.

Finishing his talk, Col. Woods confessed that "if the community genuinely wants and supports the installation, there is little danger that it will be closed except for very urgent military reasons. And, gentlemen, I am quite frank in asking for your support in this request which we are making for additional Capehart housing."

A lengthy discussion of the pros and cons of Story's proposal was held following the tour of housing facilities. Col. Woods referred to that conference as a "very friendly meeting in which non-committal views were expressed."

Welcoming the group to Fort Story and thanking them for attending was Maj. Gen. Norman H. Vlesinger, Commanding General of the Transportation Training Command.

PORT STORY BATTALION PARTICIPATES IN PARADE

Members of the 14th Transportation Battalion here, led by Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. John C. Albord, took part in a reunion parade at Fort Eustis Friday, January 9.

Also present at the parade from Story was Col. George E. Woods, Jr., post commander, who acted as Commander of Troops for the entire contingent, which consisted of representatives from all major subordinate commands of the Transportation Training Command.

Col. Arthur L. Baker, Deputy Post Commander, acted as Regimental Commander for the Fort Story staff and troops.

TWO MAJORS RECEIVE RECEPTION

Fort Story's Tenth Battalion held a reception for two of its Majors, one coming into an old year. Entering the Battalion as Executive is Maj. Richard S. Gellensberger, former engineer officer who has transferred to transportation and has just finished a transportation course at Fort Eustis. He is the father of five children and returned from a tour in Europe prior to his Transportation Corps training.

Leaving the Tenth Battalion to become Story's Assistant staff officer.

A MULE DEFINED

Being told to write an essay on the mule, a small boy turned in to his teacher the following effort: "The mule is a harder bird than the guse or turkie. It has two legs to work with, two more to kick with, and wears its wings on the sides of its head. It is stubbornly backward about coming forward."

AFTER THOUGHTS OF SWINE SCHOOL

The first annual Princess Anne, Norfolk Swine School held last Friday at Great Bridge was highly successful with 78 persons attending. These included farmers, feed representatives, and other professional agricultural workers. So much worthwhile information was presented that I'd like to give you an opportunity to get the same information. With this thought in mind I took a few notes.

Management
Mr. Rolo Godsey, swine specialist from VPI pointed out that due to a 15% increase in the number of pigs expected to farrow in the U.S. and a 1% increase in Virginia, we can probably expect low prices for the latter part of 1959.

Mr. Godsey says that to be a successful hog producer, a farmer must carry out A.I.D. of the good practices and NONE of the bad ones. Farmers should have good type breeding stock. Boars and gilts selected to go in the breeding herd should have wide, deep pump hams, strong arch, good length, and standing on plenty of bone. Stay away from sows that are short and sloppy, warty around the jaw and through the middle.

Select sows for prolificacy, good milking ability, and femininity. A sow has to produce in order to pay her way.

Feeding of market hogs is one of the most important jobs in the swine industry. Two methods are being used in Virginia now. Raising hogs on good lush ladino clover is still a very good practice. Where farmers do not have this available they are going to confinement feeding (pig parlors).

Farmers must do a good job of parasite control. For worming, Mr. Godsey recommends Piperazine for the control of lice and mange he says that BHC or lindane is good. Also burned motor oil will do the job.

Don't wait for disease to hit your farm before vaccinating. He suggests that you always vaccinate for cholera and for other diseases that may be prevalent on your particular farm.

Market your hogs orderly. Sell at the most efficient time, 200 to 220. As for selling by the grade, it is wise to sell where you can get the top-dollar. However, most meat packers are paying a premium for No. 1 hogs over the market price.

Nutrition
Dr. C. C. Brooks, Professor of Animal Husbandry at VPI, says that corn is the KING of hog feeds. However, it must be supplemented with protein, vitamins, and minerals. It is also wise to supplement rations with an antibiotic.

Dr. Brooks stated that pasture will provide most of the elements that corn lacks, however, if hogs are fed in parlors the job becomes increasingly difficult.

In presenting the discussion Dr. Brooks discussed the feeding of swine of different age groups.

Blood Now at Breeding Time
You can increase litter size by 1 to 2 pigs by feeding sows on a high level two weeks before breeding. This should then be cut down after breeding to prevent her from getting too fat.

Feeding Pregnant Sows
Hand feed 1.5 to 2% her weight daily of a 15% feed if in dry lot. On pasture this can be cut down. If you desire to self-feed your sows, add to the ration one-third corn cobs, one-fourth peanut hulls, or one half ground hay. Dr. Brooks also stated that corn silage was coming into its own as a sow feed.

Feeding Lactating Sows
Twenty-four hours before farrowing cut feed off completely, then take 10 days to get her back up to normal or to full-feed. This should be a 15% balanced ration. Also feed 15% legume hay in ration.

Feeding Suckling Pigs
Provide at 1 week old a pre-starter. This should be bought rather than home mix. Later you can feed a starter feed. At this time it may be necessary to give your pig an injection of iron. Also good clean dirt will tend to decrease baby pig anemia.

Feeding Pigs After Weaning
Pigs weighing from 50 to 75 pounds need a 16% feed. This percentage can be made by mixing together 75 pounds corn and 25 pounds supplement. Pigs weighing from 75 to 125 pounds need a 14% ration. Mix 80 pounds corn with 20 pounds supplement. Pigs weighing from 125 pounds and over need a 12% ration. Mix 85 pounds corn and 15 pounds supplement. Dr. Brooks further stated that soybean oil meal is the most dependable protein supplement.

Housing
Mr. Don Kite, Extension Agricultural Engineer discussed housing for swine. He stated that the most ideal temperature for swine was from 60 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit. This temperature gives maximum feed efficiency and gains. Mr. Kite pointed out various types of arrangements for farrowing and also feeding facilities. I have plans in my office for both the farrowing house and the pig parlor.

Tour
After a very fine box lunch with milk products from the Hickey Farm, the group toured Ballentine Farm at Hickory and Bayville Farms commercial operation at Hickory.

CASTRATE AND DOCK SHEEP NOW

Last year we started a campaign on castrating and docking lambs. We had tremendous success. About 500 were docked and almost 150 were castrated. We would like to see 100 percent. W. H. Y. Because, castrated ram lambs bring you more money. Docking lambs keeps them cleaner, they present a neater appearance, thus, encouraging buyers to pay higher prices.

In 1958 I demonstrated docking and castrating many times. I am very anxious to show anyone how to do this job.

Lambs are being dropped very rapidly now. The best time is 3 days to 2 weeks old for the knife and the day they are born for the rubber band.

Don't throw away dollars, make your sheep pay more.

AGRONOMY SCHOOL, JANUARY 28

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to announce the 1959 Agronomy School, and to extend to you my personal invitation for you to attend.

I believe that it is imperative that all of us keep abreast with the latest developments in varieties and fertilization. With this in mind, the school was planned, and I believe it to be an excellent one. I invite your attention to the program outlined below:

- 10 - 10:10 - Introduction, Mr. J. W. Rogers, District Agent.
- 10:10 - 10:50 - Fertilization of Corn, Soybeans, and Peanuts, Mr. M. P. Lacy, Asso. Ext. Agron.
- 10:50 - 11 - Recess
- 11 - 11:40 - Fertilization of Pasture and Hay (Including Alfalfa), Dr. Roy Blazer, VPI Experiment Station.
- 11:40 - 12:20 - Corn, Soybeans, and Small Grain Varieties, Mr. W. W. Lewis, Ext. Agronomist.
- 12:20 - 1:20 - Lunch (Box)
- 1:20 - 2 - Fertilizer and Insecticide Mixtures, Dr. J. M. Grayson, VPI Experiment Station.
- 2 - 2:40 - Fertilization of Vegetable Crops, Dr. Mapp Dunton, Va. Truck Station.
- 2:40 - 3:10 - Panel—Problems of Fertilizer Industry, Mr. E. V. Floyd Plant Food Institute. Also three men selected by Mr. Floyd.
- 3:10 - Adjourn.

Put this school on your calendar of important events to attend.

FARMERS INCOME TAX DUE FEBRUARY 15

If you have earned at least two-thirds of your gross income from farming in 1958 than you must file a return and pay your tax on or before February 15, 1959.

I have available in my office a "Farmer's Tax Guide" that is free for the asking. You may have your copy by calling the office, by mail request, or by visiting the office.

This publication is written in plain language and explains most of the income tax rules which apply to farmers and those who have tax questions about farming. It should be of assistance to you when you

FARM BUREAU PROVIDES TAX RETURN SERVICE

The Princess Anne County Farm Bureau is providing Income Tax Return Assistance to county farmers. If you need assistance you may call Princess Anne 2525 or drop by the County Farm Bureau Office at Princess Anne.

KEEP ACCURATE RECORDS IN 1959

In my opinion one of the worse things you can do is not to keep accurate records of your farming operation. No longer is the barn door or calendar the proper place to keep records.

I have in my office a "Farm Record Book" prepared by VPI that is excellent. It follows the same outline as your income tax form, therefore, it is very easy to transfer your record into your income tax form.

This record book is available free upon request.

YOUNG FARMER OF THE YEAR

The Princess Anne Junior Chamber of Commerce announces it's second annual outstanding young farmer awards program.

The purpose of this program is to select the outstanding young farmer between the ages of 21 and 35 who will represent his community in the state-wide selections to be made at the work conference of the Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce at Danville in February, 1959.

The local winner will be awarded a plaque as well as the first three winners on the state level, indicated as first, second, or third place award. In addition to this the first place winner of the state will be given an all-expense paid trip to the National Awards Program at Cedar Rapids, Iowa in April.

Qualifications: (1) Between the ages of 21 and 35; not becoming 36 anytime during 1958. (2) He need not be a Jaycee. (3) An actual farm operator deriving at least two-thirds of his total income from farming; any type of farming acceptable.

Anyone desiring to nominate a candidate may secure the necessary forms from my office or by sending name, address and telephone number and also the name, address, telephone number and general background of nominee to W. R. Menden - Post Office Box 474, Norfolk, Va.

RINGS FOR SUPPER . . . Not really, 'cause seals don't sing, but Timothy Short, 4, does get a 'ring' out of his flippers friend at feeding time.

Mrs. Robert Sofield Heads First Annual Polio Ball Here

Mrs. Robert Sofield (Phyllis), housewife and mother of four children, is an active club worker. As chairman of the first "Polio Foundation Ball" (which will become an annual event) she is devoting much of her time and energy these days to the March of Dimes, her favorite charity, and with good reason. She was a victim of the dreaded disease in November, 1956.

Phyllis was confined to the hospital with paralytic polio for three months, not knowing if she would ever walk again. Of prime concern to her was the financial burden placed on her family as a result of her illness. Mrs. J. W. (Dot) Cassidy of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Chapter of the Polio Foundation visited her and advised that the Foundation would pay all her expenses and that Phyllis was to concentrate on getting well. Phyllis did get well—it took months followed by weeks of treatment and she still has to make office visits which the Polio Foundation continues to pay for. Phyllis considers herself a very fortunate woman in that she has fully recovered. She now lives a normal, active life with her husband, Bob, and the children. Although her home life is a busy one, Mrs. Robert Sofield will always find time to encourage polio victims and work for the charity closest to her heart.

Entries must be post marked by midnight January 19, 1959.

An award of $50.00 will be made to the first person nominating the successful candidate - in case of duplicate nominations, the one bearing the earliest postmark will be the winner.

The judging will be done by five persons selected from professional, agricultural, and business with one from the Princess Anne Jaycees. Names of all judges will be announced at a later date.

Kontopanos To Be Presented Americanism Medal by DAR

Mr. James G. Kontopanos of Virginia Beach will be awarded an Americanism Medal by the Princess Anne County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday, January 29 at 8:15 p.m. at the Convention Center. The address of welcome will be given by Mr. Russell Hatchett.

The medal will be presented by Mrs. D. Murray Mahon, chapter chairman of Americanism.

The occasional address will be delivered by the Rev. Charles O. Kidd, pastor of Virginia Beach Methodist Church. He will be presented by Mrs. R. B. Tyne, past Regent of the Princess Anne County Chapter D.A.R.

Special music for the occasion will be presented by Mrs. Donald Hood and Mrs. E. Murray Mahon. A reception will follow the award.

Qualifications necessary to receive the award are trustworthiness, service, leadership and patriotism. A native of Karpenisi, Greece he came to this country in 1914 and settled in Norfolk.

For three and one-half years he worked for his cousin at the Norfolk Restaurant. In 1917 he and two friends opened a restaurant of their own.

Mr. Kontopanos became a naturalized citizen in 1927.

He came to Virginia Beach in 1935 and has been in the restaurant business here ever since.

Mr. Kontopanos is married to the former Myrtle Lewis of Greensboro, N.C. and they have two daughters and five grandchildren.

James G. Kontopanos

In 1950 the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Virginia Beach inaugurated their First Citizen award. Mr. Kontopanos was selected as Virginia Beach's first First Citizen. He was recognized for distinguished and continued service in promoting the civic and charitable phases of life in the community and especially for his untiring efforts in Red Cross, Community Fund and Boy Scouts. He has served as treasurer of the Red Cross; president of the Virginia Beach Rotary Club 1950-51; president of the Virginia Restaurant Association 1952; is a member of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce and is now serving as its treasurer.

As a member of the Rotary Club, Mr. Kontopanos has given many hours of time and a great deal of money helping crippled children. Each summer, when the children from the hospital in Richmond, come to the beach for their "Rotary Vacation," Mr. Kontopanos entertains them in his home and feeds them at his restaurant.

In 1954 he was presented the "Sidney J. Wetmore" award for recognition of his constructive efforts and accomplishments in the advancement of the movement.

Many other services are needed for this worthy cause and it is hoped that a large number of volunteers will answer the call.

6 Supervisors Seeking Re-election To County Board; Issue Statement

The six incumbent members of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday announced their candidacies for re-election subject to the July Democratic primary.

S. Paul Brown, chairman, Seaboard District; Carroll G. Clough, Bayside; James G. Darden, Lynnhaven; Swindell Pollock, Kempsville; James E. Snyder, Blackwater, and Kenneth W. Whitehurst, Pungo, issued the following joint statement:

"As incumbent members of the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, we wish to announce our candidacies for re-election, in our respective magisterial districts, subject to the July primary.

"We, as members of the governing body of the county, have worked and will continue to work with the other officials of the county and we have with their cooperation and assistance continuously striven to conduct the affairs of our people impartially, efficiently and economically.

"We are indeed grateful to the many citizens and delegations that have appeared before us, from time to time, in offering their assistance and guidance in the solving of the continued and varied problems that arise in a fast growing community such as Princess Anne. It shall be our purpose and desire to continue to welcome such guidance and assistance in meeting problems that may arise in the future, to the end that the governmental affairs be always conducted for the best interests of the people of Princess Anne."

Beach Doctor Breaks Arm In Struggle With Robber

Dr. W. L. Taylor of the Virginia Beach Hospital sustained a broken left arm late last Thursday in a tussle outside the hospital with a young white man who tried to rob him.

Dr. Taylor, a co-owner and one of the founders of the hospital, was hurt when he fell from his parked car in the struggle. The hold-up man escaped on foot.

"I didn't just feel like submitting to a hold-up with no resistance," Dr. Taylor said.

Dr. Taylor left the hospital shortly before 9 p.m. and got into his car, which was parked near the emergency room door. As he got under the wheel the hold-up man came into the car and tried to force him to get out.

In the struggle which followed, both men fell out of the door on the passenger side. Dr. Taylor's arm was broken in the fall. The hold-up man got nothing.

Home Federal Assets Increase $2,226,655

A continued increase in new savings and further expansion of its lending activities is envisioned by J. R. Sears, president of Home Federal Savings and Loan Association.

At a meeting Wednesday, Sears said assets of Home Federal increased by $2,226,655 during 1958. Assets on December 31 totaled $41,397,349.

The number of new savings accounts opened during the year totaled 2,583. Total savings increased by $1,851,067. Savings at Home Federal reached a new high on December 31, totaling $38,233,154. Home Federal now serves approximately 16,000 savers. Dividends distributed to these savers amounted to $1,000,000 in 1958.

Reserves in the Association have increased to $3,115,013.

Sears in his annual report promised "Constant efforts will be made toward expanding present service, and providing additional services to further enhance our value to the community. We anticipate a substantial increase in both savings and home loan activity in 1959."

All of the directors including Sears, H. G. Ashburn, William H. Darden, J. E. White Jr., Guy R. Best, J. R. Sears Jr., and L. D. Tuttle were re-elected.

At the organizational meeting following the annual meeting the following officers were re-elected: J. R. Sears, president; Guy R. Best, vice president; Secretary: John R. Sears Jr., vice president; Treasurer: Edward J. Edgar, assistant vice president; M. V. Borrowdale, assistant secretary-treasurer; L. Manning Burcher, assistant secretary-treasurer; J. Henry Latchum, assistant secretary and William D. Beard, assistant secretary.

Little Theatre Preparing for "Harvey" Show

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre is rehearsing for its second play of the season, "Harvey," without a leading performer. The part of Harvey, the short, white rabbit who has been cast, is being carried by a group of actors who own a rabbit fitting this description please send him to the theatre to try out for the part.

Meanwhile an excellent cast is preparing the delightful comedy for presentation at the Virginia Beach High School on February 3 and 4. Heading a large group are Wade Williams and Anne Pennington in the leading roles; ably supported by Ann McManis, Maria Hunter, Carol Lusk, Dolores East, George Webb, Jim Dunn, Charles Fuller, Frank Ferrigno, and Mike Hennegan.

Mrs. Ruth Massey is directing the play, and the staging and sets are designed by Neil Thomas and Bill Britton.

Appreciation Dinner Tonight At P.A. in School

NAS OCEANA—The Chairman of the Seaboard District Activities Committee, of the Boy Scouts of America, Doctor Horn, has announced that more than 150 people, who are interested in Scouting in this area, are expected to attend the Scout Appreciation Dinner to be held tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the Princess Anne High School Cafeteria.

The primary purpose of this dinner is to get together all the adults who are interested in Scouting in the local area and in view of the recent annexation to say farewell to those units that will be leaving the Seaboard District of the Boy Scouts of America. This dinner will also be used to announce plans for a gigantic Scout-arama to be held at the Virginia Beach Convention Center on Saturday, February 21, 1959.

Dr. Horn stated that this Scout-arama is expected to be the largest exhibition of Boy Scout crafts, hobbies, and skills that this area has ever seen. Among the added attractions, which will be announced at the dinner will be Doctor Tabor, the Navy's famous Space Man, who was recently given a Commendation for his space research by the Secretary of the Navy. Dr. Tabor will give a demonstration of Space equipment throughout the day.

Parents Must Wake Up - Babe Ruth Baseball League Here May Disband; Meet Set

The future of Virginia Beach Babe Ruth League baseball apparently lies in the hands of the youngsters who benefit from this wholesome summertime program. And, at this point the league may have to disband for lack of interest on the part of parents.

The latest meeting to decide whether to continue to field Babe Ruth teams have brought out a total of five adults, who are keenly interested in carrying on this fine program.

As a result another meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, February 4, in the Bank of Virginia Beach and it is expected at that time that the future course of the league will be determined.

In the past parents of the boys have failed to demonstrate interest in plans for the Babe League. League officials are anxious to get the opinion of a cross-section of parents but have been unable to do so with such meager attendance at the meetings.

Last year the Babe League fielded four complete teams made up of 15 boys each. The youngsters range in age from 13 through 15.

The February 4 meeting will definitely be the last such meeting unless a good percentage of parents are on hand. Parents must wake up to keep Babe Ruth baseball in Virginia Beach.

Supervisors Asking Army to Dredge Lynnhaven Channel

The Princess Anne Board of Supervisors voted Monday to ask the Corps of Engineers to do "emergency" dredging at Lynnhaven Inlet.

On a motion by Supervisor James G. Darden of Lynnhaven District, the board unanimously adopted a resolution stating that sand deposits already have damaged the Lynnhaven oyster beds. Unless dredging is started soon, it will become impossible for fishing boats to enter and leave Lynnhaven Inlet, according to Darden.

"There is only 18 inches of water at low tide," he said.

The channel leading from the Lynnhaven Bridge to open water outside the inlet has been filling steadily since the high-level bridge replaced the old Leaner span last summer.

In other actions, the board agreed to study a proposed plan to enlarge the Princess Anne Jail.

Sheriff John E. Marr said the proposed plan calls for the addition of a wing accommodating 24 additional prisoners.

He pointed out that the proposed jail alterations would provide needed facilities for segregation of juveniles from adult prisoners.

At present the jail has a capacity of 54 prisoners, but has only three sections where prisoners may be segregated by sex and age.

The jail at Princess Anne also serves Virginia Beach. Virginia Beach pays approximately $125 per prisoner per day plus an adjustment at the end of each year.

A delegation from the Davis Corner Volunteer Fire Department appeared before the board to request assistance in the form of a county loan for the purchase of a new ambulance. The board took the request under advisement.

Several planning matters occupied the attention of the board at Monday's meeting.

The supervisors granted the application of the L. & G. Corporation for a use permit to operate a miniature golf course on the north side of Laskin road adjacent to and east of the Virginia Beach Drive-In Theater.

A request by Marie G. Morrison for rezoning from residence duplex and general commercial to general industrial, of property fronting 709 feet along the west side of Highway 615, south of the Oceana ball park, was granted. Permission was granted to operate a bulk storage plant on part of the property.

The board also approved applications for the operation of three new sewage treatment plants in the county.

Approval was given for a sewage treatment plant on property along the southern side of Wolf-stone Creek, some 1,200 feet east of Great Neck road and 1,925 feet north of Virginia Beach boulevard. The plant, to be operated by the Tidewater Utility Co., will serve the area between Mill Dam road, Great Neck road and Laskin road.

The application of the Pyramid Realty Development Co. for a sewage treatment plant on property south of the Norfolk Southern Railroad, east of Kempsville road was granted.

The plant will serve a steel fabricating company which is currently building a fabricating plant in that area.

The application of Princess Anne Mobile Homes for a change of zoning from residence duplex to general industrial of a parcel of land along Holland Swamp road, and an application to operate a trailer park and a sewage treatment plant thereon, was approved.

VSES Office Here Changing Status Feb. 2

The status of the Virginia Beach office of the Virginia State Employment Service will change effective February 2 to a full-fledged employment service office reporting directly to Richmond.

Until February 2 the local office will continue to be a sub-office of the Norfolk office of the service. This has been in effect since the local office was first opened here in 1937.

Tuesday, Paul L. Bryan, supervisor of the Norfolk office, and Harold H. Bender, chief interviewer here, met with Mayor Frank A. Dusch and Chamber of Commerce President Frank D. Tarrall Jr. Bryan outlined the new status of the Beach office to the city officials.

Bryan expressed deep appreciation to the city and its officials for the many courtesies shown the local office in the past and attributed the proposed status change to this fine relationship and the general growth of the area.

Bryan recalled that Howard A. Myers, now postmaster here, was the first staff interviewer when the office opened in the old Town Hall on 14th Street.

Bender has been in charge of the local office since May, 1958, the same year that the office opened in its present location at 400 Seventeenth at 2nd.

The local office will also serve much of the area west of Virginia Beach in the employment field. However, agriculture employment will still be handled by the Norfolk office, it was pointed out.

Beach to Host End of Month

Plans are now being made for the 26th Annual Convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of Virginia which will be held here on January 30-31.

According to E. A. Culverhouse, convention chairman, and J. T. Crosswhite Jr., state vice president, the entire convention will take place at the Cavalier Hotel. Culverhouse said that his committee, which includes Gids Dodd and Joe C. Hogan, is expecting a very good attendance.

The Young Democratic Club of Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County is host for this event and all members of the local club are urged to attend.

Dues for the local club are now payable and may be mailed to A. M. Randolph, Treasurer, Young Democratic Club, P. O. Box 109, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Darden Issues a Warning

Lynnhaven District Supervisor James G. Darden apprised his fellow supervisors Monday of the necessity that immediate dredging be done to keep Lynnhaven Inlet open for the fishing industry and so that boats may leave and enter from the inlet. The Board promptly passed a resolution calling on the Army Corps of Engineers to do "emergency" dredging at Lynnhaven Inlet.

Darden told his fellow Board members that at low tide there is only 18 inches of water at the Inlet. According to Darden action must be taken immediately to alleviate the situation.

It was pointed out that since the high-level bridge replaced the old Leaser Bridge at the Inlet the channel leading from the bridge to open water has been filling steadily. It was also noted that already the filling has damaged oyster beds in the area.

It is good that Supervisor Darden alerted the Board and it is hoped that the Army Corps of Engineers will expedite this work as it is vital to the economy of the area in many ways. At the same time the condition should not be allowed to reach the critical stage in the future, but should be periodically checked to see that the channel does not fill to the danger point.

Another Team Announces

Several days ago the five incumbent constitutional officers of Princess Anne County and those who serve the City of Virginia Beach announced their candidacies for re-election in the July 14th Democratic primary. This week the six incumbent members of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors issued a joint statement announcing that they would stand for re-election to the positions they now occupy on the county's governing body.

Incumbents for the Board of Supervisors are S. Paul Brown, chairman; Seaboard District; Carroll G. Clough, Bayside; James G. Darden, Lynnhaven; Swindell Pollock, Kempsville; James E. Snyder, Blackwater; and Kenneth W. Whitehurst, Pungo.

These six members have served efficiently and well and have worked together in the past for the best interests of the county. It is reassuring to see that they will seek re-election in the July primary. They have served the people well in their respective districts.

The National Outlook

INVENTORIES TURN UPWARD

By Ralph Kober

Since the start of the recession one of the great worries has been the behavior of business inventories. Finally, in November, the trend turned upward. The increase was not large, but at least the variation was on the upside for the first time since August 1957.

It is said that inventories are never too large until business turns down; by this is meant that there is no exact or constant ratio between sales and inventories which is always acceptable. In some lines there is a minimum below which inventories may not fall without hurting sales. A shoe store, for example, must have wide range of sizes and styles or it will not be able to compete successfully. These, however, are the exceptions and most business may operate with a wide range of inventories in relation to sales.

The total amount invested in inventories in 1958 was $10.3 billion, a recession the aggregate was $7.55 billion. From this it climbed until in 1957 the total was $9.1 billion. These are the figures for manufacturing and both wholesale and retail trade. From this high point the total started to decline month by month and in October, on a seasonally adjusted basis, the aggregate was $8.4 billion. In November the figure increased to $8.5 billion.

When inventories are declining it means that business is living off the shelf. In other words, new orders are not given and the volume of production is less. It is comparable to a family which lives off of its deep freeze. The food bills of such a family go down for as long as the process is continued. In time, of course, the deep freeze becomes empty, or empty enough to make new buying necessary and then the food bills again rise. In this recession the inventory situation was extraordinarily severe. In the first quarter of 1953 it was at an annual rate of over $6 billion. The first significant sign of leveling out was in the trade sector at the middle of this year. Wholesale inventories for example have remained constant since last May. Manufacturing inventories have held at the same figure, $4.93 billion, for September, October and November. Retail inventories showed an increase in November, and the rise was the result of a heavier stock of automobiles.

Because of this specific cause of the increase there is reason for optimism in concluding that the real turn in inventories has come. But this is not too important because the heavy liquidation and even if December does show another slight decline, it will be only a matter of a little time until we begin to get an increase in manufacturing inventories, and in retail trade. Even this limited upturn, therefore, is ample to justify confidence in the continuation of the current recovery.

This is especially true since sales are picking up at all levels. On a seasonally adjusted basis, sales at both retail and wholesale in November increased $100 million; in manufacturing the increase was $400 million—all in durable goods—which is noteworthy because this is the segment which has been hardest hit by the recession.

All of this adds further evidence in support of the widely held contention that we are not only on the way out of the recession, but to new over-all highs. Of course there are some problems, and there is also the question of how rapid the recovery will be from here on. We recently discussed these problems and emphasized that while they are serious, one of them, with the exception of the Congress going wild, is of a character to stop the upswing.

The speed of the recovery is less easy to be dogmatic about. It will be the long point of the upswing that is not too fast a pace. What we need is a broadly based improvement, with no excesses at any level—labor, management, or government.

Conquest and Containment

A 75 per cent increase in cases of measles in 1958, as reported by the National Office of Vital Statistics, once more points up the fact that when we speak of having "conquered" many of the age-old epidemic diseases, we might more accurately say we have "contained" them, according to a reminder from the Health News Institute.

The menace is still with us, says HNI. The fact that we no longer have infant and child mortality figures is due to the vigilance with which we exert public health measures, the wide use of vaccines, and the drugs which have come into spectacular supply in the last dozen years. The real miracle, perhaps, is that epidemics don't recur more frequently. For example, only 220 deaths were attributed to infantile paralysis in 1957. Yet 46,000,000 Americans within the recommended age group still have not had their polio shots. Meanwhile, the pharmaceutical manufacturers have undertaken the crash production program which brought polio vaccine into abundant supply are watching the life-saving vaccine deteriorate in their shelves. Why not be safe instead of sorry?

LONDON BRIDGE TROOP GOES OVERNIGHT CAMPING

Boy Scout Troop 65 of London Bridge, Va., spent the week of January 10 and 11 on an overnight camping trip on the property of Rubin Trant, on Great Neck road, in keeping with the Troop's policy of overnight camping once a month.

The boys were under the supervision of Fred B. Cooke, Scoutmaster, and Assistant Scoutmasters Malhot, Davis, Fisher and Reader. The boys making the trip were Michael Harris, Mike Fisher, Tommy Jenkins, Billy Jenkins,

Birdneck League Elects Officers

The Birdneck Point Community League held its annual meeting Tuesday night and the members warmly received the accomplishments of the past year.

In his report to the membership Retiring President Frank W. Cox outlined several projects completed during the year. Two of these were the work done to have the area made a bird and wildlife sanctuary on the corrective work done on the entrance to Birdneck Point. Also listed was the new entrance sign and lights. The president reported this project was aided greatly by Mr. Sidney Banks of the Cavalier Corporation.

New officers elected were Frank S. Davis, president; Pinckney S. Cook, vice-president; Capt. R. S. Crenshaw, secretary; James E. Snyder, treasurer; and Charles M. Lovitt, R. S. Rydell, M. W. Nordlinger and Cox, directors.

Three of Five Farm Families Save Trading Stamps

Three out of every five farm families save trading stamps, a pamphlet by The Sperry and Hutchinson Company revealed today. During 1957, farm families received 55 million dollars in merchandise from trading stamp companies.

"Every eight seconds a farm family redeems trading stamps for goods," the pamphlet stated. S&H noted that of its 540 redemption centers, 440 are serving farm areas.

The pamphlet also stated that trading stamps paid $47,100,000 into the pockets of farm families last year.

"Wage earners who depend on trading stamps for a living paid farmers $27,300,000 for food," the booklet noted. "Manufacturers paid farmers $9,800,000 for goods used to make merchandise for stamp companies."

The figures were developed by S&H's research department. Daniel Heppert, Larry McCleary, Paul Davis, Leon Tew, David Paden, Billy Bonner, Clarence Ellis, James Duncan, Dwight Yoder, Phillip Snow, Dennis Malhot, Richard Kelton, Douglas Ackerman, Gene Newman and Junior Askester, Scoutmaster Gene Snow. The camp site was covered with snow, and Sunday morning the temperature was well below freezing. With all liquids frozen, it gave the boys an interesting lesson in how to make coffee from ice. In spite of this, the boys enjoyed it and fared better than the leaders. The camp was run and judged by Davis. "I feel a lot better when I stop shaking but I can't stop shaking."

NOTES FROM OCEANA

By Mrs. ROLLIN F. KERNS 107 Garden Drive PHONE MA 2-4447, 6 P.M.

OCEANA RECREATION

LET'S LIGHT A CANDLE

All basketball and baseball information has been gathered with the help of Mr. Jim Lall, who is the Recreation Director of Prince Anne County. Mr. Lall suggests that every citizen of Oceana go to the Oceana Recreation Committee meetings which are held at the Oceana Fire Dept. For further information call Mr. Elmer Meeks at GA 8-4714.

Mr. Lall was very enthused over the creation of an "Oceana Column" as it will be of help to Oceana's young people by informing them of social and recreational activities.

Mr. Lall requested that I mention a well known need in Oceana. That of a fenced-in playground for children in the primary grades (ages 6 through 12). This is a need that every man who is interested in Oceana's welfare, is aware of. The need to keep the children off the streets and to keep their little minds occupied, and their bodies physically fit year around. There are various dances, clubs, etc., for the 8th grade and above, but as everyone knows, these are not the formative years.

It would be a wonderful tribute to the community and the children of Oceana to have a fenced-in playground. Naturally, playgrounds do not grow on trees. They grow through organization, hard work, and contributions. So let's organize.

Anyone interested in this betterment of Oceana and the building of character, call Mr. Meeks.

Every good thing must have a beginning through leadership. Idleness is the root of trouble.

So remember, "It takes just one little candle."

BASKETBALL

The following activities will take place at the Oceana Grammar School gym on the date listed. You are welcome to attend. Bring the whole family to a whole evening of FREE entertainment.

Oceana County League (Adults)

Thursday, Jan. 22, 7:45 p.m.—Colonial Chevrolet vs. Holmes Convalescent Home.

9 p.m.—Paddock's Restaurant vs. Oceana Drug.

Friday, Jan. 23, 8 p.m.—Diamond Springs Tigers vs. Kempeville Aces.

10:30 p.m.—Virginia Beach Knights vs. Oceana Chiefs.

Midweek (Girls 16-17)

Last Week's Scores

Oceana 23-34 Hilltop Bombers 14

Va. Beach Lions 38-Rambler 14

Kempeville Rurikans 34-Diamond Springs Royals 20.

BASEBALL

Being Organized

Mr. Charles Spencer, president of the Oceana Baseball League in the Oceana area, needs volunteers to assist him in the organization of this league. He is now in the process of holding organizational meetings, which will be announced in this column.

The Oceana Baseball League is a nationally affiliated league and will be of great joy to the youth of Oceana.

How about some help. We have to train these future baseball stars, you know.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. Henry K. Arganbright of 83 Lyle St., Oceana, started to work at the N.A.S. Oceana, bowling alley, Northside, Mrs. Arganbright will take care of refreshments at the concession stand, which is open from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m., or until all bowlers have left the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hardin are settled in their new home at 114 Thomas Lane, Hill Top Manor.

They arrived here a week ago from Atlanta, Ga., where Mr. Hardin was office manager of the Norris Candy Co. He has been promoted to District Sales Manager for the company in North Carolina and Virginia.

Mrs. Hardin is the former Miss Dee Duke of New York City.

They have two children, Robert Jr., aged eight, and Dabne, six.

The Oceana Curb Market in Oceana on Virginia Beach Blvd. has expanded, and everyone is happy with the new arrangement.

This popular little store, which seems to do anything but grow. The store carries not only goods of all kinds, but lots of friendlyness too.

The Texaco Service Station in Oceana is under new management.

"Kelly" is his name. And he's as delightful an Irishman as you've ever met.

There's a cute little doggie in the window at the Pet Shop across from the Post Office in Oceana.

Mrs. Ayldett can do two things at once. She beautifully and baby sit with her lovely red-headed grandchild. The baby sleeps so soundly.

ACEY DUCY CLUB

FEATURES THE "STATEMENT"

The Statesmen entertained at the ACEY DUCY Club Saturday night. This professional little band originated five years ago and is led by Mr. Bob McKown. They feature cocktail music which has a little bit of everything, especially good taste and rhythm. Mr. McKown can be reached by calling UPPY 7-0037.

Mrs. McKown, the former Miss Mary Lee Woodward of Staunton, enjoyed an evening out, worrying about their only child, Mary Elsie, who is eight months old.

Mr. McKown is a native of Norfolk.

The ACEY DUCY Club has moved into its new building across the street from the old location, and has been remodeled and beautifully decorated.

The management is proud to say that the club is completely paid for, through the profits of the old club, and the efforts of service men in the pay grades E-3 and E-4. Admission is granted only to card carrying members and their guests. Membership is extended only to servicemen in the pay grades E-3 and E-4.

The club manager is Ray Hunt, BM-1. His assistant is D. S. Anderson, AD-2.

The club features a dance band every Saturday, bingo each Monday at 8 p.m., and happy hours on Wednesday nights from 8:10 p.m. to 11 p.m.

It is hoped that there will soon be transportation from the South side of the base to the North side for the enlisted men who do not have a way to and from their club.

The club will celebrate its second birthday on March 22 this year.

It is also the first ACEY DUCY Club authorized by the U.S. Navy.

Paul Carver, AT-1, was the first manager, and it was largely through his efforts that the ACEY DUCY Club came to be. Carver is now stationed on the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal.

The hat check girl is Miss Page Goodwin.

Servicemen interested in club membership and who are in pay grades E-3 or E-4, call GA 8-2222.

MRS. JOHN ANDERSON WINS GARDEN CLUB TRAY

The December meeting of the Garden Club of Birdneck Point was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Deen with Mrs. Gordon Potter as co-hostess.

Mrs. John Anderson was presented with a silver tray for the club's most outstanding woman for the year of 1958.

Plans are being made for work to be done in the triangle at Birdneck, the club's project for the year.

PERSONALITIES

By ELLEN L. KERNS

We salute Mr. Powell. It was because of my usual hunt for something or another that I happened to go into Powell's Confectionery on the corner of Court House Rd. and Virginia Beach Blvd. two years.

I gazed when I entered that hot summer day, at the clean freshness of the place, and I loved its home town appearance.

The stools at the fountain were filled and there was standing room only. It wasn't difficult to see why—the whole place was spotless and as cheerful as cheerfulness itself. There was no loud or harsh talk. Everyone was pleasant and at peace with the world.

Then my eye noticed a lemon pie on the counter. Naturally I had to have a piece of it. Ummm, it tasted just like Mother's.

I was pleased with the neatness of the fountain, the clean girls, the perfectly arranged magazine racks. —Just like the Navy, I mused, a place for everything and everything in its place.

Sometime happened while I was there that I will always remember. To come it may not seem to be much, but to me it was the sign of a good man.

A quiet man behind the counter looked up towards the door and softly said "That man just picked up a newspaper and walked out without paying for it." I was all for catching the culprit and asked everyone in Oceana had known him. His softly replied to my inquiry, "If he wants a paper that bad, he can have it."

This quiet man with the soft voice and gentle smile was Mr. Powell, who that lemon pie "just like Mother's" was baked by his lovely wife, Mrs. Powell. And as I sat there on that hot summer day, I knew that I had eaten a good piece of it. Baked by the wife of a good man.

I also knew why the stools were filled, and why there was standing room only. It was all so simple. Everyone in Oceana had known him. Here was a peaceful, honest man, a good man.

Mr. Powell, we salute you!

JOHN'S CLUB MEETING

SLATED TODAY AT 8:30 P.M.

The Johns Club held its last meeting Dec. 18th at the Paramount Restaurant.

The object of this meeting was to raise money to donate $10 to the Johns Club.

The next meeting will be a luncheon at the Paramount Restaurant at 12:30 p.m. Anyone who is interested may make reservations by calling Mrs. R. D. Smyer, GA 8-2222 or Mrs. W. D. Smyer, GA 8-2222.

The Johns Club, which was formerly the Newcomers Club, is an unaffiliated social organization to enable the women of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County to participate in such activities as bowling, bridge, canasta and book club.

The club welcomes anyone who wishes to join.

More People, More Problems

The number of people on earth increased in 1958 by 800,000, according to the Population Reference Bureau, a growth exceeding the total population of all the New England states, plus those of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland. Furthermore, says the bureau, if the present birth rate persists, by 1960 the world population will be more than four billion, an overwhelming percentage of whom will be living in what are now known in the West as undeveloped countries.

The nutritional problem in this prospect is obvious. Less apparent, the Health News Institute points out, is the health problem. Millions of people will be hurried together under conditions which will be open invitations to epidemics and medical disaster.

In long-range anticipation of this population growth, a score or more of American pharmaceutical houses have in the past year announced plans to expand their overseas operations, on five continents building plants, hiring native personnel, with only American know-how in local charge.

And perhaps this is the really constructive kind of statecraft. In the long run, a drug which destroys malaria in India or kills yaws in Africa may prove to be a more decisive weapon in winning the Cold War than any intercontinental ballistic missile.

U.S. Drug Research Sets World Health Standards

New York — Scientific imagination and vast expenditures research money by the pharmaceutical industry have secured world leadership in health for the United States, it was stated here.

Expenditures for medical and drug research of the pharmaceutical and medical chemical industry reached an all-time high of $170,000,000 in 1958. It was revealed by the Health News Institute. The industry spent $127,000,000 in 1957.

The figures were disclosed by a survey conducted by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, with headquarters in Washington, which reported that in 1958 the ethical pharmaceutical industry poured back about seven per cent of its total sales into research and development. The industry supported medical schools, hospitals, etc., or financed medical research in them, to the extent of $20,560,000.

The ethical drug industry spends more than twice as much each year on medical research as philanthropic institutions, colleges and universities combined, and more than half as much as the federal government, the HNI reports. Industry in general in this country spends approximately two per cent of sales for research, as compared to the seven per cent spent by the pharmaceutical industry.

Such expanded research results in some 400 new pharmaceutical products being made available to the medical profession each year as weapons against infectious disease, to relieve suffering and for a longer and healthier life. For example, since 1900, the life expectancy at birth, in this country, has increased approximately 20 years, infant mortality has been more than cut in half, maternal mortality has decreased to the lowest rate in the world, and some infectious diseases have been wiped out completely.

Pointing out that the drug industry is keeping pace with the expanding population not only of the United States, but also the world, Shaw said, "The PNA survey reveals that the pharmaceutical industry has increased its research and development spending some 30 per cent over 1957 in the last year. Some $190,000,000 is budgeted for 1959, and it may well exceed that figure when final tabulations are made."

Artmobile to Visit Beach February 2 Through 6

The Artmobile, the Virginia Museum's famed gallery-on-wheels, will be on display at the Convention Center from February 2 to February 6, as announced by Mrs. H. B. Tyus, chairman of the Artmobile visit. Featuring an exhibit-tion, "Italian Paintings of the Renaissance," from the collection of the Virginia Museum, the Artmobile was given to the people of Virginia by Miller & Rhoads, and is sponsored on its state-wide tour by the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Roy M. Aycock, Fine Arts chairman of the Princess Anne Woman's Club, is in charge of plans for the Artmobile visit, to select a suitable location for its display, to schedule school visits, and to appoint hostesses to assist the driver-curator.

The Artmobile consists of a huge custom-built trailer truck outfitted as a mobile museum, whose interior dimensions are 31 feet long by 7 feet wide by 7 feet 10 inches high. To prepare for visitors, protective canopies are raised along its sides and back, staircases and an information booth unpacked and set up, and electrical connections made to operate its self-contained lighting, sound and air conditioning apparatus.

Devised and planned by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond, the Artmobile is the result of efforts by many civic-minded groups and individuals. In addition to Miller & Rhoads, major donors include four Virginia Museum trustees, and the Gulf Oil Company, which supplies free fuel and lubrication.

Forteen original paintings of the Italian Renaissance, covering periods from the 14th to the 18th centuries, and representing the schools of Siena, Florence and Venice, are exhibited in the Artmobile's interior. These works of art, along with the permanent collection of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

Fifteen visitors at a time can be accommodated in the Artmobile while a visit, including a record-explanatory talk, takes 15 minutes. Visiting hours during the Artmobile's visit to Virginia Beach will be:

School visits: Feb. 2-Feb. 6, 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.
General public, Feb. 2 through Feb. 6, 3:30-4:30 p.m., 7-9 p.m.

This is the third exhibition to be installed in the Artmobile. Formerly opened by Governor Battle at Fredericksburg in October, 1953, the Artmobile has, since that time, traveled to every corner of the Old Dominion, with enthusiastic response from school groups and the general public alike. A new exhibition is installed every three years, at which time the Artmobile repeats its travels throughout the Commonwealth.

Beach YWCA to Hold Teen Party

The YWCA of Virginia Beach will have a party for boys and girls in grades 7 through 12 Tuesday, Feb. 10 at 3:30 p.m. The party will be held at the Dunes Motor Hotel, 10th and Atlantic Ave. and the purpose is to introduce the Teen-Age program of the YWCA. Classes are offered in bowling, tennis, golf, charm, ball room dancing and arts and crafts. The term for the classes will be for six weeks, commencing Feb. 17, tuition is $2.00 per class.

Committee chairmen for the Teen-Age program are: General chairman, Mrs. Elmer Tarrall; instruction, Mrs. T. C. Berry; registration, Mrs. L. C. Brennan; membership, Mrs. M. G. Godsey; hospitalities, Mrs. W. T. Pinkham; publicity, Mrs. J. A. Fidel.

All teenagers of the area are urged to attend the party and register for the class or classes of their choice.

LONDON BRIDGE H.D. CLUB MEETING SET TODAY
A cordial welcome is extended to all women of the area when Mrs. J. C. Darden calls the first meeting of the year together for the London Bridge Home Demonstration Club. This club meets January 22 at 1 p.m. in the London Bridge Baptist Church.

The demonstration for the month will be "Choosing clothes from the standpoint of color" and will be given by Mrs. R. A. Schaeffer and Mrs. N. M. Evans.

RUMMAGE-SALE TO BE HELD BY FIRE AUXILIARY
The Ladies Auxiliary of the London Bridge Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a rummage and bake sale January 30, from 2 to 9 p.m. and January 31, from 12 to 9 p.m.

Salted Nut, Candy Sale Termed Most Successful

Announcement has been made by Henry J. Jaffe, Project Chairman for the Virginia Beach Kiwanis Club, that the annual Salted Nut and Candy Sale held at Christ Church was most successful this year. A total of over $10,000 worth of these products were sold by the club and the two Key Clubs at Princess Anne High School and Virginia Beach High School.

The Kiwanis Club wishes to express its appreciation to the various Girl Scout Troops who assisted in the sales, and the public to whom we are most grateful. The net proceeds of this endeavor will be used in connection with our year-round Crippled Children's program, and other charities throughout the area.

Whispering Pines Garden Club Holds Meeting

The January meeting of the Whispering Pines Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. S. W. Ferguson, 330 21st Street, on Thursday, January 15. The meeting was called to order by the club president, Mrs. Lewis E. Smith. Mrs. Garland Atwater gave the club prayer and creed.

A beautiful hand made walnut gavel was presented to the club by Mrs. Delmar J. Dee Sr., the club's "Guardian Angel." Mrs. M. K. Crockett Sr., guest speaker, spoke on planning gardens during the cold winter days, preparation of the garden soil, planting of seeds and cuttings, pruning of shrubbery and fertilization. After her talk, Mrs. Crockett examined damage horticulture specimens and told how and when to spray the shrubs.

The official motto for the club shall be "From a time and we watch God's own handiwork." The club voted to subscribe to the Tidewater Gardener magazine and the Old Dominion Horticulture pamphlet.

Mrs. Smith, president, welcomed four guests, Mrs. C. A. Glascock, Mrs. W. A. Scott, Mrs. L. E. Crockett, and Mrs. J. A. Horton. Members were urged to bring horticulture specimens and a triangle arrangement, using foliage to the February meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George A. Garvin, 2300 Cypress Avenue.

Aragona Club Announces Yule Doorway Winners

Aragona Garden Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. at Christ Presbyterian Church. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. C. S. Tate, Mrs. H. L. Sneed, Mrs. T. B. Snyder and Mrs. Dickerson.

Mrs. G. C. Tatum was to be the speaker but could not attend due to illness in the family. Mrs. W. G. Womble reported on the Christmas doorways awards and announced the winners. Mrs. C. S. Tate holds the highest point award of a blue ribbon. Other ribbon winners were Mrs. R. L. Seaver, blue; Mrs. H. L. Smith, blue; Mrs. H. K. Spires, red; Mrs. B. Wear, red; Mrs. L. N. Davis, yellow; Mrs. J. J. Finn, yellow; Mrs. M. McCarthy, yellow; and Mrs. H. L. Sneed, yellow.

Ways and Means committee reported a project of selling candy. It was voted unanimously that the club will do this project in the future.

Membership chairman, Mrs. H. Wear, introduced three new members. They are Mrs. L. E. Karaka, Mrs. H. E. Waters, and Mrs. C. A. Azevedo.

Parliamentarian, Mrs. D. E. Rogers reported on the Parliamentary Procedure course she is taking. She gave some helpful hints to the club.

Judges for the evening were Mrs. O. L. Byrd, Mrs. W. H. Payne, and Mrs. P. L. Tower. Ribbon winners were Mrs. J. J. Finn, Mrs. S. Y. Pharr, Mrs. Roy McDaniels and Mrs. J. Dickerson.

A Birthday Means Your Prettiest

Cake and Lots Of Hot Coffee

Of all the cakes in the whole wide world, there's none so delightful as the traditional birthday cake. The candles alone make it a thing of beauty and a joy that lasts for just one year—until the next one comes along. So let's light the candles and pour the coffee—the party's on!

Birthday cakes should, indeed, be handsome—but your decoration needn't be elaborate. In fact, the simpler it is, the prettier it is. Here's a suggestion that takes no time at all and transforms any cake into a gala confection. Simply use pastel cream mints—put a candle holder through each one and set them on your sweetest icing.

Of course, your birthday cake has to be delicious as well as pretty—so here's a recipe that was inspired by a birthday for a birthday! It's devil's food and it's superb. When you serve it, just make certain that there's plenty of fragrant, hot coffee on hand. Your party wouldn't be complete without it!

That you might have a January birthday - to plan for - for that matter - when you are planning a birthday surprise - hope this suggestion will help you.

No matter what the time of year, there are families who have to move. In our area - we have many navy families, some army, marine and coast guard families, too.

Now if a moving van appears and new neighbors move in, in your neighborhood, make them welcome by preparing a - nice, easy, piping-hot supper for them.

After all, a good meal is just what they need - their utensils are still in crates and they themselves are probably worn to a frazzle. And there's no denying that a first meal shared with neighbors is a heart-warming experience.

Happy Birthday Cake

3 squares (3 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1 cup milk, divided
3 egg yolks, beaten cup sugar
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoon baking soda few grains salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cut chocolate in small pieces and put in saucepan with 1/2 cup of milk and beaten egg yolks. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat, add sugar and butter and stir until butter melts. Stir in flour gradually and stir until smooth. Dissolve baking soda in remaining milk, adding slowly. Mix well. Add salt and vanilla. Bake in 2 greased 8-inch layer-cake pans in moderate oven, 350°, 25 minutes or until done. Cool on cake racks. Fill and frost with cooked icing (made with 3 egg whites). Decorate sides of cake with baked coconut. Put candle holders through cream mints of same desired color and set on cake.

that both families remember for many a year.

One of the very best suppers to pack in a basket consists of a bubbling Good Neighbor Casserole, a crisp tossed salad, hot crumbly biscuits and a big pot of freshly-brewed coffee. This superb casserole should win the lasting devotion of your neighbors - it's a mouth-watering blend of chicken and shrimp, delicate herbs and green vegetables, all topped with golden wedges of pimiento biscuits. Good neighbors and good food are essentials for good living - and, with this heavenly supper and plenty of good coffee, you'll be well on your way to a happy life as "the people next door."

Good Neighbor Casserole

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut up
1 package (12 oz.) frozen asparagus sets
1 package (8 oz.) frozen cooked shrimp
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1 can (8 oz.) small white onions
1 teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon rosemary
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1/2 cups biscuit mix
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
Simmer chicken in lightly salted water for about 45 minutes or until tender and remove from broth. Add asparagus to broth and cook as directed. Add shrimp and heat through. Drain and reserve broth. Bone chicken and keep in large pieces. Melt butter and blend in flour. Add 3 cups chicken broth and stir until smooth and thickened. Add seasonings, chicken, shrimp, asparagus and drained onions. Turn into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Prepare biscuit mix as directed on package. Stir in pimientos. Roll out about 1-inch thick and cut in circle slightly smaller than diameter of casserole. Cut circle into 6 wedges. Place on casserole. Bake in hot oven, 450°, until topping is golden brown and done. Makes 6 servings. Be a good neighbor - Bye - now -

Census Bureau to Conduct Survey of Buying Plans

A new survey of consumer plans to buy autos, TV sets, washing machines, and refrigerators will be launched by the Bureau of the Census in January, according to Supervisor Joseph R. Norwood of the Bureau's regional field office in Charlotte, N. C., which will participate in the project. The survey is being made for the Federal Reserve Board for use in a national study of consumer buying trends.

These questions will be asked in conjunction with four of the Bureau's regular Current Population Surveys which provide monthly figures on employment and unemployment in the United States. The questions asked about TV sets, washing machines and refrigerators will be relatively simple. Respondents will be asked if they own any of the items, when each was purchased, and if they plan to purchase one in the next three or six months.

For cars, information will be obtained not only on ownership and buying plans, but also on methods of financing, outstanding indebtedness on the car, and recent repair costs.

Current Population Survey statistics will be collected locally during the week of January 19 by Mrs. Daley S. Wilroy.

'59 Social Security Tax Rate Goes Up

In a report on unemployment compensation made to the Board of Directors, members and guests of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce meeting in Williamsburg, Chris H. Whitman, the Chamber's Director of Social Security, predicted that practically all covered Virginia employers would be required to pay substantially higher contribution (tax) rates during 1959 and subsequent years. The increase in employer payments for 1959 alone may aggregate $12,000,000, Whitman has estimated.

The Virginia law, Whitman stated, contains an experience rating feature which operates in the interest of both employer and employee; the employer benefiting through stabilizing employment and paying a tax rate directly related to his own and the State's overall employment; while the employee is protected by a feature which requires additional contributions by employers whenever the reserve fund balance falls below five per cent of payroll, which contributions were paid during the three preceding calendar years.

Quoting some final and estimated final figures, Whitman advised the group that $86 to a total benefit payment aggregating almost $24 million in 1958 (the largest by far in any one year and approximately equal to total payments in the first eight years of this program), the reserve fund dropped from $92 million at the end of 1957 to slightly more than $70 million at the end of 1958, a loss of almost $13 million.

To replace this fund loss, Whitman pointed out, two recovery phases of the law immediately become operative. First the State Experience Factor increases as a result of higher benefit payments. This, in itself, may automatically raise the required contribution rate of many employers one step (1.5% or 2.5%) even though their own experience may not have been different from the prior year. In other instances the higher state factor may bring about a two-step (4% to 5%) increase.

The second factor is the Automatic Rate Increase, (or Decrease) which is geared to the trust fund balance as a percentage of taxable payroll. Several years ago, when the trust fund reached the required maximum (7.0%) rate, employers received a 20% credit. As of December 31, 1958, however, the fund fell below the required minimum (5.0%) necessitating an automatic contribution rate increase of one step which will add 1.5% or 2.5% to taxable payrolls.

Employer taxable payrolls for the last 3-year period on which taxes have been collected (1956-1957) are expected to average approximately $1,015,120,000. The reserve fund at the end of 1958 being $70,388 will bring the reserve balance below 5.0% (about 4.9%) and cause each employer contribution rate to be increased one additional step (1.5% or 2.5%). No rate, however, will be increased beyond the statutory maximum of 2.7%.

Factors determining the automatic rate increase or decrease will be reviewed each quarter. Because the next review will substitute the 1958 taxable payrolls for 1956's, the three-year average will be substantially higher, approximately $1,170,608,000. With little change expected in the total reserve fund balance, a reserve fund ratio below 4.75% may be expected, causing still another step (2.5%) to be added to employer contribution rates.

Subsequent quarterly reviews will determine future replenishment requirements, Whitman said. He stated that if the total benefit payment claim load for 1959 does not exceed $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 and employer contributions equal or exceed his estimates, employers would be fully relieved of the automatic rate increase by 1960.

Fort Story TELLINGS

TRANSPORTATION
TITLE MATCH

A chaplain from Fort Story will be the topic of the Transportation Command at the Second Army wrestling championship matches to be held at Fort Knox, Ky., next week.

Chaplain (1st Lt.) Mel Turner of Story's 10th Battalion, a native of Richmond, Va., has won all four matches he has participated in to win the Transportation crown and now goes to try for the Second Army matches, of which he is a defending champion.

He won the title last year at Fort Belvoir. At the time he was stationed at Fort Knox, Chaplain Turner won both the freestyle and the Greco-Roman style events in last year's competition with the light-heavyweight class.

Holding a long record of titles, Chaplain Turner was the National AAU champ in 1957 and captured the University of Virginia title the year before that. At the time he won the AAU title, he was enrolled in the Union Theological Seminary in New York.

Besides wrestling, the appointed chaplain was captain of the 10th Battalion six-man football team which won the TTC National League title.

YOUTH CENTER
PLANS UNDERWAY

Final preparations are under way here to begin a youth council and center for the dependents of Fort Story personnel.

In a meeting of the organizing committee last week, final plans were laid down for the use of a bunker, formerly used by the Coastal Artillery, as the center. The structure provides ample room for planned activities, according to a spokesman for the group.

Recreational activities for the club will consist of sports, dances, and other types of recreation and entertainment. Support for the project has been upheld by every group on post that has been approached. Organizers of the council expect final approval of the plans sometime next week. Actual plans and organization will be explained at that time.

BEACH RESIDENT STATIONED AT STORY

A resident of Virginia Beach, 2nd Lt. John M. Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ryan, of the Ray Colony, was assigned to Fort Story recently.

Lt. Ryan, a graduate of Norfolk Academy and Dartmouth College, is a platoon leader of the 854th Transportation Company's Ship Platoon. The 854th is a terminal service unit, handling ship-to-shore operations.

After graduating from Dartmouth last June, Lt. Ryan entered the Transportation Officers' Basic Course in October and graduated in December. He then came to Fort Story.

TWO FORT STORY
OFFICERS PROMOTED

Two Second Lieutenants here have been promoted to First Lieutenant this week.

Lt. David G. Hurley recently returned from Korea, was promoted at a 13th Battalion luncheon. Lt. Col. John C. Alford, Battalion Commander, pinned his new bars on.

Also a recent returnee from Korea, Lt. Clark W. Clifton, promoted in ceremonies held in the office of Col. George E. Woods, Jr., Post Commander on Friday morning.

PVT. LYONS GRADUATES

CAMP LEJEUNE (FHTNC) — Marine-Pvt. Richard A. Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyons, of 206 Cardinal Rd., Virginia Beach, Va., is scheduled to graduate Jan. 8 from an intensive four-week infantry training course at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

During this period Marines live primarily in the field and take part in rigorous marches and muscle building exercises. This training, followed by two weeks leave, completes the basic Marine Corps training. Graduates are then assigned to specialist schools or a permanent duty assignment.

Iron, Steel Industry Spent $1.2 Billion In 1958 for Growth

To meet the future's growing needs for more and better steel, and to keep ahead of the competition of other materials and other countries, iron and steel companies in the United States laid out $1.2 billion for new equipment and construction during 1958, according to American Iron and Steel Institute today.

This raised the postwar total for such outlays to more than eleven billion dollars (1949 to 1958 inclusive). Expenditures have equaled or exceeded one billion dollars per year during six of the past eight years.

In addition, another large sum, estimated at over one billion dollars, is scheduled to be laid out during 1959, according to preliminary figures of the Institute.

The industry has to spend in order to keep up with the requirements of its fast moving customers, who demand more and better steels. It also has to strive for cost savings in order to meet the competition from other materials and the competition from other steel-making countries.

The industry now has a record high steelmaking capacity totaling 147.6 million net tons of ingots and steel castings annually. During 1958, the capacity went up nearly seven million net tons. A substantial amount of the increase was attributable to new oxygen furnaces in several steelmaking plants.

In addition, the industry has been installing new rolling mills, finishing plants, continuous annealing lines, electrolytic tin plate lines, research laboratories and other facilities.

But the march of progress by the world's greatest iron and steel industry is increasingly expensive, said the Institute. Inflation has boosted the cost of construction and new equipment. Meanwhile, tax allowable depreciation has been far from adequate, according to steel executives. The unrealistic depreciation laws prevent steel companies from replacing worn out plant facilities without obtaining new capital just to stay even.

Each year, the iron and steel industry's capital improvement programs benefit many people and communities. Last year, with a recession under way in the early part of 1958, the programs were especially beneficial in providing employment across the country.

The dollar figures reported above concerning planned and actual spending for new equipment and construction cover more than merely iron and steelmaking facilities. The totals represent estimates for every type of company in the industry, as well as merchant pig iron producers, including integrated, semi-integrated and non-integrated. Therefore, a wide range of industry enterprises are represented by the dollar figures, including blast furnaces, coke ovens, steelmaking furnaces, rolling mills, annealing and heat treating equipment and research facilities.

Norfolk Ford Plant To Build 543 Units For Military Use

Ford Division announced today that its Norfolk assembly plant has been selected to build 543 Ford station wagons as part of a government order Ford is filling for 1,793 units to be used by Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Army in installations in this country and overseas.

The Norfolk plant's share of the total units is greater than that of any of the other ten Ford Division plants scheduled to help fill the order. The station wagons also will be built at Atlanta, Ga., 291 units; Chester, Pa., 148; Dallas, Texas, 158; Kansas City, Mo., 110; Los Angeles, 48; Mahwah, N.J., 163; Lorain, Ohio, 18; San Jose, Calif., 138; St. Paul, Minn., 10; and Dearborn, Mich., 163.

The contract calls for delivery within five months of 1,371 nine-passenger Country Sedan station wagons and 422 six-passenger Ranch Wagons.

About one-third, or 556 wagons, will be built with Ford's economy six-cylinder engine. The remaining 1,237 wagons will have V-8 engines. All but 13 of the units will have Ford's new and simplified Fordomatic transmission.

Ford has maintained leadership in the station wagon field, selling as much as 80 per cent of the total wagon market in some years. The contract was awarded to Ford through the Detroit Ordnance Tank Automotive Command.

THE CHURCH OF ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a showcase of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"For Thy love we thank Thee, Lord, for Thy love we pray."
Just a few words, rooted in gratitude. But gratitude means so much... to the giver... and to those who receive!
To God it means that we are not too busy enjoying His gifts to understand His love.
To us it means that we have not forgotten the love of life. We have a vision of the spiritual nature of life in which the Church community plays a part. And our children find a family life based on faith and prayer.
Of course, our "fleshing" or "growing" is only a small part of the Christian life. To walk the Christian life is to live every day in a puzzle, it belongs to us. And the sooner we get all the pieces in place, the sooner we'll understand the WHOLE PICTURE.

IRISH POTATO OUT-LOOK DARK

The 1959 Irish potato crop in Princess Anne County looking bad for 1959. Especially the Cobbler crop looks dismal. This was the statement made by Mr. A. E. Mercker of the National Potato Council at the recent Potato and Vegetable Outlook Meeting.

The stocks of 128 million cwt. plus a possible 34 million cwt. of new potatoes make available 162 million cwt. to dispose of from December 1958 through the end of June 1959. This total supply is too burdensome to dispose of at profitable prices through the first half of 1959. The adjustment in production, if realized, may not result in a improved price situation until the summer crop of potatoes is ready to market.

Mr. Mercker states that we won't see any uptrend in prices until the latter part of June or early July. Up until that time prices are expected to be about at the 1958 level.

Therefore, the outlook for the production of Cobblers is not good. It is somewhat better for the later maturing varieties such as Sabago. To survive this price squeeze the potato growers are going to have to concentrate on high yields and quality. In other words at least 85% of the potatoes produced should be of U.S. No. 1 grade, 3 inch minimum. This year it is going to be really foolish to produce potatoes on land where high yields of good quality potatoes are unattainable.

Mr. Mercker has given the outlook picture on other vegetables and planting recommendations for 1959.

Breast Potatoes
Virginia acreage in 1958 was increased 4%, yields were about the same and production was up 3%. Maryland's acreage was increased 9%, yields were higher and production up 22%. Maryland's price was slightly higher than in 1957 due to improved quality. Virginia's price was slightly lower due to skinning. Improved grading, elimination of skinning is necessary if better prices are expected. Storage efficiency to bring about the better curing is also necessary. A reduction in acreage to the 1957 acreage is recommended.

Kale
No change in planting of acreage for 1959 is recommended.

Cucumbers - (Early Fall)
Virginia production was down 23% and prices much better averaging $4.65. 1959 acreage should be held at the 1958 level.

Cucumbers - (Early Summer)
Acreage in Virginia and Maryland was reduced. Yields were good in both states. Production in Maryland was 28% higher whereas it was 30% lower in Virginia. Overlap of harvesting resulted in low prices in both states. Normally, the acreage planted in 1958 should result in fair prices.

Cucumbers For Processing
The U.S. crop was 4% below the record 1957 crop. Small acreage was offset by high yields. Virginia and Maryland acreage was increased with favorable growing conditions resulting in very high yields and sold for low prices. Stock of pickles is large with a good demand. 1959 crop should not be increased. A small reduction is preferable.

Lima Beans
Maryland crop was reduced 10%, but increased in other areas. Yields were high with an 11% increase in the crop. Prices in all states were above average but below the high 1957 levels. The planting of the same acreage is recommended.

Lima Beans For Processing
Virginia and Maryland acreage is on the down trend. However, Maryland increased 3% in 1958. Virginia reduced 70%. Yields were very high. Prices well below those of the 1957 crop reflecting smaller contracting by processors, particularly canners. Canned stocks moderate and canners may desire to increase 1959 acreage. Frozen supplies still large and acreage for freezing should be reduced.

Tomatoes - (Early Summer)
Maryland acreage was reduced 12%. Virginia acreage increased 11%. Yields were good in Maryland and low in Virginia due to the rains. Lateness of planting and harvesting seasons resulted in low prices with same acreage abandoned. A reduction in acreage is recommended.

Snap Beans - (Late Spring)
Crop was 6% below 1957. Virginia acreage reduced 15%. Yields low due to rain. Production down 12%. Crops 2 to 3 weeks late. Prices low due to overlap from other areas. For 1959 the same acreage is recommended as planted in 1958. Better timing of marketing should result in good returns.

Snap Beans for Processing
Canned and frozen supplies will be very heavy through the spring of 1959.

Broccoli - (Late Spring)
Production established a record high due to the big New Jersey crop. Virginia acreage reduced by 1/2. Yields were high. Production equal to that of 1957.

California competition was small. Prices well above those of 1957. Recommended planting same acreage.

Baxter Sparks Joins Lanier, Gray Audograph

The Lanier Company, largest distributor of dictation machines, is expanding its Tidewater operation. Baxter Sparks has been named by Lanier as special sales representative. Sparks has had considerable experience in the dictation machine business and worked for Lanier several years ago.

Technician B. H. Fitchett has transferred from Lanier's Richmond office and will be in charge of service, installation and maintenance. Fitchett will also do general sales work and will handle all government business.

A suite of offices has been taken in the Flatiron building on West Charlotte Street in Norfolk.

The Lanier Company, with headquarters in Atlanta, has 57 offices in 13 southeastern states. Lanier is an exclusive distributor of the Gray Audograph line of dictation and recording instruments made by the Gray manufacturing company at Hartford, Connecticut. Gray makes a complete line of dictation machines ranging from the complex Phonograph Remote System to the newly introduced look-alike Keynote. All machines will be stocked, sold and serviced at Lanier's new Norfolk offices.

NO OTHER PICKUP ...RIDES LIKE A '59 FORD

You get the smoothest ride of any half-ton pickup, thanks to Ford's heavy-duty, two-stage rear springs and long, tapered leaf front springs. Scientific Impact-O-Graph tests prove you get the easiest ride!

21 Ford pickups for '59! Choice of 3 wheelbases, 3 body styles, 4 body sizes and 5 Short Stroke engines.

...HAULS LIKE A '59 FORD

Big Styleside box gives you 56 cubic feet of loadspace on a 110-inch wheelbase or 70 cubic feet with a 118-inch wheelbase. Both bodies offer the structural strength you need for heavy hauls. And you've got Ford Short Stroke power to haul without huffing or puffing!

'59 Ford Styleside is roomy—and rugged! Wrap-around rear corners with rigid low-grate type construction strengthen both body and fenders.

...SAVES LIKE A '59 FORD

To the only Short Stroke Six in pickups today, Ford now adds a new economy carburetor. Result: the greatest gas-saving combination on the road—and it's yours at no extra cost! And a full range of transmissions permits you to choose the one for your job.

Health Department Here to Launch Educational Program

The Virginia Beach Health Department will launch a program on February 2nd designed to more thoroughly acquaint all residents with the continuing need for proper garbage and refuse storage, collection and disposal. The primary objectives of this program are to promote a clean and sanitary city, prevention of disease, and to control insects and rodents.

Each resident can contribute a good deal toward promoting better health of the entire community and at the same time help to make our yards and streets more attractive by participating in this program.

There are a number of simple, fundamental rules of good sanitation that must be actively practiced by each of us in order that the sanitation division of the Public Works Department can continue to furnish the efficient collection and disposal of garbage and refuse that we now have. Also, our cooperation will do much to lighten the load on the collection service.

To facilitate proper collection and disposal of garbage and refuse, it is essential that each resident or apartment have a sufficient number of metal garbage cans, in good condition, and with tight-fitting covers. It is very important that cans be covered to exclude insects and rodents at all times except when being filled or emptied.

Refuse should be thoroughly drained and wrapped in paper before being placed in the cans. Frequent washing to remove any residue from the sides and bottom of the containers will help to eliminate fly breeding and food for rodents. Care should be taken when filling cans to avoid spilling garbage around the area where the cans are kept, and containers should not be filled to the point where the cover will not fit tightly.

Garbage cans and refuse containers should be placed on the outside line of the sidewalk in front of the premises between the hours of 6:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. on the day the collection is scheduled for the area, and the empty containers should be removed immediately after being placed. No containers should be placed on public property or when collection is not scheduled for that section on that day, or on any day when collection for that day has been made.

Refuse containers (for ashes, glass, bottles, rags, etc.) should be placed in a separate container.

Extra License Fee Does Not Insure Motorist

The $15.00 additional fee assessed every uninsured Virginia automobile owner when he picks up his license plates in March does not provide him with any form of insurance protection. This fee simply allows him to purchase his plates.

"Many Virginia car owners have the impression that this fee protects the uninsured car owner in case of an accident," C. H. Lamb, Commissioner of the Division of Motor Vehicles, said today. "This is not so. The only thing he receives for his $15.00 is the privilege of licensing an uninsured motor vehicle. He remains subject to all applicable provisions of the law when involved in an automobile accident and will be subject to suspension of operating privileges and license plates as he has in the past."

Under the provisions of the new automobile insurance program which was passed by the General Assembly in the spring and went into effect last October, the money collected from the assessments to the uninsured car owners is held in a special fund administered by the State Corporation Commission.

Lamb explained that this special fund is not available to pay for damages or injuries caused by an uninsured motorist. The fund will be distributed by the State Corporation Commission among the various insurance companies writing automobile liability insurance in Virginia based on the amount of automobile liability insurance these companies have written. It is hoped that such distribution will decrease the cost to the insured of the family protection endorsement now being paid by the insured automobile owner.

"The new feature included in all automobile liability insurance policies means that the insured car owner may be paid for damages for which an uninsured person is liable up to certain limits by the policyholder's own insurance company," Lamb said.

He made it clear that an uninsured driver involved in an automobile accident will have his license plates and operator's license suspended until he deposits security or obtains release from all persons injured or damaged in an accident.

not be larger than an ordinary half barrel, with a maximum weight of seventy-five pounds when filled, except when authorized by the Director of Public Works. Containers should be covered at all times except when being filled or emptied.

Commencing February 2nd, a street by street survey of garbage and refuse containers and storage areas will be conducted by the Health Department and wherever conditions that violate good sanitary practices are found, a copy of the Sanitary Notice of the City of Virginia Beach will be given to the tenant, and pertinent provisions of the notice brought to his attention. In instances where unapproved containers or worn out containers, or those with no cover are noted, an appropriate "condemned" sticker will be placed on the container. In these cases, a follow-up visit will be made at the expiration of ten days.

Each resident is urged to cooperate and do just a little more than "his or her part" to keep our yards, sidewalks, streets and vacant lots free of garbage and refuse and thereby contribute to a more safe and sanitary environment in which to live. It is the opinion of both the City Management and your Health Department that if our streets and sidewalks are kept clean, it will be noted by our visitors and they will be more inclined to help keep them so by disposing of their refuse in the containers that are provided for that purpose.

Art Group Is Sponsor of Art Lessons

At the January 28th meeting of the Virginia Beach Art Association, it was announced that Charles Sibley will teach art lessons beginning Feb. 9 at the Walter Thrift Studio, 37th and Atlantic Aves. The classes will be sponsored by the Art Association. Mr. Sibley is head of the Art Department at the Norfolk Division, College of William and Mary. He is considered to be one of Virginia's outstanding young painters.

Anyone interested in enrolling in the series of 10 weekly lessons should call Mrs. Cary Pennington, GA 8-735 or Mrs. Braden Vandevanter Jr., GA 8-7726.

At the meeting members of the Art Association voted to accept the constitution of a new organization called the Allied Arts Association of Virginia Beach. The aim of this new organization is to help cultural organizations in the Beach area such as the Garden Clubs, the Little Theatre, the Concert Association and the Art Association promote and stimulate the cultural growth of the community.

Foremost on the agenda of the Allied Arts Association is the raising of money so that an Art Center Building can be erected at Virginia Beach. Cultural organizations could hold meetings in an Art Center Building while exhibitions and special lectures could be made open to the public.

Named Peanut Queen

Lovely Miss Carmeline Redavid, a student at the Princess Anne High School, was recently chosen "Queen of the Christmas Peanut Drive." She was selected by the Key Clubs of Virginia Beach for her work in connection with the peanut sale conducted by the Virginia Beach Kiwanis Club. At right is Henry I. Jaffe of the Kiwanis Club, who served as general chairman of the fund raising project.

Rescue Squads To Coordinate System, Areas

Representatives of four organizations which operate ambulances in Princess Anne County will meet at Virginia Beach Rescue Squad Headquarters Feb. 25 to organize a county-wide rescue squad.

R. R. (Buddy) McChesney, captain of the Virginia Beach Rescue Squad, said the objectives of the organization include familiarization of units with each other's equipment, definition of each unit's area, of responsibility to preclude overlapping, and establishment of a county-wide communication system.

More than 70 county ambulance personnel attended a meeting here Monday night at Rescue Squad Headquarters to formulate plans.

Units represented included the Chesapeake Beach, Ocean Park, Courthouse and Davis Corner ambulance squads.

Diehn Honored By DAR Group

On Friday evening, January 23, the Sarah Constant Chapter DAR honored Ludwig Diehn, composer and pianist at a dinner at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club. On this occasion Mrs. Maurice B. Tonkin, of Warwick, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, presented the Society's Medal for Americanism to this outstanding "American by Choice," who admirably fits the Society's requirements. He is an adult naturalized citizen who has demonstrated outstanding ability in trustworthiness, service, leadership and patriotism.

Mr. Diehn came to this country in 1921, before coming to this country he lived in Java, Holland and Germany. Born in a British subject of German parentage, he is a graduate cum laude of Rostock University, Mecklenburg, Germany, holding degrees in law and chemistry. After college he was in a dilemma—whether to go into the large polish industry of his father or to follow the bent of his mother, a concert pianist. In the end he decided to give his entire time to composing and to the world of music. His works have been performed both here and abroad. In this country they have been performed with the WFB and Arlington Symphony Orchestras in Washington, the Jacksonville and Atlantic City Symphony Orchestras and with the Norfolk Symphony, where his Festival Overture was performed for the second time Monday evening January 12 at the Norfolk Arena.

Diehn was married to the former Virginia Peters of Norfolk and has lived happily here for over 10 years. Currently he is serving as Secretary of the Norfolk Symphony and Choral Association and is an active member of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Little Theatre Will Present 'Harvey' Comedy Next Week

"Harvey," perennial favorite of theatre-goers, will be presented by the Virginia Beach Little Theatre on February 3 and 4 at 8:30 p.m. at Virginia Beach High School.

Wade Williams, star of many Little Theatre plays and narrator of "The Confederacy," will play the lead role of Elwood P. Dowd, a mild, drunk and constant companion of Harvey.

Myrtle Mae Simmons, Dowd's featherbrained sister, will be played by Ann Pennington, also prominent in Little Theatre plays and "The Confederacy," and Ann McNamara, who played the feminine lead last year in "Season in the Sun," will play Veta Louise Simmons.

Other members of the cast will include Carol Lash, Dolores East, Frank J. Ferrigno, George Webb, Mike Heneghan, Maria Hunter, Charles Fuller and Jim Dunn.

Birdneck Point Home Feature Of News Article

A Princess Anne County home located in Birdneck Point is featured in the current issue of The American Home magazine.

The featured home is that of Capt. and Mrs. S. G. "Pat" Mitchell, who reside in a low, rambling ranch type home that they purchased and have remodeled themselves.

They found the house just before Capt. Mitchell retired and they went to work on what they termed a house with no particular lines or character.

The Mitchells have done such an outstanding job that the magazine felt it deserved national recognition. The article is well written and repeatedly attests to the enthusiasm and taste of Mrs. Mitchell.

Interesting is the best word to describe the magazine article. We recommend this for good reading of what can be accomplished and since it is about your neighbor it should prove very interesting.

$5,000 Okayed For Ambulance

An expenditure of $5,000 for a new ambulance for the Davis Corner Fire Department was authorized by the Board of Supervisors here Monday.

In other action taken by the body in a brief session, Ross Evans and M. G. Deans were granted taxi operating permits. A ruling to enlarge the mosquito control area of Kempville, Bayside and Lynnhaven districts was passed on first reading.

Clements called attention to the deadline for entries and urged those who wanted to recommend someone to mail the recommendation to him, care of office box 274, Virginia Beach, Va.

Chaplain Wins Wrestling Title Of Second Army

A Chaplain from Fort Story, First Lt. Mel Turner, won the heavyweight division in two wrestling styles of the Second Army championship matches last week at Fort Knox, Ky.

Turner, Chaplain of Story's 10th Transportation Battalion, won both the Greco-Roman and Free Style classes, participating in six matches during four days. The Chaplain won all six.

Last year the Chaplain, then stationed at Fort Knox, won both styles in the light-heavyweight division.

His sports record consists of such accomplishments as National AAU wrestling champion, captain of the University of Virginia wrestling team, lineman on the school's football team, an overseas wrestling tour for AAU and coach-player for Story's Tenth Battalion football team.

A native of Richmond, the Chaplain graduated from the University of Virginia and the Union Theological Seminary in New York.

Despite his record, the Transportation Training Command, Fort Eustis, for which he wrestled, came in third on team points. Placing first was Fort Lee and Fort Knox came in second.

Virginia Travel Council Adds New Directors

The Virginia Travel Council has added several new directors to the board of the organization, representing this area, William T. Moore, Jr., of South Norfolk, who has been elected by the board of directors to the regional vice-presidency for Tidewater Virginia. For the first time the organization also has named a Portsmouth representative, Maitland Hagood, Jr.

From the City of Norfolk, the directors are Henry Clay Holbein, II, and J. T. Timmons. Mrs. Marguerite Flynn represents Ocean View, Virginia Beach, with a large membership in the Council, this year is represented by Mrs. Lucy F. Trafton, Sidney Kellam, William W. McClannan and Sidney Banks.

The Council, a non-profit, non-political organization, now has more than 1900 members representing travel businesses throughout the Old Dominion. Its sole job is to sell Virginia as a destination for travel from other sections of the nation.

Cancer Society Education Group Is Organized

The Public Education committee of the Princess Anne unit, American Cancer Society held the first of a series of organizational meetings to set up a county-wide education program through small neighborhood gatherings.

Mrs. Joseph Leggett, public education chairman, stated that the objective of the plan was to reach more people, more effectively through a neighborhood program.

These three major films that are being shown are "Time and Two Women," "Breast Self-Examination," and "The Other City." Along with these films, pamphlets and literature are being distributed.

Mrs. Hoyt Capps, neighborhood program chairman, has succeeded in reaching many key women throughout the county who will attend special preview showings and in turn arrange for films to be shown in their areas. We encourage anyone who is interested in taking part in this program to contact Mrs. Capps at GA 8-2888 or Mrs. Brown, our executive secretary, at GA 8-4151.

The following women attended the January 21 meeting and are planning to carry out this program with great enthusiasm in their communities: Mrs. R. L. Allen, Jr., Cavalier Park; Mrs. Richard Cooke, Alantown; Mrs. John Wood, Princess Anne; Mrs. Beverly Middleton, Kempville; Mrs. George O. Shipp, Baylake Pines; Mrs. H. E. Newsome, Bayside; Mrs. N. F. Rescue Squads Take Forward Step

The announcement this week that all organizations operating ambulances in the Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County area will get together to work out a system of communication and cooperation with a meeting set for February 25 indicates a step in the right direction and one that should prove beneficial to the people of the area.

The meeting will be held in the Rescue Squad headquarters building here in Virginia Beach and is designed to include a program of familiarization of units with each other's equipment, a definition of each unit's area of responsibility to preclude overlapping, and establishment of a county-wide communication system.

These groups perform a wonderful service for the community and all man hours served are volunteer hours with no one receiving any remuneration for the work.

The forthcoming meeting is, indeed, a forward step and will definitely improve the efficiency of the various volunteer units. The defining of the unit's areas of responsibility is particularly sound since there has been some overlapping in the past. Any elimination of duplication of effort on the part of these men will be of tremendous benefit and should help to maintain the high level of morale which is evident in each of these groups.

An initial meeting has already been held which included representatives of Virginia Beach, Chesapeake Beach, Ocean Park, Courthouse and Davis Corner ambulance groups.

We are in complete accord with the latest display of cooperation and coordination on the part of these volunteer groups.

Welcome Young Democrats

Virginia Beach is serving this weekend as host to young Democrats from throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia as the Young Democratic Clubs of Virginia convene here for their 26th annual State convention. We extend a cordial welcome to this fine group of young men and bid their stay with us a happy, productive one.

The Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Young Democratic Club has been most active since its founding several years ago and it is fitting that the State convention is being held here. No other one chapter has been more active or interested in the affairs of its state and we know that the local Young Democrats will prove excellent hosts.

We congratulate this fine group of young men of Virginia and we wish for them a most successful and pleasant convention here in Virginia Beach.

Church Plans Film Series

The Church of Christ now meeting in the Volunteer Fire Department Building in Oceana will show a series of five Bible films (strip film).

First one to be shown Sunday evening, February 1st at 7:30 p.m., and each Sunday evening thereafter for five consecutive Sundays. The films are a survey of Bible history, starting with the creation and going through the history of the church.

The film titles are as follows: 1st The Patriarchal Age; 2nd The Mosaic Age; 3rd The Christian Age; 4th God's Plan for Redeeming Man; and 5th The History of the Lord's Church.

Surf Queens Lose Squeaker To Richmond Dairy Team

The Virginia Dairy girls basketball team from Richmond, finally caught up with the Virginia Beach Surf Queens after four years trying. The visitors turned back the local girls 41-39 in a thrilling packed affair on the Fort Story Court Sunday afternoon.

The Surf Queens led 10-6 at the end of the first quarter but with Bobo McCotter and Patsy Smith outscoring their opponents 14-12 in the second quarter, the Richmond girls outscored the local sextette 14-8 in the second quarter to take a 20-16 halftime lead. In the third quarter the Beach girls outscored their opponents 14-12 to trail by only two, but then the visitors got hot and built up a nine point lead before Thompson and Pope pulled the Queens within one point of a tie.

With 10 seconds to go and needing one basket to tie, playing for one good shot, the shot flamed the basket and the game ended.

Emma Lou Pope a newcomer to the Surf Queens this year showed promise at both guard and forward and cashed in 10 points. Ann Thompson led the locals with 19 points, high for both teams. McCotter got 14 points for the Virginia Dairy team.

The Virginia Beach girls go to Chase City, Va. for a charity game against a team from Richmond and Coach John Tucker hopes to have two of his regulars of last season back with him for the first time this year, Jane Milligan and Becky Gallup who have been unable to play until now.

PONY-GRAD LEAGUE ORGANIZED

The officers and representatives of the five districts comprising the PONY-GRAD League of Princess Anne County met recently in the office of Mr. Jim Lall, County Recreation Director. At this meeting it was decided to have eight participating teams in order to organize each district, local meetings will be held. Everyone who has a 15 or 16 year old boy who wishes to play baseball in this league is urged to attend the proper meeting.

Lynnhaven District will hold a meeting on Thursday, Feb. 5 at 8 p.m. in the Oceana School Auditorium.

Kempville District (which includes Arapago Village) will hold its meeting Tuesday, Feb. 10, at 8 p.m. in Kempville School Auditorium.

Seaboard-Pungo-Blackwater District (which includes Back Bay, Sandbridge and Princess Anne Courthouse) will hold its meeting on Thursday, Feb. 12, at 8 p.m. in the Fire Station at Cresco.

Bayside and Virginia Beach Districts will announce meeting times at a later date.

Sun-News Reporter Gains Admiration for Jaycee Work

By ELLEN KERRS

Mr. Maurice J. Sexton, President of Junior Chamber International was given an honor at a party given at the beautiful Bel Harbor Motel in Virginia Beach by the Virginia Beach Jaycees.

Mr. Sexton was at Norfolk Municipal Airport shortly after 8 p.m. by a delegation headed by Amos T. Camp, president of the Norfolk Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. William Robertson, state vice president of region 1.

The group arrived at the Bel Harbor Motel shortly after 9:30 p.m. Everybody was on time to meet a man with one of the most charming personalities in the world. A position which involves building men out of boys and executives out of men. A position which strives to better communities in every free nation of the world, and to maintain harmony and charity in the hearts of men everywhere.

It was wonderful to be a part of this group of Jaycees and their wives. To be with people who care about their community and work towards its improvement.

This was Mr. Sexton's second trip to the United States, and his first trip to Virginia Beach. He will return to his home in Palmerston North, New Zealand on the 31st of January, where he will be met by his wife, Lorna, his son Michael, 10, and his daughter, Linda, 8.

A year ago he took Mrs. Sexton around the world in 52 days which beats another trip we've all heard of.

Mr. Sexton is a past vice president of the New Zealand Lawn Tennis Association. He also plays the piano.

I asked Mr. Sexton if he had any message that I could relay and he replied, "Just one, I urge that businessmen everywhere see to it that all young men between the ages of 21 and 25 join the Jaycees, as it is the fastest growing organization in the world, of its type."

Others on hand to pay tribute to Mr. Sexton were Mr. John Talfer, past president of the Jaycees and his wife, Vivian; Mr. Gene Joyner; Mr. Dick Mound; Mr. Frank Farrell, president of Norfolk Chamber of Commerce; Mr. William Robertson, state vice-president.

ident of region 1, and his wife, Marion; Mr. Paul Maestas, and his wife, Celia; Mr. William H. Cole and his wife, Connie; Mr. William Dodson, Jr., and his wife, Patricia; Mr. John Vaughan and his wife, Sherry; Mr. Jack Brock, treasurer of Virginia Beach Jaycees; Mr. James W. Griffiths, secretary of Virginia Beach Jaycees; Mr. Lincoln Clements; Mr. Monroe Farmer; Mr. David Jackson; Mr. Dan Quick, International Director of the Jaycees in and for the state of Virginia; Mr. William A. Liddle, managing editor of Navy News; Mr. Joe Marchione, of the Norfolk Board of Directors of the Jaycees; Mr. Leonard Frieden; Mr. Julian Gutterman; Mr. Buddy Laumann and his wife, Clara; Mr. John W. McCombs, vice mayor of the organization; and last but not least, Mrs. Anne Adams, who represented her husband Rhoe Adams, state president of the Virginia Jaycees, who at the time of Mr. Sexton's arrival was on tour elsewhere fulfilling his duties as state president.

Mr. Adams met Mr. Sexton in Washington, D.C. last Monday where Mr. Sexton had a visit with the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

'Babes in General' To Be Presented

"Babes in General," the musical sponsored by the Norfolk Section, National Council of Jewish Women, will be presented at the Center Theater, Saturday and Sunday evenings, Feb. 28 and 29, 8 p.m. Mrs. H. Lee Kanter, ticket chairman, phone MA-7-0277, announces that individual as well as block tickets for organizations or clubs may be purchased. Orchestra and Loge seats are $3.00; Balcony seats are $2.00 and $1.00 each. Many clubs have already reserved a block of tickets. Tickets will be mailed upon request. Mrs. Kanter is being assisted by Mrs. Lewis Hirschler and Mrs. Milford Stein.

The revue, using only local talent, will be cast and directed by Jerome H. Cargill, veteran charity show producer. The Talent or Kick Off Party is scheduled for Monday evening Feb. 2 at the Hague Club at 8 o'clock, at which time the cast will be selected. Any one interested in being in the show or working in the wings, should contact Mrs. Norman Berlin, talent chairman, JU-7-0197, and should attend the party. An evening of entertainment and fun is being planned, and set-ups are being provided.

Mrs. Milton Salasky and the Patrons' Committee have enrolled over 250 patrons for the event. Proceeds will be used to equip a Pediatrics Playroom and Library which the Norfolk General Hospital will rent for its new Children's Hospital, adjoining the hospital. Building volunteers have been serving the Pediatrics Wing of Norfolk General for five years.

Proceeds will also benefit educational and welfare projects on the local, national and international level. Mrs. Oscar Warner is general chairman; Mrs. V. H. Nussbaum, Mrs. William Nordlinger, Mrs. Benjamin Steingold, and Mrs. Berlin are vice-chairmen.

Dear Sirs:
I enjoyed our tour of the Virginia Beach Sun-News, on January 22, 1959, very much. It was very interesting and we learned a lot. Thank you for the tour and for the piece of type with our names.

Sincerely yours,
Den T. Pack 375

A WHALE OF A WHALE
WASHED ASHORE AT VIRGINIA BEACH
Residents of Virginia Beach were astonished at the sight of a very large whale which was washed ashore at 40th Street and Ocean Blvd. Wednesday morning. The whale was between 10 and 15 tons in size, although it was hard to estimate with any accuracy. He had been very badly mutilated and is believed to have been dead quite some time. Many people were on the scene taking pictures of this rare sight on our beach.

Price's Planning Highway Store

Price's Inc. announced Tuesday a new retail outlet, its seventh and largest, is under construction on a four-acre tract fronting the Military Highway and Johnston road, a location which later may become the headquarters of the two-city electrical appliance chain.

Harry E. Price, Jr., president of the 54-year-old organization, said the new store, fronting 100 feet on the highway and running to a depth of 140 feet, will permit ample space for the expansion of present lines and the addition of others. About 4,000 square feet of space will be reserved for office and storage purposes.

The new retail outlet, together with the site and improvements, will represent an investment of about a quarter of a million dollars.

Farmers Told To Plan Ahead

Today's farmers must plan ahead to survive in a world ruled increasingly by technology, John P. Fishwick, Norfolk and Western Railway's vice president - law, told the annual meeting of Virginia Soil Conservation District Supervisors here tonight.

Fishwick praised the vastly increased productivity of American farming, then listed some problems which agriculturalists must face in the next decade.

"In a day when a Sputnik has more glamour than a plow, the dynamic changes which are occurring on our farms have been largely overlooked," he said. "As a result of a fertile, progressive technology, the average U. S. farm worker is more than 110% as efficient than he was 25 years ago. And about 40% fewer workers putting in fewer hours are today producing more than twice as much as U. S. agriculture produced 25 years ago."

He said that farm production in 1950 would probably double that in 1930 with a decline of one-half in farm population. With "the market for farm products limited to the size of the human stomach," he said that "the farmer who does not resort to sound farming practices, who does not keep up with the times, who is not genuinely concerned with such problems as soil and water conservation is simply asking to be put out of business."

Fishwick discussed three major problems with which the farmer of the immediate future must cope: "changing urbanization," changes in production through scientific and medical progress and water supply. The lack of pattern in city growth, he pointed out, is resulting in more and more of the best farm land being surrounded by industrial and housing developments. Such "sprawl," he said, is bad for everyone but is ruinous to the agriculturalist who is usually forced from the land by high taxes and assessments. He suggested that a form of rural zoning might be the answer.

The speaker gave examples of how recent developments in refrigeration and packing had radically changed farm procedures, and said that every farmer should watch closely for coming changes. Medical discoveries that certain agricultural products, long considered stable are health dangers also are a continuing factor in farming, he said.

Fishwick said that the nation, now using 240 billion gallons of water a day, was facing a very real future problem. He said that the country's farmers must take the lead in conservation. The task of agriculture is, he said, "to plant trees on the watersheds and bare hills to replace at least partially the forests which originally conserved our water, to extend the use of contours and guided runoff, to provide adequate ground covering, to supplement reforestation by re-seeds and ponds."

"In short, the water problem begins where the rains fell on the farms of our nation and if the problem is to be solved, it must be solved there."

There will be a discussion of all phases of the Association's work which will be open to the general public. It will be led by staff members with plenty of time for questions, according to Hugh Lynn Cayce, general manager. The discussion will be for the purpose of acquainting these newcomers to the Association, and others who have a desire to learn more about it, with the work it sponsors.

The A.R.E. headquarters is located at 67th Street and Atlantic Avenue. Those interested may call for further information at GA 8-3241.

VIRGINIA BEACH GARDEN CLUB
The regular meeting of the Virginia Beach Garden Club was held at the Cape Colony Club Wednesday, January 21st.

Mrs. Crawford Syer was the guest speaker, her subject was "The Flowering of the Garden." Mrs. Syer paid special tribute to Mrs. H. Gray Parker of Princess Anne Garden Club for her work in behalf of conservation of Natural resources.

Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Ralph Davis, Mrs. Hunter Phelan and Mrs. Charles Silvinger.

OCEAN PARK CIVIC LEAGUE
The Ocean Park Civic League will meet February 8 at 8:00 p.m. in the Civic Center, Stratford Rd. Robert G. Holloman, president, will preside.

Movies and slides taken by some of the Civic League members will be shown on the opening of the Lynnhaven bridge, with narrations by those who took films. Members are urged to attend and to bring guests.

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB
The Bayside Lions Club met January 21 at Shore Drive Inn. Second vice president, John Abelson, presided in the absence of the president, William D. Nagg.

Sixteen committee reports were given for the first six months work of the club year. All of the committees have been active and there is every indication that this will be a banner year for the club.

Following the reports an induction ceremony was conducted by Lion Charles Gied, in which seven new members were officially received into the club membership. Lions Harold Russell and Ernest Posey also assisted. Lion Russell told about the "History of Lionism" and Lion Posey talked about "Lions International Organization and objectives of Lions Club."

Lion Roy Twiford announced that the Bland Memorial Zone Contest will be held at the Convention Hall at Virginia Beach on March 6th. The Bayside Lions Club will be represented in this contest by Miss Marjorie White, a fine pianist, who won first prize in the contest, which was held by the club recently.

SERGEANT RECEIVES KOREAN AWARD TWICE
A Sergeant, recently assigned to Fort Story, received a Korean award for the second time last week.

He is Sergeant First Class Warren J. Brogren and the award is the Korean National Red Cross medal. He received the award for his humanitarian conduct in helping a dying Korean woman.

President Syngman Rhee of Korea planned the award ceremony in Korea last October. The award traveled by the way of SFC Brogren to Department of the Army in Washington. Last week it arrived at Fort Story.

In Korea, Brogren was with the Civil Affairs Office. An ailing old Korean woman, who was dying, told Brogren of her last wish which was to be taken back to a tiny village in the Korean Demilitarized zone where she had lived for more than 40 years.

Learning the pressing need for help, Brogren made arrangements for a U.S. ambulance to take her to hospital outside the No Man's Land. He later brought her to her old home in the village where she died. He then made arrangements for her relatives to be brought to the village for the burial.

SFC Brogren, with his wife and two children, live at 2728 C. Dunway St., in Norfolk.

DIAMOND SPRINGS PERSONALS

Rev. and Mrs. John W. Johnson attended the annual meeting of state ministers at Natural Bridge on January 26-28.

Mrs. Henry White, Norlina Rd., underwent major surgery at Portsmouth Naval Hospital on January 19. She will remain a patient there for some time.

Stamps for the Wounded Needed

The Jr. Woman's Club of Princess Anne County needs your help! This is the plea of Mrs. A. G. House, Stamp Chairman for the club. The General Federation Junior Project is Stamps for the Wounded. The Virginia Juniors can provide the more than $1,000,000 and over a million stamps given during the past administration, but the need is still there and must continue saving stamps.

For many permanent hospital beds, stamp collecting is not only an absorbing hobby, but an actual therapy, mental and physical. Won't you help with this project. All stamps over six cents or any commemorative stamps and all foreign stamps are needed. For your help, thousands of veterans will say, "THANK YOU." If you have any stamps you wish to contribute please call Mrs. House at GA 8-1050.

TWO LIEUTENANTS TEACH HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES

Two First Lieutenants here have been teaching high school classes to a group of 20 sergeants at the Education Center in the 10th Transportation Battalion. They are Lieutenants Eugene Lanzillo and Richard Moore. The classes, given every day, are designed to help the soldiers pass their high school equivalency tests, thereby enabling them to become qualified for higher promotions.

A graduate of Harvard, Lt. Lanzillo is executive officer of Headquarters Company and plans to become a career officer. Lt. Moore, assistant adjutant of the 10th Transportation Battalion, holds a Bachelor's degree from Claremont Men's College and a Master's degree from the University of California. He plans to be a college professor.

Both men volunteered for the assignments. Moore is teaching mathematics and Lanzillo is handling the science courses. The courses will be given in a series of 15 week cycles. They began last week.

TURKEY SHOOT HELD FOR YOUTH CENTER

A Turkey Shoot will be held here for the benefit of a Youth Center here by saying that "Sponsoring the shoot, which will be held Feb. 1, is the Fort Story Rod and Gun Club. Prizes will consist of turkeys and hams. Red arrows will point the way to the shoot from both entrance gates on the post.

This is part of a series of money raising events held by different organizations on post for the Youth Center which is complete on paper but needs funds for reality.

Chaplain (Captain) Joseph Killinger has explained the need of a Youth Center here by saying that it will give the Army youth a chance to enjoy themselves with proper supervision.

The shoot will be held at 1 p.m. and entrance is free. Those who shot gun or one supplied by Army Special Services.

New CGR Unit To Be Organized In Norfolk

Rear Adm. H. C. Moore, Commander of the Fifth Coast Guard District, has announced that a new Coast Guard Reserve Training Unit will be established in Norfolk in the near future.

This new Reserve training facility will be classed as an R.C.C. or Rescue, Coordination, Center Unit, and is designed to provide the Coast Guard Reserve with training for the operation of a center such as that maintained at the Coast Guard District Office in Norfolk.

Drills or meetings of the Reserve Unit will be held during one week-end of each month at the Coast Guard Group Office in Berkeley. A portion of each drill period will be devoted to on-the-job training at the Rescue Coordination Center in Norfolk.

Admiral Moore indicated that qualified men with prior service experience in communications will be considered for assignment to the new unit. Applications are particularly desired from those who have served as quartermasters, radiomen, radar men, or sonar men in the Coast Guard or Navy.

Men assigned to this unit will be provided with valuable training, liberal pay, and an opportunity to qualify for retirement benefits. Further information may be obtained by contacting the office of the Director of Reserve for the Fifth Coast Guard District, in room 337 of the Post Office and Court House Building in downtown Norfolk.

Planning a trip soon? If so, remember to practice good outdoor manners wherever you are. Take pride in your country . . . and don't leave a trail of litter behind you for others to clean up. Don't be a Litterbug. Keep America Beautiful.

wins once more...

Barbella Bear was a champion weight-lifter - she'd even beaten the big Russian bear at the Olympics. As she told Hubert Hangdog: "I just couldn't have done it without my phone."

"Aw, come on, that's crazy," said Hubert. "You sound like a C & P commercial." "No, I'm serious," said Barbella. "Using the phone has saved me all the time and energy I need for practice."

"What's more," concluded Barbella happily, "it doesn't cost very much... and it's worth all the effort more than it costs. Why, just look at me, Hubert - look what the phone's done for me!"

"My dear," said Hubert, "you have brains to match your beauty. Will you do me the honor of becoming Mrs. Hangdog?" "I sure will!" yelled Barbella happily, raising him in a smooth one-arm lift.

Chesapeake Beach Polio Benefit Ball Nets $200 for Drive

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach played hostess to the Bay-side area at a Polio Benefit dance Saturday evening, January 24. The affair was held in the Beach Community Center from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m., and netted approximately $200 for a good cause.

Mrs. L. E. Ledington, club chairman for the drive, has expressed sincere appreciation to members who served in the kitchen, and to the members of the Chesapeake Beach Volunteer Fire Department for their efforts in helping the ladies prepare the Community Center for the dance.

All around the community fun was had at the charity event, with about 100 Bay-siders attending. Gene Annarino and Catherine Patrick headed the floor show with a Cha-Cha number. Billy Jean Morris and Carole Patrick got a big hand for their tap number. Everybody entered wholeheartedly in bringing the show back again and again by throwing money on the floor for Polio. Gene and Catherine gave Cha-Cha lessons right on the floor and Gene closed the show with a great, original tap number which brought down the house. The Polio drive was enriched and the Bay-side folks had "old home night" visiting with each other.

The Woman's Club will stage their annual parade preceding the Mother's March, Thursday, January 29 at 6 p.m. The Volunteer Fire Department, under Chief B. E. Monroe, will lead the parade which will proceed over the entire Bay-side area. Chief Monroe has asked that those wishing to participate please report to the Community Center at Chesapeake Beach shortly before 6 p.m. so as to complete the run before the Mother's March begins at 7. The parade is staged each year as a reminder for Bay-side residents to turn on their porch lights for marching mothers.

Cape Colony Club Bridge Winners Are Announced

Cape Colony Club members and their guests met last Thursday evening at 7:45 p.m. for their weekly Duplicate Bridge Tournament held at the Cape Colony Club, Oceanfront and 57th Street.

Winners playing North and South were: first place, May L. E. Johnson and Mrs. Claud Brownley; second place, Cdr. and Mrs. R. J. Selmer; third place, Mrs. Anne Ellis and Mrs. R. P. Maul; fourth place, Capt. and Mrs. R. C. Raquet.

Winners playing East and West were: first place, Mrs. Henry Oetjen and Mrs. Thorpe; second place, Mrs. Elmer Tarrall and Mrs. W. H. Kitchins, Jr.; third place, Mrs. E. K. Walsh and Mrs. M. P. Camp; fourth place, Mrs. E. V. Caulfield and Mrs. M. F. Dempewolf.

Door prize donated by Alexander-Beggs was won by Cdr. Taggwell Shepard. Members are requested to call Mrs. Anne Ellis, director, for reservations at GA 8-1200.

Cavalier Garden Club Meets

The Cavalier Garden Club met January 21st at the Princess Anne Country Club for a luncheon meeting. Plans were discussed for the club's annual Flower Show to be held again this year in April at the Willis Wayside. The group also voted to donate the books in the Club's library to the new Virginia Beach Public Library.

Mrs. Carl M. Rau gave a most interesting program, with demonstrations, on corsage making entitled, "Fashions in Flowers."

In the flower arrangements classes Mrs. Roy W. Twine won a yellow ribbon and Mrs. L. O. Clark, Jr., a red ribbon.

The awards for the horticulture specimens were won by Mrs. H. Douglas Stewart, a blue; Mrs. C. G. Haughman and Mrs. John Tyler Ellis each a red.

Dr. D. W. Heyder Speaks Before Kempville Club

The Kempville Woman's Club members enjoyed a buffet luncheon Tuesday, Jan. 20, at the Kempville Community Center. Mrs. J. D. Gregory Sr., mental health chairman of the Tidewater District of VTWC introduced Dr. Dietrick W. Heyder, speaker.

Dr. Heyder was born in Germany and graduated from the Goethe University, Frankfurt, Germany. The Hygiene Center in Elizabeth City, N.C. was established by Dr. Heyder and he was also associated with Duke University in Durham, N.C. Dr. Heyder has been with the Mental Hygiene Center of Norfolk since September. He said there is an urgent need for help with the mentally ill in the Tidewater area—that tensions are best relieved by finding healthy, creative and constructive outlets.

Mrs. H. F. Tyler sang several selections accompanied by Mrs. Arthur B. Roach.

Mrs. S. A. Meads, Jr., chairman of the welfare department reported the club had adopted a male patient at Grandy Hospital to care for and clothe so he could get out of bed. Mrs. Meads announced two rummage sales had been held with total of $11.45 realized; also that Christmas gifts were given to two. Mrs. P. K. Lawler, Mrs. J. D. Gregory Sr., and Mrs. S. A. Meads

Jr., visited Eastern State hospital carrying gifts and magazines for the patients. While there they learned there was an urgent need for a turntable to be used at the dances held weekly.

A Valentine party to take place of the Christmas party which was postponed due to bad weather will be held Saturday night, Feb. 14 at Brownley's. Members will be contacted for reservations by the telephone committee.

Mrs. R. L. Walker Sr. asked members to join the needlework guild. Membership is by sending two bath cloths, two towels, etc. Just give or send donations to Mrs. R. L. Walker Sr., with sender's name and address attached.

Members enjoyed the display of green ware and completed products of Mrs. Edward A. Nuckols of Woodstock Ceramics. Mrs. Sam Ozmest won the door prize donated by Mrs. Nuckols.

New members and guests were welcomed by Mrs. J. E. Hodges, president presiding.

VA. BEACH MOOSE LODGE Virginia Beach Moose Lodge 1682 to hold sponsor dance. To be held at the Virginia Beach Hall on 17th Street extended. Dancing starts at 9:30 P.M. Saturday night, January 31st. Sea Food dinners will be served - Public invited - donations for dancing $2.00 per couple.

Home Builders Womens Auxiliary Attend Meeting

This past week several members of the Tidewater Association of Home Builders Womens Auxiliary attended their annual national meetings in Chicago. Attending were Mrs. Horace Filer, president; Mrs. Stanley Waranch, vice president; Mrs. Floyd Bristow, Mrs. Frederick Napolitano, Mrs. H. T. Rogerson, and Mrs. W. E. Witt. The activities consisted of business meetings, workshop, and champagne brunch with installation of national officers.

Mrs. W. E. Witt was elected second vice president of the National Association of Home Builders Womens Auxiliary for the coming year. Last year she served as parliamentarian. The purpose of the group is to promote good fellowship among its membership and further the general public interest in home building.

Vepco Marks 50th Anniversary Year with Medallion

A. H. McDowell, Jr., president of Virginia Electric and Power Company, placed the first 50-year medallion on the doors of the Company offices here, marking the opening of Vepco's fiftieth anniversary year.

The specially designed medallion, in gold and black, will be used during 1959 on all company vehicles and will appear on company stationery, advertisements and other material during the year.

Celebrating its fiftieth anniversary, Vepco has published a pictorial history of the past fifty years, illustrating high spots in the Company's growth as they evolved out of contemporary history. Entitled "A Half Century of Progress," the three-color booklet pays tribute to the area and its people in the growth of Vepco.

Virginia Electric and Power Company came into existence on June 28, 1909, as Virginia Railway and Power Company, a new company formed from a reorganization of a number of traction and power companies in Richmond. Mergers several years later with traction and power companies in Norfolk extended its operations, and the company continued providing electricity and electric street railway service in the Richmond-Petersburg, Norfolk area until 1925, when the name of the company was changed to Virginia Electric and Power Company. Until 1922, the transportation business provided the majority of the revenues. After that date, electricity for industry and home use outstripped transportation.

A merger in 1944 with Virginia Public Service Company brought Northern Virginia, the Peninsula portions of western Virginia and eastern West Virginia into the service area of Vepco, and more than doubled the area served.

Today, Vepco serves over 32,000 square miles of territory in three states, and provides electricity to over 700,000 customers. In the Norfolk-Newport News areas, the company has more than 60,000 gas customers.

A physical valuation of the company in 1920 placed company assets at $14,500,000. Since World War II, Vepco has been averaging that much every three months in new construction. Today, its total utility plant is valued at more than $500,000,000.

Illustrious Potentate

ALFRED E. ELLIOTT

Suffolk Man Heads Khedive Temple Shrine

Alfred E. Elliott was elected and installed Illustrious Potentate of Khedive Temple at the annual "new" meeting January 21. He succeeds Dr. Ira L. Hancock, Jr., and is the 43rd Potentate to serve Khedive Temple's nearly 5,000 members, scattered through 17 counties in southeast Virginia. The new Potentate's service to the Shrine began immediately upon his acceptance into Khedive Temple. He has been a member of the Divan since 1935, serving as Oriental Guide, High Priest & Prophet, Assistant Rahan, Chief Rahan and, now, Illustrious Potentate.

Other services performed by Noble Elliott include membership in the Provost Guard, as Lieutenant. For two years he was the officer-in-charge of Temple Feasts, serving under Potentates Jesse A. White and Walter E. Hoffman. Additional services to Khedive Temple are too numerous to detail here.

Noble Elliott was made a Master Mason in 1936 in Hiram Lodge No. 340, A.F. & A.M. He later served his lodge as Master, then as Treasurer. He is a Past High Priest and Past Treasurer of Mt. Nebo Royal Arch Chapter No. 20, and is a Past District Deputy High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Virginia. Other Masonic connections include Portsmouth Commandry No. 5, Knights Templar.

Noble Elliott was a tower of strength during the formation of the Suffolk Shrine Club. His efforts were instrumental in helping raise funds and build their Club House, which was completed in 1944, on a six-acre site just east of Suffolk. He served as its first Secretary, holding that office for 10 years.

He has been a member of the Main Street Methodist Church, Suffolk, for more than 30 years; is currently a member of the Board of Stewards and a Past President of the James L. McLe-more Bible Class.

He is a former member of the Suffolk Kiwanis Club, leaving that organization because of the press of Shrine activities.

He was born in Suffolk Oct. 13, 1908, and has been a member of Pond Brothers Peanut Company, Inc., for the past 31 years. The new Potentate married Gene Routledge, of Gateville, North Carolina, on January 14, 1933. They have one son, William, who is a second classman at VMI. Noble and Mrs. Elliott reside at 913 Howard Place, Lakeside Park, Suffolk.

Officers elected to serve with Potentate Elliott are: Alvin T. Stone, of Princess Anne, Chief Rahan; Harry L. Stinson, of Norfolk, Assistant Rahan; Brock J. Scott, of Princess Anne, High Priest and Prophet; Frank W. Kellam, of Princess Anne, Oriental Guide.

Re-elected were Aubrey G. Graham, P.P. of Norfolk, Treasurer; Robert E. Mayes, of Norfolk, Recorder.

School Visits Are Planned For Artmobile

School visits to the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts Artmobile on February 2 thru February 6 are planned by Mrs. Ray M. Aycock, chairman of the Artmobile visit to Princess Anne County and Mr. Frank Cox, superintendent of school.

During 5 days visit, the Artmobile will be located at Convention Center.

The Artmobile trailer, given by Miller and Rhoads, accommodates fifteen pupils at a time. A visit requires fifteen minutes. Special periods have been reserved for school group visits. They are: Monday thru Friday from 9:30 to 3:30.

Prior to the Artmobile's visit, filmstrips prepared by the Virginia Museum about the life and art in Renaissance Italy will be shown in the schools, thus relating the Artmobile exhibition, "Italian Paintings of the Renaissance," to the school social studies program.

Hailed by governmental and educational officials as a new and unique feature of modern education, the Artmobile, sponsored by the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, continues its exhibition throughout this year's tour. Every three years a new exhibit is installed and the Artmobile repeats its travels throughout the Commonwealth.

Visiting hours for the general public and Federated Women's Club groups are: Monday thru Fri-

T.B. Mobile to Visit Kempsville Friday

The mobile unit of the Tuberculosis Association of Norfolk County, Princess Anne County, and South Norfolk will be stationed at the Kempsville Fire Department on Friday, January 30th from 8:00 until 3:00 p.m.

All residents of the area, who are 18 or over are urged to have their free chest x-ray taken at this time. These x-rays are primarily for the purpose of detecting tuberculosis, however it also detects other chest conditions which require medical attention.

The mobile unit will be in other sections of the county as per schedule.

Practice good outdoor manners when you visit parks, beaches and other recreation areas. Always dispose of your trash in a proper receptacle and help keep America clean, safe and beautiful!

and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

Before you decide on any new car, here's the biggest break you can give your dollars—and yourself: Drive a '59 Chevrolet. You'll find there's no reason to want a car that costs more—and no car you want that costs less!

Here are some of the things Chevrolet will tell you about when you drive it—

ROOMIER BODY BY FISHER—more width for seating comfort, more luggage space, and new in-everything but its famous soundness.

MAGIC MIRROR FINISH—keeps its shine without waxing or polishing for up to three years.

NEW OVERHEAD CURVED WINDSHIELD—and bigger windows—all of Safety Plate Glass.

NEW BIGGER BRAKES—deeper drums with better cooling for safer stopping and up to 66% longer life.

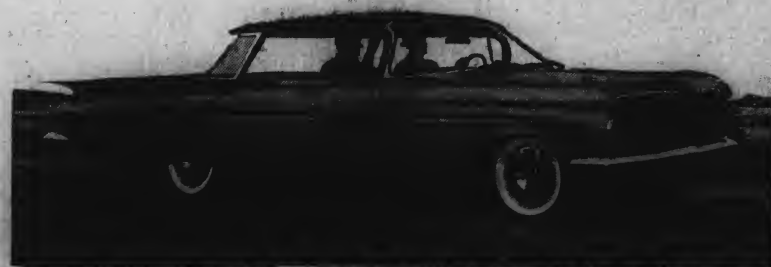

HIGH-THRIFT 6—up to 10% more miles per gallon, more usable horsepower at the speeds you drive most.

VIM-PACKED V-8—eight to choose from, with compression ratios ranging up to 11.25 to 1.

FULL COIL SUSPENSION—further refined for a smoother, steadier ride on any kind of road.

TURBOGLIDE, POWERGLIDE, AND LEVEL AIR suspension head a full list of extra-cost options that make for happier driving.

Due to the success of the Oceana column, I have been asked to cover London Bridge and Lynnhaven as well as Oceana. In order that this new venture be a success also, I will need the utmost cooperation. I would appreciate any information that you might have concerning recreation, church and social activities. Do not feel that "this is not important," for everyone and everything is very important and people enjoy knowing what is going on in their community. I want to thank the people of Oceana for receiving me so graciously and to also thank them for their cooperation. Keep the phone calls coming, for the children are sound asleep between 8 and 10 p.m.

CUB SCOUTS

Cub Pack 64 will hold its monthly Pack meeting in the recreation wing of the NAB Oceana chapel at 8 p.m. Jan. 28. The Cubmaster is Jim Wilkins. For further information call GA 8-7129.

BOY SCOUTS

Troop 62 will hold its weekly meeting at 7:30 Friday at the building, next door to the Methodist Church in Oceana. Mr. H. E. Frizzell is Scoutmaster.

Ford Employees At Norfolk Plant Buying More Cars

Employees of Ford Division's Norfolk assembly plant are purchasing more new Ford cars for their own use than at any time in plant history, G. L. Lemoine, plant manager, reported today.

With the 1959 model year scarcely three months old, 107 out of approximately 1,500 men and women employed at the plant already have bought 1959 model Fords through their Norfolk area dealers, Mr. Lemoine said. This is more than 7 per cent new-Ford ownership—the highest percentage for a comparable period in the plant's records.

"When the people who build our cars buy them in such numbers, we feel it is a great tribute to the high quality of our Norfolk-built products," Mr. Lemoine said. Working on overtime schedules to fill dealer orders, the plant builds Ford trucks and most body styles of Ford cars, including the new Galaxie, which went on sale for the first time in December.

GOAL SCOUTS' ANNUAL MEETING JANUARY 29

Oceana PERSONALITIES

MR. FRIZZELL, WE SALUTE YOU

Harvey Edward Frizzell was born in Norfolk, Virginia in the year of 1919 to O. L. and Mary Frizzell. He has four other brothers. He quit school while a junior and went to work as a mechanic helper on Ocean View Ave. A short time later, he left work to go for a ride during which time he wrecked his Chevrolet Coupe, but lucky, he was for while he was out, his employer was crushed to death by a car which slipped off a jack. It could have been him.

Mr. Frizzell then worked at various jobs until he entered the navy in 1938. He trained at N.O.B. and was then transferred to Norfolk Island, California where he contracted Rheumatic fever and was hospitalized for three months. In 1940 he was given a medical discharge, and returned home.

On his arrival home he went to work for Monticello Stores in Norfolk. After leaving them, he worked for a plumbing concern. It was while working for the latter that he married his wife, the former Pearl Miller, at the Old Oceana Methodist Church in 1941. The Rev. A. A. McNeer officiated at the wedding.

In 1942 Ed Frizzell went into business for himself. He bought the Pure Oil Station at Hilltop, where the Gulf Station now stands. A few years later in 1945 he sold out and took over the East Station across the street.

It was also in 1945 that his son, Joseph Edward Frizzell, who is now 13, was born. He also has a daughter, Marjorie Ellen aged 7.

Mr. Frizzell became active in Scout work while he owned and managed the Pure Oil Station. In 1946 he bought the Oceana Feed and Hardware Store from the late Sam Snapp.

Besides being Scout Master for troop 62 in Oceana, he is a member of the Oceana Civic League. He was also active in the Volunteer Fire Department for many years.

The first time saw Mr. Frizzell, I went into his store to sell him something. He gave me a very business like "No." Later that evening I went into the Boy Scout building to gather Scout news, and who did I see, but Mr. Frizzell, smiling from ear to ear. I was rather startled seeing such a serious business man in a Scout uniform, and honestly didn't recognize him at first. And I must say that the little place was packed full of the most dazzling boy scouts I've ever seen. And so well he had. This business man turned Scout Master beamed with pride. And he has every reason to be proud.

Mr. Frizzell, we salute you!

A cleaner community is up to you—and it's as easy as 1-2-3. 1) Don't litter streets and sidewalks. 2) Don't put sidewalk sweepings in the street. 3) Don't throw trash from cars.

Growing Up

Would you like to be a child forever? Would you like to go shopping each time it snowed without a thought of shivering the first walk or changing the frozen supply?

If at first you say yes, think again. Childhood is wonderful, but there are few of us who would want to be confined to it forever. Our natural need toward growth is a strong one. We instinctively want to progress, to learn, to grow, and to mature.

Nature will take care of a large part of the mental and physical part of our growth. But the spiritual development, we must look toward the Church.

It is never too late to start learning—and you will find the Church the most patient of teachers. Start attending services this Sunday.

CAN'T A GUY WAIT?

Constable Otter was called out last night to evict Waldo Pussum from the Jungle Movie House. Waldo wouldn't leave when the last show was over and created a disturbance when the usher asked him to go. It seems that the movie being shown had a scene with some shapely girls disrobing for a plunge in a pool. They take off shoes, hats, coats and were just beginning on more interesting things when a train dashed across the screen. When the train has passed the girls are in the water. Waldo figured if he kept on seeing the movie, sooner or later that train would be late.

RED CLOVER

FOR HAY

Do you want to produce high quality hay for your livestock? Are you having trouble producing alfalfa on your farm? Are you unhappy with lespedeza as a quality hay crop?

If the answer to any of the above questions is yes, THEN you will be interested in seedling RED CLOVER this spring.

Red Clover compares very favorably with alfalfa and is better in all respects than lespedeza.

Red clover TDN, 64.3%; D.P., 7.8%; TONNAGE 1st year, 14 to 2 tons, 2nd year, 3 to 4 tons.

Alfalfa, TDN, 50.3%; D.P., 10.5%; TONNAGE, 3 tons annually.

Lespedeza, TDN, 47.5%; D.P., 6.4%; TONNAGE, 1 to 2 tons.

The cost of seedling Red Clover is much lower than for alfalfa and about the same as lespedeza.

Now is the time to buy your seed. Recommended varieties are Kenland, Virginia adapted, Chesapeake, and Pennsco. I feel the first three listed would give best results.

Seed at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre alone or 10 pounds of orchard grass. This can be seeded in February or early March in small grain or without nurse crop.

I am sure that you will be happy with your Red Clover hay as Joe Hershberger, John Potter, Bill Davis of Pembroke Farm, and George Walter were last year with their demonstration plots.

If you have some questions about the production of Red Clover, please give me a call.

NEW VARIETIES ON LIST

RECOMMENDED FOR VIRGINIA

Several newcomers are on the list of recommended varieties of field crops for planting in Virginia for 1959.

The list, prepared annually by the VPI agronomy department, and based on exhaustive tests throughout Virginia, includes this year, a new sudan grass, and a new variety of pearl millet.

Greenleaf is the new sudan, and is recommended throughout the state. It is late maturing and vigorous, with a relatively high proportion of sweet plants. It is resistant to leaf blight, anthracnose, and to some bacterial foliage diseases. It has a low average prussic acid potential. Certified seed is available.

The seed supply of the new pearl millet, Gah-1, is limited at present. It is characterized by good seedling vigor, high total yield, excellent leafiness and good recovery.

Other crop varieties recommended for throughout Virginia are: Alfalfa; Certified Willamshurg, Certified Buffalo (bacterial wilt resistant), Certified Atlantic, Certified Narragansett, Kansas Common, and Oklahoma approved.

Red Clover; Certified Kenland,

Certified Chesapeake (limited seed supply), Certified or Locally Virginia adapted, and Certified Pennsco.

White Clover: Certified Ladino, Suden Grass: Sweet, Certified Greenleaf, and Certified Piper.

Millet: Gah-1, and Commercial Pearl.

Fescue: Certified Kentucky 31, and Certified Alta.

Orchard Grass: Domestic, and Certified Potomac.

Lespedeza: Korean Commercial, Rowan (for root knot nematode infested soils), and Kobe (for elevations below 1,000 feet).

Grain Sorghums: Plainamen, and Martin's Combine.

Soybean and Small Grain recommendations are made according to the section of the State in which they are to be grown.

Soybean recommendations are: Dorman, Ogden, Lee, Hood, and Jackson.

Spring crops are not generally recommended for the Coastal Plain, but if conditions necessitate seeding, use Andrew, Mo, 6205, Newton, or Clarion.

FARM BUILDING PLANS

AVAILABLE THROUGH COUNTY

Do your plans for 1959 include new farm buildings, animal shelters, or livestock handling equipment? Or do you hope to provide new living quarters for your family?

If building of any kind is on your mind for this year I have a suggestion that may save time, effort, and money. Working plans for most types of farm buildings, equipment and houses can be obtained through my office.

These farm building plans are available throughout the United States through a cooperative exchange arrangement between State Agricultural Colleges and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Plans are adapted to the climate and the farming of the region and are designed to fit the most up-to-date and efficient farm practices.

Farmhouse designs also are adapted by region. Some are expandable or can be divided inside and finished in stages as additional labor or money becomes available.

Designed especially to meet the needs of farm families or families living in rural areas, the plans generally provide extra workroom space for food preparation and preserving, and special wash-up room for outdoor workers.

Modern one to four-bedroom designs for masonry or frame construction are grouped according to basic arrangement of living, working, and sleeping quarters. Most are single-level designs, but a few split-level or two-floor plans are included.

TOP-DRESSING AIDS

PASTURE GROWTH

Topdressing pasture with fertilizer will give them a needed boost for spring growth.

The good growing season in Princess Anne County severely depleted the reserves of plant food in the soil and topdressing is more important than ever now.

Good pastures will give two weeks earlier grazing in the spring and two weeks later grazing in the fall.

Always have soil tested before applying lime. Use the amount needed to bring the pH to 6.0 or 6.5. Soil tests will also help determine phosphate and potash needs. Bring your soil samples in to my office. I will have analysis run and make recommendations for you.

Phosphate and potash are the most important mineral fertilizers. Some times your pasture may need nitrogen. However, if there is a good balance of legumes and grasses, the legumes will usually furnish the nitrogen if you provide the phosphate and potash.

Circular 533, "For Top Pastures," gives details on what fertilizers to use under various conditions. Write or call for your free copy.

TAX GUIDE FOR FARMERS

AVAILABLE FROM AGENT

A 1959 edition of the Farmers' Tax Guide has been prepared by the Internal Revenue Service for use by tax consultants and farmers in preparing tax forms, and copies are available now from my office.

February 15 is the deadline for farmers to file income tax returns unless they have already filed an estimate by January 15. Indicating intention to make a final return by April 15.

Numerous changes have been made since last year in income tax provisions that apply to farmers. These include a new optional 20% depreciation allowance in the year of purchase on the cost price of personal property usable for at least six years. Also, beginning with 1958 a net operating loss can be carried back three years instead of two. And casualty losses on property not covered by insurance can be treated as an ordinary loss deduction.

These and other changes will mean tax savings for many farmers, so it is important to consult the official tax guide or some other source of information before making out tax forms this year.

DOCKING, CASTRATING

PAY IN LAMB BUSINESS

It pays to dock and castrate lambs—something that most Princess Anne producers have always known, but which some folks have ignored.

This year, for the second successive year, buck lambs will be sold separately from ewe and wether lambs. There's good reason for it, as pointed up in the results of a test run under the Southwest Virginia Field Station at Glade Spring.

The test verified the facts that wether lambs grade higher and yield more than buck lambs, that docked lambs grade higher and yield more than long tails, and that the later in the season they are marketed the more marked these differences become.

Buck lambs make excellent gains until they reach 60 to 65 pounds. Then they start getting coarse and

Adult Education Class Registration Set Monday, Feb. 2

On Monday evening, February 2nd, at 7 p.m. in the Princess Anne High auditorium, registration will be held for the second semester courses in the Adult Education Program of Princess Anne County. Classes in English, Mathematics, Typing, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Sewing and Ceramics will be offered, if a minimum enrollment of 15 is met. Additional courses will be taught if enough interest is shown and a teacher is available.

Typing will be taught Monday and Thursday nights, 7:30 to 8:30; Shorthand on Monday and Thursday nights, 8:30 to 9:30; Bookkeeping on Tuesday nights, 7:30 to 8:30; Sewing on Tuesday nights, 7:30 to 8:30; and Algebra on Thursday nights, 7:30 to 9:30. Schedules for other courses will be established to suit the majority of the enrollment. Courses are non-credit courses and the cost will be $5.00 for one, $12.00 for two, and $16.00 for three.

Information may be obtained by calling the high school office GY 7-3511 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each school day.

heavy in the neck and shoulders and fail to fill out properly over the back and loins.

In addition to producing less of the high-priced cuts, the buck lambs will yield less meat have complained that buck lambs have lowered the quality of Virginia lambs, and the tests clearly show that this may be the case.

The earlier the lambs can be docked and castrated the better. It should be done before they are two weeks old.

the Silver Hawk by STUDEBAKER

 dinner jacket dash

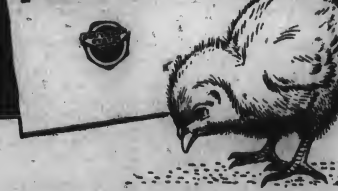

None other like it in the world. Delightful dual personality. Lively, lean, yet luxurious. Charmingly continental with an American accent. Loves to be driven just for the fun of it. Obliging practical on shopping trips. Seats five in the lap of comfort and safety. Ready response to the twist of a wrist. Torrents of torque at the tap of a toe. Stops with alacrity, too; large brakes turn the trick. This is the Silver Hawk. It's Studebaker's wonderful way to make motoring a sport. It's Studebaker's daring design for persons who would rather not run with the crowd.
